Democratic State Chairman Langhorst Invites Omahans and City Visitors.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 26.—Believing that Woodrow Wilson's visit will bring thousands of Nebraskans to Omaha, Chairman Langhorst of the democratic state committee today announced the committee would open headquarters in Omaha on the second floor of the Paxton hotel.

Mr. Langhorst hopes that all Nebraskans who favor the re-election of President Wilson will not fail to pay the headquarters a visit. All are welcome he states.

His announcement is as follows: "The state democratic headquarters will be open at its Omaha branch, on the second floor of the Paxton hotel, Omaha, October 2 to 7. The great number of Ak-Sar-Ben visitors in Omaha for the week and the great throng from out in the state which is expected to greet the president, October 5, warrants this establishment. All democrats, and especially those not residents of Omaha, are urged during the week specified to visit democratic headquarters, which they will find by signs on the second floor of the Paxton hotel."

THE GREAT SHOW OF THE SEASON

The Long Looked for Engagement of Big Dancing Festival "September Morn" Comes to the Parmelee Theater, Saturday September 30th.

"September Morn" of course gets its title from the painting of the same name, which stirred up comment from coast to coast. The story has to do with the aspiration of one Rudolph, owner of an art studio, who claims to have been a painter. Of course Rudolph does not even know how to paint a picket fence. The model of "September Morn" is laid claim to be an actress who has instructed her press agent to circulate the rumor that she is the original. The ludicrous moments when the two impersonators are dodging each other and when a chesty old army officer, who has fallen in love with the actress, discovers that she is a good friend of his wife's, creates enough laughter and plot for six musical plays. The scenery is prettily designed and painted, and the costuming introduces the latest Parisian creations.

The company numbers within its ensemble some fifty people. The dancing numbers are many, spirited, charming, highly enjoyable and welcome to the world's popular tango being introduced in various attractive forms. Dainty Ruth Wilkins is seen in the newest dances now in vogue; the popular Wm. Moore, J. J. Patton, Maud K. Williams, James Baber, Leslie Jones, also have important parts. Arthur Gillespie wrote the book and lyrics, Aubrey Stauffer composed the music and Frank Tannehill, jr., staged the production, which comes from the LaSalle Opera House, Chicago.

$15,000 SCHOOL BONDS FAILED TO CARRY YESTERDAY

From Wednesday's Daily. The additional school bonds of $15,000 which had been asked for by the board of education for their use in the construction of a high school building were defeated yesterday at the special election by forty-six votes despite the fact that the vote was very light and not a great deal of interest was taken in the result by the people in general. The result of the ballots will leave the situation where it was before and the board will have to go ahead and erect the building out of the original $50,000 which was voted last spring at the city election. There were quite a number of ladies voting at the election and a great many of these were not in favor of the additional bonds and all of which helped in the final result of the ballot. The wards that were favorable for the bonds were weak in their majorities while in the second and fifth wards the majority was marked and decisive against the proposition and in these two wards the bonds received their knockout blow.

The vote in the different wards of the city was easy to count and in a very few minutes after the polls were closed the votes were counted and the result known to the people.

The vote in the different wards of the city were as follows:

	For	Against
First ward.....	57	35
Second ward.....	73	117
Third ward.....	96	88
Fourth ward.....	37	36
Fifth ward.....	5	38

THE WOODMAN CIRCLE GROVE ENJOYS FINE MEETING

From Wednesday's Daily. Last evening the Woodmen Circle grove met at their lodge rooms to enjoy one of the most interesting meetings of the fall season and five new candidates were initiated into the mysteries of the order by the efficient degree team of the grove, under the direction of Mrs. M. E. Manspeaker, and which carried out the ritualistic work in a most impressive manner and in a way that brought to the new members a sense of the great principles of the order. Mrs. J. E. McDaniel, past guardian, presided at the meeting in the absence of Mrs. Maude Bunch, guardian, and assisted the degree team in conferring the work. The resignation of Mrs. Bunch as guardian was received and it was with regret that the membership parts with their guardian, who has been such an aid in the work of the lodge, but her removal from the city has made it necessary for her to resign. Mrs. James Marasek, one of the live members of the grove, was selected as guardian by the vote of the lodge, and was at once installed into the office by the degree team, assisted by Mrs. William Morley as past guardian. The grove is constantly increasing in membership, due to the untiring work of Mrs. Joseph Droege, the deputy, and the coming session promises to be one of the most successful in the history of the order in this city. Every one of the members are boosting for a further increase in the membership and the new guardian will be right with the boosters in the good work.

GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN ROADS IN CASS COUNTY

Many of Them Made Wider and Others Reconstructed, Which Shows That the County Commissioners Have Been Busy.

The past few years has brought with them a great change in the roads of the county in the way of improvement, as a trip over them demonstrates in a great many ways, and the automobiles as well as the good road agitation has brought this to the attention of the public. A few years ago the roads were allowed to go, and if it were possible to use them, all right, and if not all right, but this condition of affairs has been passed by in the march of progress, and where formerly was narrow ill-kept roads the county board as well as the road supervisors of the county have made the main roads wider, have reconstructed them on more scientific lines so as to give better drainage and keep them in good shape in all kinds of weather as far as possible. The road work in this section of Cass county must of necessity be much harder than in other localities on account of the large hills and the valleys where, in wet weather, the water stands, and after heavy rains the hillside roads are washed and worn down. The county commissioners as far as possible strive to keep the roads in first class shape, and in which they are assisted in the work by the efforts of the road supervisors in seeing that the grading, dragging and other necessary work is carried out. This, when scattered over the hundreds of miles of road in the county, keeps the commissioners going some to get the money to do the work, and of necessity compels them to forego a part of what they might like to do in the way of improvement on the public highways. This lack of available funds to carry on the work often leads both the commissioners and road supervisor to receive a great deal of unjust censure for something that they cannot prevent or stop. If it were only a few miles of road that was necessary to attend to it would be easy, but the hundreds of miles of it, with the work being costly, it is certainly a credit to the county that the greater part of the county highways are kept in such good condition. C. F. Vallery, who has charge of the work in Plattsmouth precinct, is one of the supervisors who has a very hilly precinct, and his results secured from the dragging and care of the roads is very pleasing to the residents of the precinct as well as those from other precincts who travel over them in coming and going from Plattsmouth.

MRS. MIKE MAUZY IS VERY MUCH IMPROVED

Reports from Hastings state that Mrs. Mike Mouzy, who is at the hospital in that city, is showing much improvement and while yet unable to leave her bed is gaining quite rapidly and it is hoped that she will soon be well enough to be removed to the Immanuel hospital at Omaha, where she will remain until her condition will permit her returning home. The unfortunate lady has suffered the fracturing of both arms, but these injured members are not troubling her as much as the bruises and other injuries received. Mrs. Mauzy is unable to assist herself on account of her injuries and is receiving the best attention that it is possible to secure. Her many friends will be pleased to learn of the improvement of Mrs. Mauzy and trust that she will soon be able to return to her home in this city.

Frank McClain and Mr. Edson of Willey, Neb., who were here visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Boggs, have departed for a trip up to Minnesota. They are making the trip in a Ford car and expect to return to their home at Filley before winter sets in.
