VILLA AGENTS ARE STIRRING UP NEW REVOLT

Attempt Made to Undermine Garrison in the State of Chihuahua.

Leader Announces He Will Control When Americans Are Gone.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 24.—Agents have been sent into every de facto garrison in Chihuahua state by Pancho Villa in an attempt to undermine the garrisons and stir up revolts against First Chief Carranza. Two emissaries working on the Juarez garrison were caught today by General Gonzales and are being held in jail. By Carranza officials it is feared this is the first step by the bandit chief toward a threatened attack upon border towns.

From natives fleeing from the vicinity of Chihuahua City, Washington secret service men today obtained another authentic report spread by Villa after the Chihuahua City battle.

"In fifteen days after the 'gringo' army leaves Mexico, I'll be in possession of Chihuahua City and control the entire state of Chihuahua," the bandit chief is said to have declared.

Changes Attitude.

Refugees interviewed by United States agents declare that Villa apparently has changed his attitude toward Americans. They state his men say they were given instructions before the Chihuahua battle not to harm Americans or establishments owned by them.

Despite declarations by Carranza authorities that military columns are vigorously pursuing Villa and his followers, an official Carranzista statement issued late today places Villa only twenty-two miles outside the capital of Chihuahua.

Construction of trenches outside Juarez, in preparation for a possible Villista attack, was started this afternoon by the garrison.

METHODISTS GIVE A FAREWELL RECEPTION FOR DRULINERS'

The members of the congregation of the Methodist church Saturday evening tendered a farewell at the church of Rev. and Mrs. F. M. Druliner, who departed yesterday for their new home at Red Cloud, Neb., after a residence of three years in this city where they have made a great many warm friends whose regret at their leaving was most profound. The event while a very pleasant one was tinged with the feeling that the parting with the friends was soon to take place and the members of the church took the occasion to wish the genial pastor and his wife happiness and success in their new home. During the evening a short informal program was given consisting of several readings by Mrs. A. J. Beeson while the Plattsmouth male quartet, composed of Don York, Jennings Seivers, Frank Clويد and W. G. Brooks gave several numbers including a favorite of Rev. Druliner's, "Just Outside the Door," which he had so often requested from this talented organization. As a token of esteem and a remembrance of the happy days in Plattsmouth the ladies of the aid society presented Mrs. Druliner with a fine set of silver knives and forks that will serve as a reminder of the old friends back in Plattsmouth. It was a late hour when the members of the party wended their way homeward wishing Rev. and Mrs. Druliner good luck in the western part of the state where they have been called to carry on the church work.

Are You Looking Old?

Old age comes quick enough without inviting it. Some look old at 40. That is because they neglect the liver and bowels. Keep your bowels regular and your liver healthy and you will not only feel younger but look younger. When troubled with constipation or biliousness take Chamberlain's Tablets. They are intended especially for these ailments and are excellent. Easy to take and most agreeable in effect. Obtainable everywhere.

Joseph Merritt and wife of Fort Dodge, Ia., have been here for a few days visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Donnelly, and this morning Mr. Merritt departed for Lincoln to spend a few days, while Mrs. Merritt will remain for a more extended visit.

BERT JAMESON'S NEW HOME IN WEEPING WATER FINISHED

One of the finest residences in Cass county has just been completed at Weeping Water, where the new home of Bert Jameson is now ready for occupancy. This home is one that Mr. Jameson and family can take a great pride in as it is complete in every way and modern throughout. The work on the house has been carried out by A. B. Smith of this city and the workmanship is of the usual high class order that characterizes the contracting of Mr. Smith. The owner of the house feels that he has one of the neatest and most up-to-date homes in the county and one in which he can take a just pride. Mr. Jameson is one of the leading residents of our neighboring city and believes in having a home that is strictly up to the minute with all the modern conveniences. Mr. Smith has built a large number of homes throughout the county and in all cases there has been the greatest of satisfaction expressed over his splendid work.

FOR SALE—NEBRASKA FARMS.

SOUTHWESTERN NEBRASKA. DUNDY COUNTY STILL IN THE LEAD.

The Pringle ranch produced wheat that yielded as much as 62 bushels per acre, one field of 20 acres averaging over 50 bushels.

TWO FOOLS MET.

Last fall we offered to sell a quarter section having 110 acres in wheat for $2,500. The wheat was marketed last week and brought $4,400.50.

We are offering a few farms that are excellent values and prospects and will double in price in less than one year—note the following:

480 acres, well improved, 300 acres of good plow land, ample supply of water; ideal farm for cattle and grain; price $12,000. This place is worth much more.

840 acres, 200 deeded and 640 school land, good improvements, plenty of good farm land; price, including assignment of lease, $5,500. Splendid for the man with small capital.

600 acres, small set of improvements, close to town, 160 acres bottom land; ideal for alfalfa or grain; 440 acres upland, of which 240 is splendid for wheat and corn; all fenced and a money maker; price $12,000. You can't beat it for mixed farming.

1,680 acres, the best big ranch in the county for the money, one good crop would pay for it, 1,200 acres fine black soil, balance good grazing, splendid for grain and cattle; price $20,000 until September 1; fair set of improvements; good locality.

A few smaller tracts at $10 to $25 per acre and worth the money.

Mr. Renter, if you have a few head of stock it will pay you to investigate and learn what others have done. Good terms to a real farmer.

Information free, but better let us show you the land. Now is the time to get action, as the heavy rains have put ground in fine shape for fall seeding.

BESTOR & SWATEK

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Heil from near Cedar Creek were in the city for a few hours last Saturday. The Journal acknowledges a pleasant call from Mr. Heil while in the city.

H. G. Miller, wife and son, Lisle, and son-in-law, Jesse Hardknock and wife, of Alvo, were guests of John H. Beckner Sunday; also, Chas. Peacock and family were guests of Mr. Becker Sunday.

P. N. Schaefer and son, Albert, of the vicinity of Cedar Creek were attending to some business matters and visiting friends in this city Saturday afternoon. They were pleasant callers at this office and while here had the subscription of the Plattsmouth Journal going to John Schaefer at Creighton, Neb., extended for another year.

Harry L. Wiles, from near Weeping Water, was in the city for a few hours last Saturday, driving up from his home in his fine new Hupmobile car. While here he was a pleasant caller at The Journal office, renewing his subscription for another year. He was accompanied by his brother, John E. Wiles, jr., who has been making a visit of several days with his brother at Weeping Water and giving him lessons in handling his new auto.

Rev. Thomas C. Truscott, new pastor of the Methodist church, returned to Schuyler this morning, where he goes to arrange the shipping of his household goods here on Thursday, to take up his residence here.

Does Prohibition Prohibit?
DOES PROHIBITION HELP BUSINESS?

Answered by Colorado Bankers
AUGUST 1916

On August 21, 1916, a letter was sent by the Chairman of the Dry Federation of Plattsmouth to 36 banks in cities in Colorado, having from 3,000 to 10,000 population, asking for an answer to the question: "Will you give me your unprejudiced opinion of the effect of prohibition on business and finance."

The Rocky Ford National Bank, of Rocky Ford, Colorado, answered:

"Parties who fought to keep the saloons, in this city a few years ago; would fight equally as hard to keep them out, at this time, having seen and realized the benefits of prohibition."

The First National Bank, of Greeley, Colorado, answered:

"Business better, everybody happy, 150 less inmates in our State Penitentiary, and the warden says it is directly traceable to prohibition. Undesirable characters have moved to liquor states, and they are welcome to them. Denver merchants and business men who feared effect on business are strong for it now, and if voted on again would carry by twice the majority given for it before, in my judgment."

The Grand Valley National Bank, of Grand Junction, Colorado, answered:

"Our observation is that it is a decided advantage from the business stand point. Through the grocery houses we learn that the store accounts are better taken care of and that the people are better fed and better clothed. It is our opinion that our people in this territory would not, under any circumstances, go back to saloons."

Longmont National Bank, of Longmont, Colorado, answered:

"I am not personally a radical prohibitionist or prejudiced in the matter one way or another, but from a business standpoint, I am sure a country community is better off without liquor in their midst. I have had occasion to talk with the management of a number of hotels in Denver and different resorts over the State several different times, and they seem to all be enthused about the new prohibition amendment, and I do not think there is any danger of this State ever going back to saloons again. I am certain your State would make no mistake in voting State Wide Prohibition."

The Peoples' Home Bank, Rock Fordy, Colorado, answered:

"It has been a good thing for Colorado, as the people are paying their debts better since Colorado has been dry."

Sheriff Alexander Nisbet, of Denver, Colorado, says:

"Let me tell you another thing, the "can rusher," the old soak who came home with a quarter in his pocket and sent his 8-year-old ragged, barefooted girl to the saloon for a can of beer and then tossed her a crust of bread, while he swiggled the beer and snarled at her through his drunkenness is no longer a resident of Denver."
