

GRAND LODGE OF NEBRASKA ODD FELLOWS

Officers Elected for the Ensuing Year at the Session in Lincoln This Week.

From Friday's Daily.

Below we give the list of officers in both the grand lodges—Odd Fellows and Rebekahs—as taken from the Lincoln Evening News:

Grand Master—Walter V. Hoagland, North Platte.

Grand Deputy Master—E. Arthur Carr, Lincoln.

Grand Warden—J. W. McKissick, Beatrice.

Grand Secretary—L. P. Gage, Fremont.

Grand Treasurer—F. B. Bryant, Omaha.

Grand Representative—Sam K. Greenleaf, Omaha.

A big fight was on to defeat Grand Secretary Gage, who is now celebrating his silver jubilee as a grand lodge officer. Gage was opposed by T. W. Bass of Broken Bow, whose friends made a vigorous canvass for him. Gage beat Bass by over 100 votes.

There was a lively contest of a three-cornered kind for the position of grand warden which is a stepping-stone through promotion to grand master. The candidates were Charles Johnson, Fremont; Don Garber, Red Cloud, and J. W. McKissick of Beatrice.

Grand sire Frank C. Goudy, who is in the city visiting the grand lodge, was given an ovation when he reached the auditorium with J. S. Hoagland, a veteran Odd Fellow of North Platte. The grand sire addressed a joint meeting of the two organizations at the city auditorium at 1:30 o'clock.

The various committees named by the chair made their reports to the grand lodge. They were of an optimistic nature. During the past year it was reported that there had been substantial gain in membership among the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs.

Took Five Ballots.

There were strenuous times over at the Rebekah assembly Thursday morning during the annual election of officers, when it was necessary to take five ballots to elect a grand warden. The ladies worked so hard that they were nearly out of breath when the exciting contest was over and Mrs. Iona Naylor of Chadron was declared elected by a garrison finish. It was a close race between Iona Naylor, the successful officer, and Clara Hubbell of York and Laura Knapp of York.

The complete list of new officers follows:

President, Mrs. Hattie Hoagland, North Platte.

Vice president, Mrs. Dora Townsend, O'Neill.

Secretary, Mrs. Emma L. Talbot, Omaha.

Treasurer, Mrs. Mary E. Stult, Omaha.

Grand warden, Mrs. Iona Naylor, Chadron.

Grand representative, Mrs. Florence M. Wagner, Omaha.

Mrs. Talbot has been secretary of the Rebekah assembly for twelve years and Mrs. Stult, treasurer for nineteen years. They had no opposition to re-election.

Most of the morning the assembly was engaged in hearing reports of the various committees appointed by the president to look into the state of the order. Their reports indicated lodge affairs to be in a prosperous condition.

SELLING REO CARS.

From Friday's Daily.

T. L. Amick, proprietor of the Amick Garage, of this city, who took up the Reo agency a few weeks ago, is rapidly demonstrating his ability as a salesman as well as the doctor of ails and troubles of the automobile. Dave Eaton, from near Union, is now driving one of these handsome little fours, while Philip Hill is proudly handling the wheel of one of the Reo sixes, both of which were bought through the Amick agency. Mr. Amick will be glad to give all prospective purchasers a demonstration of these cars at any time.

EDITOR J. H. NEWLIN AND WIFE OF HARRISON VISIT HERE

From Friday's Daily.

J. H. Newlin and wife of Harrison, Sioux County, were in the city today enjoying a visit with their old friends here, Mr. and Mrs. John McNurlin and others of those whom they knew in years gone by. Mr. Newlin is the editor and publisher of the Sun, at Harrison, and one of the live newspaper men in that section of the state. Mr. Newlin has been at Lincoln as a representative at the grand lodge of the I. O. O. F. order and with his wife took the opportunity of visiting with the old friends in this locality. From here they go to Clarinda, Ia., for a short visit before returning home. Mrs. Newlin is a former Cass county lady, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Connors, having resided for a number of years in the vicinity of Cullom, and she enjoys greatly the opportunity of visiting the old friends. It has been five years since Mr. and Mrs. Newlin visited this vicinity and a great many changes have taken place since that time and many of those they had known have passed on.

GRAND PLAY AT THE PARMELE THEATRE

The most idyllic play since Denman Thompson's "The Old Homestead," was presented to the public, and in a way even more full of charm than that classic of the bucolic drama, is "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" which Gaskell & MacVitty (Inc.) will present at the Parmele Theatre on Thursday night, October 27. Here is a comedy in which the more beautiful side of New England life is presented, showing the childhood of her people. The play is a dramatization of Kate Douglas Wiggin's book of the same name and the stage version of the story has been made by the author with the assistance of Charlotte Thompson. The presentation at the Parmele of this grand idyllic play will be one of the events of the season for Gaskell & MacVitty have gathered a superb company to present the piece and are giving it a picturesque and altogether delightful production.

PAY THE PENALTY FOR GETTING DRUNK

From Tuesday's Daily.

This morning Pat Foley and John O'Neill, both claiming to be quarrymen from near Cedar Creek, were in Judge Archer's court to answer to the charge of being drunk and to this charge they entered a plea of guilty, and were accordingly given a fine of $4 each, which they settled and were allowed to depart for their place of employment, sadder and wiser. Frank Coleman, also claiming to be a quarryman, had his name on the docket for being drunk and disturbing the peace by using vile and insulting language to Chief Barclay when he was requested to come to the city bastille, and despite his hostile attitude toward the representative of the law he was lodged in jail and, this morning, was given the trimmings for his misdemeanor by a fine and costs amounting to $13 and which he was compelled to settle before being allowed to go on his way.

SOUTH BEND IS MAKING REMARKABLE PROGRESS

This morning E. Sturzenegger, the South Bend merchant, accompanied by V. H. Kitrell, one of the leading residents of that little city were here attending to some matters at the court house and visiting with county seat friends. The report that affairs at South Bend are progressing nicely and while the village is not a large one or densely populated it has more permanent walks than any other town of its size in the state and a number of other additions are projected for the next few months. This is a splendid advertisement for our neighbor and they should see that the good work is continued.

JOHN KINSER FALLS AND BREAKS ONE OF HIS LEGS

From Saturday's Daily.

Thursday afternoon at the farm home of C. W. Sack near Springfield, Neb., John W. Kinser of this city met with a painful and serious accident while he was engaged in doing some plastering at the residence of Mr. Sack. Mr. Kinser has been there for some time, and while at his work Tuesday fell from the scaffolding in such a manner as to break the right leg. Drs. Wortman and Polk were summoned from Louisville to attend Mr. Kinser and dressed the injured member. The patient has not shown as favorable condition as had been hoped and it is thought he will be taken to the Immanuel hospital in Omaha to be cared for there. Mr. Kinser carries an accident policy in the Woodman and also the Redmen, and this will certainly be a very handy thing to the injured man in his affliction. The news of the accident came as a great shock to the many friends in this city and they will anxiously await word from his bedside, trusting that he may soon be on the highway to recovery.

JOHN FLINT AND WIFE ARE VISITING HERE

From Tuesday's Daily.

John Flint and wife, former residents of Cass county, but at present residing at Fowler, California, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark White and with Mrs. I. S. White, near old Rock Bluff, was in the city today enroute to Omaha where they expect to visit for a short time before returning to their home on the coast. Mr. and Mrs. Flint were for a number of years residents near Rock Bluffs and were married there fifty years ago and resided there for ten years following the marriage, leaving Cass county forty years ago for the west and have since been residing on the coast. They were visiting near Bethany, Mo., with their relatives and friends and decided to stop off and visit Grandma White and family enroute to the west. The occasion has been a most delightful one to every one of the old friends and Mr. and Mrs. Flint enjoyed the sojourn in the old home immensely and in renewing the days long gone by when they were here in Cass county in their youth.

JUDICIARY BALLOTS SEPARATE THIS YEAR

A sample non-partisan judiciary ballot containing the names of candidates for chief justice of the supreme court, judges of the supreme court and candidates for judge in the various districts has been prepared by Secretary of State Pool as a guide for county clerks which are by law charged with the duty of preparing official ballots. The non-partisan judiciary law provides that the candidates for judges of all courts shall appear on a separate ballot.

Two years ago it was alleged election officials in a few precincts failed to give voters the judiciary ballot but on the contrary destroyed the ballots. Pains will be taken this year to have election officers inform voters that there are two ballots, one the general election ballot and the other a non-partisan judiciary ballot.

The law provides that the names of candidates on the judiciary ballot shall be rotated. The order of the names must be different in each voting precinct, but the order need not be changed in any one precinct. This provision of the law may give some one candidate the advantage of first place on the ballot in a large precinct, while another candidate might have first place in a precinct where there are few votes. All such arrangements are left to the county clerk.

Paul Wurl and wife, who have been here visiting with their relatives in this city, departed this afternoon for their home in Byron. Mr. and Mrs. Wurl are returning home from an automobile trip to the Pacific coast, and while there visited with Ernest Wurl and family at Long Beach, Cal.

THE DEATH OF A PIONEER CITIZEN

John Kelly of Manley Dies Following Lingered Illness.

From Saturday's Daily.

The funeral of John Kelly, sr., which occurred Monday of last week, was attended by an unusually large concourse of friends and neighbors, who came to pay their last respects to the dead. Requiem high mass was sung by the church choir, after which the funeral procession formed and proceeded to the College Hill cemetery northeast of town, where interment was made. Mr. Kelly had been in failing health for several years, having suffered several dangerous heart attacks, ending with the one which resulted in his death. He was surrounded at the last by his pastor, Father Higgins, his wife and family, the nurse who attended, and several friends. Mr. Kelly was a man of sterling integrity, and who commanded the respect of all who came in contact with him. His rather stern manner concealed a heart full of genuine kindness and goodness and a moral nature of uncompromising honor and honesty. The sincere esteem in which he was held by all who knew him was attested by the great number of old acquaintances who came from a distance to be present at his funeral, or to drop a word or tear of regret as his body lay waiting the last solemn rites. Mr. Kelly leaves to mourn his loss, besides innumerable friends already mentioned, his wife and five children, three sons, John, jr., Edward, and William, and two daughters, Mrs. William Sheehan, and Miss Nellie Kelly. The deep and sincere sympathy of the community is extended to them all in their bereavement.

Among those from out of the parish who attended Mr. Kelly's funeral were noted, James Carper and wife of College View, Ed Tighe, sr., Council Bluffs; Patrick Bourke and wife of Omaha, Mrs. Nellie Smith, Tuley Wall and wife of Elmwood, Mrs. John Fitzgerald, Miss Ruth Fitzgerald, Paul Fitzgerald, Louisville; Jacob Tritsch and wife, Eight Mile Grove; John Fight and wife, Plattsmouth; James Terryberry and wife, Cedar Creek; Frank McNurlin and wife and daughter, Dora, the latter old neighbors of the deceased when he lived on his farm eight miles northeast of town.—Louisville Courier.

WISCONSIN SPEAKER HERE NEXT THURSDAY

From Saturday's Daily.

The voters of Cass county who have a desire to get a clear understanding of the political issues of the day should not fail to attend the meetings of Robert Herrick of Wisconsin, who will be in this county on next Thursday, October 26th, to hold meetings at Louisville and Plattsmouth. Mr. Herrick will arrive in Louisville on Thursday morning and will address the voters of that locality at 2 p. m. on the same day and at Plattsmouth at 8 o'clock in the evening. Mr. Herrick is a progressive from the word go and was very active in political life in Wisconsin when as a member of the following of Senator Robert M. LaFollett he assisted in the defeat of the standpat republican ring in that state. He is now on the stump in support of Wilson and the reform measures that has made the democratic party's record in the last three years a most glorious one. Mr. Herrick is German by birth and has the greatest faith in the fairness of the policy our president.

MRS. JEFF SALSBURG IMPROVING.

From Friday's Daily.

Late reports from the Immanuel hospital in Omaha indicate that Mrs. Jeff Salsburg who is there recovering from an operation is doing nicely and her condition is much better apparently. Mrs. Salsburg has been in poor health for the past year and has been taking treatment for some time until it was decided that an operation would be necessary to give her relief and this was accordingly performed Monday at the hospital.

THEY FIND THE SNOW RATHER DEEP IN PLACES

From Saturday's Daily.

Last evening a number of the republican candidates consisting of Sheriff Quinton, County Attorney Cole, Dr. E. W. Cook, county chairman; Clarence Beal, candidate for county clerk, and George L. Farley, candidate for assessor, started for Weeping Water to attend a meeting of the G. O. P. held there and enroute found it necessary several times to get out and push the automobiles through the drifts but they arrived in time for the speaking. The boys found the snow quite heavy all the way but it will not be a patching to the storm of ballots that will snow Hughes and Fairbanks under in Nebraska.

H. E. PANKONIN MEETS WITH BAD ACCIDENT

From Saturday's Daily.

H. E. Pankonin met with an accident last Saturday that will put his left hand out of commission for some time. He was making some repairs on a windmill out at Jim Terryberry's farm and was working on the tower at a height of fifty feet. In some way his left hand became fastened in the gear of the wheel just as a gust of wind came up and started the wheel in motion. He had presence of mind enough to grab the wheel and stop it, but before it had lacerated his hand in a frightful manner. He was hurried to town and it required fourteen stitches to patch up the wound. Mr. Pankonin is an old experienced hand at this line of work, and said that the accident was purely carelessness on his part in not tightening the wheel so that it could not turn while he was at work. While no bones were broken the wound was a most painful one.—Louisville Courier.

CASS COUNTY MEN GET BIG HOG PRICES

From Saturday's Daily.

Cass County seems to have been at the front on the hog market at the South Omaha Live Stock exchange yesterday, when two enterprising farmers pulled down two of the top-notch prices that have been registered so far this month on the market. A. F. Schafer of Cedar Creek, who was on the market with a car of good butcherweights, secured the highest price paid for hogs this month, $10, as the animals were of the very best and were quickly grabbed up by the purchasers at the high price. P. E. Tritsch had a number of fine hogs at the market that brought $9.90 at the sale yesterday at the exchange. This looks like the Cass county farmers were right on the job on the production of fine hogs and are able to meet the best farmers in the state in this line. Both Mr. Schafer and Mr. Tritsch are extensive raisers of fine hogs and their skill in handling their animals certainly has been demonstrated in the excellent prices secured by them for their hogs.

PLEASANT PARTY AT ALBERT HOME SATURDAY EVENING

Saturday evening a very pleasant Halloween party was enjoyed at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. John Albert on Pearl street when their daughters, Misses Emma and Margaret Albert entertained the members of the Luther League of the St. Paul's church. The evening was one of the rarest enjoyment and the young people, twenty-three in number spent the time in playing games of all kinds and in the enjoyment of a number of piano numbers contributed by different members of the party and which proved an entertaining feature of the evening. During the course of the evening dainty refreshments in keeping with the Halloween season were served and which were certainly appreciated by the members of the jolly party. It was a late hour when the young people journeyed homeward voting the Misses Albert royal entertainers and their appreciation of the delightful hospitality afforded them.

ENTERTAINING LECTURE AT SOKOL HALL SATURDAY EVENING

Saturday evening Mr. J. Drtina, of Denver, gave a very pleasing lecture at the T. J. Sokol hall and which was attended by a large number of the members of this order and of the Z. C. B. J. lodge of which Mr. Drtina is one of the national organizers and in whose interest he is touring the with a large number of slides, showing scenes in the lands over the sea as well as in our own country and this feature of the entertainment made a great impression upon the audience, and especially were the scenes from the land of Bohemia enjoyed as many were familiar to those in the audience and the views gave the others an opportunity of seeing what that country was really like. As a result of the personal work of Mr. Drtina and the meeting a renewed interest was created among the members of the order that will prove of much benefit to the lodge locally. After the close of the address the audience spent several hours most delightfully in dancing and enjoying a good social time among themselves and it was with great regret that they saw the hour for homecoming draw near and feel that the opportunity of hearing Dr. Drtina was certainly a rare treat.

COACH STEWART, A HERO AT UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA TODAY

There is one man at the University of Nebraska that has the solid backing of every member in the school.

Head Coach Stewart. He had the task of making a winning team out of the Husker squad without such material as Chamberlain, Halligan and some other famous ground getters. He set out to do it.

He eliminated the position of quarter and established his plays around two fullbacks. He switched backfield men to ends and ends to backfield. He reorganized the whole team and way of practice. He had the rosters in the school watching his every move. He simply couldn't fail. The win of the team over the Oregon Aggies settled all doubt in the minds of the students as to whether or not Stewart knew his business.

When the Huskers won over Drake and the Kansas Aggies, there was little comment, such games being expected to go into the victory bag of the Nebraskans. But the Oregon game was a different matter. It was to make or break Stewart. Had he lost, it is thought that foot ball at the university would have been a dead sport this year.

Now all the school is looking forward to the battle with Notre Dame on November 30. Home coming day, November 18, will be a big day in football. The team meets Kansas and will in all probability decide the ownership of the Missouri valley title in that fray. The game with Ames is another of the frays which will be worth watching.

Team work won the game for the Huskers Saturday. The score of 17 to 7 was the result of starless play as far as the individual was concerned. The whole team worked as one and put the win across. The two touchdowns made by Carey were only made because the ends of the Oregon Aggies were turned in and kept in until Carey got past them.—Omaha News.

ARRIVAL OF A FINE BOY.

From Friday's Daily.

Despite the storm raging yesterday and the very disagreeable weather, the stork made a flying visit to this community yesterday and at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Mayabb west of the city left a fine little son and heir who arrived about 10 o'clock last evening. Both the mother and little one are doing nicely and Claud is feeling greatly elated over his new happiness and the fine little son. The many friends of the family will extend to the parents their heartiest congratulations and best wishes for the welfare of the little man.

ELEVATORS ARE FILLED TO LIMIT

Two Hundred and Twenty-One on the Burlington Road Can't Hold Any More.

Two hundred and twenty-one elevators on the Burlington railroad in Nebraska were reported Saturday as being blocked—that is, crammed full of grain, unable to receive any more, and shut down for that reason. The Burlington has not been able to furnish cars to haul the grain to market, and so the elevators cannot operate until the present congestion is relieved.

The number of blocked elevators was distributed as follows over the different railroad divisions: Omaha, 6; Lincoln, 97; Wymore, 10; McCook, 88; Alliance, 1; Sterling, Colo, 19.

From this it would appear that the northern and eastern divisions are faring considerably better than the southern in the distribution of cars.

State Loses 300 Cars.

During the past few days, the Burlington has sent out orders to its division headquarters and station agents in Nebraska for the withdrawal of fifty cars from each division, to be turned over to the Northern Pacific and Great Northern roads, making 300 in all taken out of Nebraska. It is said that two weeks ago the Burlington had a balance of 8,000 cars against it in its exchanges with those two lines, which are related parts of the Hill system.

Many complaints regarding the refusal of the Burlington to permit the loading of empty cars at Nebraska stations have come to the state railway commission, especially from potato shippers, who say that it is resulting in seriously retarding the movement of their products to market. The commission, however, thinks potato shippers must be satisfied if they get as good treatment as grain shippers in the distribution of cars.

AN INSANITY CASE BEFORE THE BOARD

The county board of insanity was called to meet yesterday to take up the examination of Oscar Elledge who was before them charged with being in a state where it would be best to have him removed to the hospital for care. It seems that the young man arrived in the city Friday from St. Joseph, Mo., and Saturday developed the signs of insanity that led to the complaint being filed and he was in quite bad shape when the board met to pass on the case. He was first noticed Saturday afternoon on Vine street near the new library when his strange actions attracted the attention of the passers by and he demanded protection from several parties claiming that someone was after him and that he was in danger. He was placed in jail and yesterday was up before the official board to determine his condition and after hearing the facts in the case the members of the board decided that he was a suitable patient for the state hospital. He was apparently quite demented at the hearing but this morning was showing signs of improvement and it may be possible that it will not be necessary to have him taken away.

SNOW IS VERY HEAVY IN THE COUNTRY DISTRICTS

From Saturday's Daily.

The residents from out in the county and particularly those residing west of the city who visited here today, report that the snowfall in their locality to have been quite heavy and a great deal more of it than was found in this city. In a great many places the roads were filled with quite heavy drifts and the high wind prevailing had aided in making the travel quite difficult and even this morning it was a hard proposition to get through with a team and buggy, while an automobile experienced even greater difficulty. While the snow was heavy here in the city it did not last long and did not drift or bank as it did on the country roads.

A want ad will bring what you want.
