IN PLATTSMOUTH FORTY YEARS AGO.

Frank Carruth's child has had croup, bad.

Superintendent G. B. Crippen made us a short call on Monday last.

Mr. Foster, our lower Weeping Water friend, came in to see us lately.

Mrs. H. A. Waterman fell off the porch of Leving's new house and broke her arm.

Mr. William C. Waller of Weeping Water called and passed in some silver to the Herald.

We are very sorry to learn through the Lincoln Journal of the death of General McBride's little son.

James Jordan of Crete was up to see us.

Miss Carrie Bennett made a short visit to Plattsmouth on Saturday last.

Fred Guthman of Seward, brother of Frank Guthman, visited our town yesterday for a short time.

Fred Dorrington went east from Omaha on Monday. Fred expects to sell a bonanza or two before he returns.

Mr. J. M. Bechtel, the new station agent on the Burlington at this place, called at our office Saturday. He appears every inch a business man and knows what he is about.

Ben Dorste and James Wiley were in town Tuesday. They say the roads are still very rough, but it was a ground-hog case and they had to come to town to get some — fish.

There is a possibility of trouble between our city authorities and some of our citizens who are in the habit of fast driving on Main street. Fix it among you, gentlemen, we haven't any fast horses to drive, or any children to be run over by other gentlemen.

FARMERS READ.

Labor Degraded at the Saunders House, Plattsmouth, Neb.

Your attention is called to the following facts—that on the 29th day of June, five or more sturdy farmers of Cass county, Nebraska, ourselves included called at the Saunders House, Plattsmouth, Neb., for our dinner; not having our coats on we were refused permission to enter the dining room without first getting our coats—or secondly, we could borrow of them, which the clerk proffered to us. We refused to bend to the paper collar aristocracy, and acknowledge that laboring men without their coats were not as good in all respects as any man with his coat on. I believe it to be the duty of all thinking men to ponder well on the above facts, before submitting to the requirements of a hotel run in that way.
D. S. DRAPER,

Our Greenwood Letter.

Dear Herald: Thinking a few words from this section would not come amiss I concluded to drop you a few lines. The farmers in this section are busy gathering their corn and hauling it to town, where they dispose of it for a very small sum, viz, 15 cents per bushel, and it is causing considerable grumbling among them.

Greenwood is lively now and the merchants are doing a good business. E. A. Noel and the Ethridge boys are running the two principal stores. Messrs. Ethridge have built a new store and will move into it soon.

Mr. Tudor, six miles south of town, had a shucking bee last Friday, and oyster supper and dance at night, at which a good time was had by all who participated.

One night last week Miss Hughes had a spelling school at the Barrett school house, which was participated in by the scholars of three schools, and a lively time was had. Mr. E. Lewis and Sam Mathews were the captains and victory perched on Mr. Mathews' side after a hard and bloodless combat.

Last Friday, eleven cars of emigrants came into Nebraska over the Burlington railroad at this point, and on Saturday seven cars were crossed.

They are putting in the iron front at Guthman's building on Main street. John Wayman made most of the castings, the pillars being cast at Greenwood. It's going to look very nice when finished and will improve the building very much, and is a credit to all parties.

The decision of Judge Pound in the noted Henry Shafer divorce case, mentioned in last week's Herald, was a divorce to Shafer, upon his paying the woman $1,000, and she paying the costs. We learn that Mr. Shafer has taken an appeal.

Joseph Connor, Alexander, our grain devouring friend of the South Platte country, gets in one on Dr. Miller, our North Platte friend of the Omaha Herald, that may be considered a settler.

We learn from the Fremont Tribune that Mr. Abbott, formerly of this place, "skipped out" from there under rather adverse circumstances. He did not come back to the town where Mac-Murphy lives. He was about played out when he left.

Dr. Joseph Hall has returned from Chicago, where he graduated at Rush Medical college. He will continue to pursue the practical knowledge of medicine in Dr. Livingston's office in Plattsmouth.

Mrs. McKay, who has been visiting her relatives, Captain and Mrs. Palmer of this city, left on Saturday last. Mrs. McKay left behind her many friends, made during her visit, who much regret her departure.

Our Louisville Letter.

The weather is changeable but in the main pleasant and spring-like—farmers are plowing and business moves on in a true western spirit.

Mr. John Baue, mine host of the Western House, always has a smile and ample accommodations for the wayfaring man and does a good hotel the Western House, gives his whole attention to the healing of the sick, lame and halt.

Dr. Hildebrand, who has his office in business.

Dr. Waterman, one of the old settlers of L., keeps up his usual good practice, and also does a good drug business. The firm of Waterman & Ramsey are to increase their facilities for doing business—and put in a large stock of drugs soon.

Mr. Hofmeister, who learned his trade in "der Fatherland," guarantees a good fit in boots and shoes.

L. comes not far short of being a city, for when we want fast livery rigs we go to Walter Cutforth and always find accommodations for all our wants.

B. G. Hoover has the implement mania very bad, for he has not had a minute's sleep in the last two weeks because of the constant train of farmers coming to him for machinery of all kinds day and night.

Frank Greek of Lincoln has lately started a tin shop and we think his prospects for business flattering, as the want of such an institution has been felt for some time.

LAND FOR SALE!

I have some Chase and Deuel county lands for sale at prices below the average prices. If you will go out with me I can convince you that I am right. Some of as good land as there is in Chase county at prices from $16.00 to $22.50 per acre. I also have a ranch proposition, 3,000 acres, all fenced with four barb wires 200 acres of good hay land which will grow fine alfalfa. Pasture land is rolling hard land with good grass; two good wells and windmills. Running water through land. This can be had for $10.00 per acre. I think I am in position to save any one some money for I have been personally acquainted with the west for the past fifteen years. I am ready to go at any time. Any one buying land of me will get their railroad fares refunded. There will be no hotel bills after you arrive in Imperial. Will show you the country in autos. Write me and arrange to go out.
JOHN COLBERT,
Weeping Water, Neb.

County Surveyor Fred Patterson was among those going to Omaha this morning to spend a few hours in that city looking after some matters of business.

What Kaiser William and Others Say of "Booze"

Emperor William, of Germany, addressing the Naval Cadets, as Muerwick, in 1912, said:

"The service on board ship is now a very heavy one, and to stand it without overtaxing the human body is most important. The next war and the next naval battle will make great demands on the nerves, and only those can respond to these demands to whom the use of alcohol is a strange thing. In the next naval war, victory will belong to that nation which shows the smallest consumption of alcohol."

Martin Luther, speaking of "booze," in Germany, said:

"Whoever first brewed beer has prepared a pest for Germany. I have prayed to God that he would destroy the whole brewing industry. I have often pronounced a curse on the brewer. All Germany could live on the barley that is thus spoiled and turned into a curse."

Prof. Max Kassowitz, of the University of Vienna, speaking of booze, before the war, said:

"Alcoholic drinks cost the German people three and a half times as much as the army and navy together, more than six times as much as the total workmen's insurance, and seven times as much as all their public schools. With the money that is spent in the German Empire in one year for this deadening substance the national debt could be completely wiped out and the interest upon it saved for all time."

Hon. Champ Clark, a democrat, speaking of the saloon in 1906, said:

"The saloon is no place for a young man who is ambitious to lead a clean, successful life. If he wishes to excel in crime, rob his mental and physical powers, consort with thugs, blacklegs, prostitutes and thieves, be a disgrace to his family and a stench to his own nostrils, why I'd advise him to frequent saloons. He can learn and be all that in any liquor saloon. In fact, he can take his post-graduate course without leaving the premises."

President William McKinley, a republican, speaking of the liquor traffic, said:

"By legalizing the traffic we agree to share with the liquor seller the responsibility and evil of his business; every man who votes for license becomes of necessity a partner to the liquor traffic and all its consequences."

FROM PERU NORMAL.

During the State Teachers' association meeting in Omaha, November 8-11, the State Normal will maintain headquarters at the Castle hotel. It is probable that many Peruvians will register there.

Under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. the students of the normal are collecting books by standard authors to be sent to the boys on the Mexican border.

Bulletins are now being distributed which explain the study center work, the correspondence courses, and the short courses, which will begin November 15. Those interested may receive copies free of charge.

At the last meeting of the state board the Arab school, which is about three miles southwest of Peru, was made an affiliated demonstration school. This is the second rural school connected with the Peru Normal to be used in training rural teachers.

This year marks the fiftieth anniversary of the establishment of the State Normal at Peru. At the close of the year 2,683 students will have graduated from this institution, 1,343 of these people graduated during the first forty-three years, and 1,340 during the past seven years.

On Wednesday of last week Mr. and Mrs. Dr. House favored the students and faculty with a number of vocal selections, which were very pleasing to all who heard them.

One of the most interesting foot ball games ever witnessed in Peru was played last Friday with Doane college. The game was a close one from start to finish. Both teams used open plays largely. Peru completing five out of eight attempted forward passes, and Doane, one out of a possible five. In the third quarter Craig kicked goal and won three points, the game closing with a score of 3 to 0. This is the first time Peru has succeeded in winning from Doane.
