THOUGHT FOR TODAY

It is a good thing to be rich, and a good thing to be strong, but it is a better thing to be beloved of many friends.—Euripides.

The approach of Old Winter is near. Omaha was sure crowded yesterday.

If you want to get in on things you have to get out.

When a man is generous to a fault, it's his own fault.

Too many men blame their wives for all their misfortunes.

Senator Hitchcock sure made many new friends here Tuesday night.

You don't have to lead a man or woman into temptation if they are out looking for it.

A rebellious conscience can't keep you awake half as easily as a bum digestive apparatus.

Taft and Roosevelt met at a funeral, and perhaps it will turn out that this time they met at something like that.

All roads have led to Omaha this week, and over 400 autos passed through this city yesterday en route for that city.

The railroad's net earnings for the year ending June 1, 1916, were $767,000,000 more than for the last year of the Taft administration.

Cholera is killing off Iowa hogs by the hundreds. Nebraska farmers should remember that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

A woman's religion should be able to keep the freckles off of her reputation, if her reputation has not been too strong in the past, and won't wear off.

While we are fully aware that this may be a very unpopular conclusion, we are firm in the belief that there are just as good men outside the penitentiary as there are in it.

The two saddest conditions that the republican party has to face—one that the country is at peace with the world and the other, that prosperity is smiling upon the people of this land.

Hon. John A. Maguire served the people well while in congress. In fact he was right in line with the ablest members, and evidences of his good work are yet before the people of the First district. He should be elected this time, and undoubtedly will be, if his friends get out and hustle.

Republican papers are running a stock editorial to the effect that the republican party created the state railway commission, and that it has saved the shippers of Nebraska $23,000,000. But they do not add that their party in state and nation is pledged to put that commission out of business in favor of one away down at Washington.—Lincoln Star.

Hon. John A. Maguire's record in congress is a good one. He certainly done well by the First district, and was very attentive to the wants of his constituents. No one can successfully deny that fact. He does not pretend to be a brilliant orator, but as a worker in the interests of his constituents, he had, but few equals in congress, and was always alert and right on the job every day in the week.

NEBRASKA'S 100 PER CENT CREDIT.

It is the contemplation of the form of government provided for Nebraska that it shall never go into debt, provision having been made whereby the revenues it needs from year to year shall be raised by the levy of taxes, and the funds appropriated to the various purposes for which they are needed.

It is a wise provision, designed for maintenance of the credit of the state at gilt-edged quality. The individual who plays fast and loose with his obligations very soon loses his credit. The fellow who is never able to pay commands little respect in the business world.

In that respect states are not unlike individuals. They must meet their obligations promptly or suffer in the respect of the world.

When the democrats took command at the Nebraska state house they found that there were warrants outstanding against the state in an amount approximating $250,000. It was a disgrace to the state that such was the case.

It was not only a disgrace to the state, but a loss as well. All of these warrants drew interest until paid, and the state treasury had to pay that interest, which was a dead loss. But that was not the only loss.

Those who received these warrants in payment of the state's obligations had to hawk them among brokers, and take upon them just whatever brokers were willing to pay, always being required to stand for a good stiff discount for the profit of the men who put up the money.

It was a sort of heads-I-win tails-you-lose game in which the state and its creditors were both mulcted.

It took the democrats a long while to catch up with that indebtedness and pay it off, but since they have been in power at the capitol they have not only paid off the floating debt, making state warrants as good as gold, but they have reduced the state's taxes over a million dollars in two years while doing it.

It is not a matter of sentiment that prompts taxpayers to applaud that sort of conduct of the state's affairs. It is a matter of business and of common sense. It is only natural that the cautious citizen and taxpayer would desire to see it continued.

There is a tradition up around the state capitol to the effect that when the democrats had finally succeeded in putting the state treasury upon a cash basis some of the republican inmates of the capitol, for the first time in their experience, were able to get the face value of their warrants, and that they had been paying tribute so long to the discount broker that the experience was as delightful as it was new to them.—Lincoln Star.

Senator Cummins of Iowa, don't seem to be saying very much in this campaign. Perhaps he doesn't "stand in" with the ring that is running Hughes. It is not surprising that he don't.

Senator Hitchcock is now working more than eight hours a day, that he may return to the senate to defend the president in upholding the eight-hour law. And that's one great reason why he should be re-elected.

The best man should be sent to the legislature. It has been the practice in Nebraska to elect men irrespective of their qualifications and when many of them get there they are not heard from during the entire session. John Murtey is not that kind of man, and if he is elected to represent Cass county, he will be heard from by his voice, in defending the interests of his constituents, because he possesses the ability and inclination to do so.

Everybody praises Wilson.

Democracy is on top in Nebraska.

No man ever got a level head from "butting in."

And many a young lady has accepted the call to arms.

Life is just one day after another with the candidates.

Life is short, in spite of the fact that it is full of longing.

It's impossible for some women to keep a secret so long as it will keep.

To be on the right side in either politics or municipal graft, one needs to be on the inside.

Never consent to decide an argument. If you do you make an enemy, and you don't decide anything after all.

One never realizes what good banking laws Nebraska has until a thought or two is given to what is going on in the banking business in Chicago.

It is difficult to satisfy statesmen. They complain about large appropriations, which are due to $600,000,000 for preparedness, and complain at the same time because more was not done for preparedness.

John Murtey, the democratic candidate for representative, is sure making many friends in every section of the county, from reports that we receive. There is nothing strange about that, when the voters come to know Mr. Murtey and take his will known qualities into consideration.

John H. Wunderlich is making a nice quiet race for the office of sheriff. When the voter looks upon the countenance of John Wunderlich he sees honesty stamped there in great big letters. They know he will make a good officer and that the affairs in his office will be kept right up and in fine shape. Also, John is one of the cleverest gentlemen in Cass county.

Hon. John Mattes should be re-elected to the state senate, because he is right onto the job. He has a statewide reputation among the ablest men of the state, and his reputation as a gentleman well versed in state affairs, and his influence among such men as would perhaps be elected to the senate, would amount to more than one who had never had any experience in a legislative body of any kind. Senator Mattes' record should be taken into consideration, and if you want the Second senatorial district to continue in the limelight, you surely will vote for John Mattes.

A SERVICE TO NEBRASKA.

Along with a few other crimes and misdemeanors, Senator Hitchcock has been accused of opposing the president in the passage of the federal reserve act. Nothing could be farther from the truth. As a matter of fact Senator Hitchcock's fight was not against the bill, but to strengthen it. He fought to make it of some real service to the farmer, cattlemen and stock-feeders of the west—putting them on the same footing as the commercial interests of the east. One of the things that Senator Hitchcock sought to have incorporated in the bill was a provision for the guaranty of deposits in national banks, similar to our state bank guaranty law. The senate accepted the amendment, but the house later rejected it. Another thing that he contended for was a provision permitting banks to loan money upon farm mortgages—that provision is now a part of the law. Perhaps the most important amendment to the federal reserve act secured by Senator Hitchcock was the one permitting banks to secure money from the federal reserve banks on the note of farmers, stockmen and cattlemen. These six months' notes are now accepted as security for the obtaining of currency by the banks of this western agriculture and cattle country. Was this opposing the president, or was it aiding him in securing a great piece of constructive legislation?—Alliance News.

HOW TO HELP WILSON YOURSELF.

Democrats who have been contemplating scratching some of the candidates on their ticket, if any such there really are, may not learn until too late that they have been ambushed by the enemy.

There is no disaffection among democrats as to the record made by President Wilson. It is assumed that all democrats will vote and work for him with all their zeal and all their influence. Not one who votes for him will be doing the president a favor by doing so unless he votes also to provide the president with the working machinery that will enable him to carry out the comprehensive plans he has outlined for putting the people in command of their government, and for keeping the hands of avarice off the people's throats.

If the republican congress should be elected it will, if it is not now belying its purposes, undo most of the good things that Wilson and congress have done, and repeat many of the obnoxious processes that four years ago made the republican party a repugnant institution. For whatever that is good for the people President Wilson may stand; that will a republican congress be against. For whatever that is evil for the people that may be opposed by the president a republican congress will diligently strive.

What is said here in reference to congress may be said with equal truth concerning the state government. Republican triumph in this state will inevitably mean a backward march in the progress that has been made in the past four years, and a bulwarking of a national organization that is the avowed enemy of democratic government.

Appeal is made to the friends of the president to not only help re-elect him, but to also help him do the splendid things he says he wants to do. It would be a poor privilege indeed to be a democratic president and be unable to do things for the people which so sterling and sturdy a democrat as President Wilson wants to do.

This appeal is not made in behalf of Senator Hitchcock as an individual, nor for Keith Neville as an individual, although no democrat need hope to find better men for whom to vote. It is made in behalf of democratic government, which is the salvation of the people. Democratic machinery, is not the chief end that is desirable. The great privilege is democratic government, the greatest good for the greatest number, which Woodrow Wilson and a democratic congress have been giving us in unprecedented measure. In order to secure that sort of government, however, it is essential that democrats shall be chosen to control and direct it.

If the citizen approves of the great program of legislation which congress has enacted during the past four years, it would be the act of a dolt for him to vote against a continuance of that congress in power at Washington. To be fair he must vote for democrats, in preference to republicans, for congressmen and senators. No man who now refuses support to the Woodrow Wilson democratic program is likely to ever hereafter command much confidence and respect as a member of the party of which President Wilson is the standard bearer. And such men will be far outnumbered by former republicans who have been won by the quality of government given by the president and congress and by a business administration of our state affairs.—Lincoln Star.

One way to keep friends is to keep most of your opinions to yourself.

Champ Clark is coming to Plattsmouth, but the date is not yet set.

Just because an Ohio base ball fan knocked down an umpire with a pop bottle he has been indicted. That's taking all the fun out of the game.

The county coroner will step down and out on the first day of January, and the county attorney will have to do the coroner's work, assisted by the sheriff.

PEOPLE RELIEVED OF SUFFERING JOIN IN NATION-WIDE MOVEMENT TO EXPRESS THANKS FOR TANLAC

Multitudes Tell How They Were Helped by Great Tonic, Appetizer, Invigorant and Revitalizer While Tanlac Holds Attention Supreme

Tanlac, the great new master medicine and tonic for sick, weak, nervous, run-down men and women, is in two million homes today because of its true worth.

Multitudes of men and women who claim that Tanlac has given them back health and strength are going to observe the celebration of Tanlac Week, October 9 to 14, because they are grateful for the results Tanlac has given them.

Eight thousand leading druggists of the United States who endorse the remedy for relief from ills of the stomach and digestive system, liver and kidneys will make a special display of the medicine. They know that Tanlac is the sensation of their business—the remedy that they are glad to sell because, as they say "it gives universal satisfaction."

TANLAC'S SUCCESS IMMEDIATE

Two years ago Tanlac was offered to the public in Lexington, Kentucky. Its success in alleviating pains and ills of the stomach and digestive system was instantly proclaimed by those who took the medicine. In nine months a million bottles had been sold in a limited territory. Today, only two years after Tanlac's presentation to the public, more than seven million bottles have been sold.

The endorsement of Tanlac by druggists and users means merit. Back of Tanlac's triumph in the drug store is Tanlac's triumph in the home. It has become a household remedy.

Tanlac has become known as The National Tonic. So great is its merit that a million dollar corporation has been formed to distribute it in Canada. New laboratories are being considered to increase the production, which is already at the amazing rate of over five million bottles a year. It is to be introduced in Hawaii, Porto Rico and Cuba.

WHY PEOPLE TALK ABOUT IT

At one time one distributor of Tanlac ordered five carloads—72,000 bottles. In the same week four carloads were ordered for New York, two for Pennsylvania, one for Minnesota.

Only true worth of Tanlac as a relief for suffering could explain Tanlac's popularity. When people suffering from indigestion, dyspepsia, belching and bloating from gas, sourness and soreness of the stomach, inactive liver, biliousness, dizziness, kidney troubles, pains in the side and back, headaches, weakness, sleeplessness, nervousness, loss of weight, catarrhal conditions, foul breath and rheumatism are helped by Tanlac they are sure to talk about Tanlac.

Tanlac is well advertised but its true merit could create its popularity. It is what people who have taken Tanlac say about the medicine that has made it recognized as The Master Medicine.

PROPER RELIEF IS SIMPLE

Advertising may sell one bottle of Tanlac, but all the advertising in the world could not sell a second bottle to the purchaser if the first bottle did not give satisfaction. "It's what the neighbors say about Tanlac that counts." People who have taken Tanlac are so enthusiastic about it that they may tell a dozen or a hundred others about the great new medicine.

The suffering of thousands of people may be simply explained and, if the proper remedy is used, may be simply relieved. Many ills are due to what is known as intestinal toxemia—a self-poisoning due to the fermentation of food in the stomach and intestines because the digestive system fails to do its work properly.

Tanlac, a purely vegetable remedy made from a secret formula, is specially designed to relieve these ills—the common, everyday ills which make millions of men and women miserable; rob them of their strength and vitality, and keep them in distress, discomfort and pain while they should be enjoying the blessings of complete health and vigor which makes life worth while.

EVIDENCE IS STRONG

Tens and tens of thousands of endorsements of Tanlac prove what Tanlac has done and can do for sufferers.

They are evidence that can not be disputed. Tanlac has been endorsed and recommended by leading business men, by lawyers, ministers, farmers, artisans and mechanics, by women in the factory, the farm, the home—by people in every walk of life.

Such evidence proves Tanlac The Master Medicine, and has made Tanlac the National Tonic.
