TO HOLD JUNIOR SHORT COURSE AT WEEPING WATER

We are planning to have a Junior Short Course at Weeping Water November 20-24, for the benefit of rural pupils, up to and including the eighth grade. I am enclosing a program which I should be glad to have you print in your next issue.

Mr. McMillan of the University of Nebraska, College of Agriculture, will have charge of the work and will be assisted by Miss Ort, Mr. Meredith, Mr. Dickson and Mr. Hoppert. We hope to have a large enrollment of rural boys and girls for this work. Those who have dropped out of school and have not completed the eighth grade work are especially invited to be present.

Those who attend the short course will be given credit in their home school for attendance during that time.

With your co-operation we mean to make this a very interesting and profitable week.

"IN OLD KENTUCKY,"
AT THE PARMELE SOON

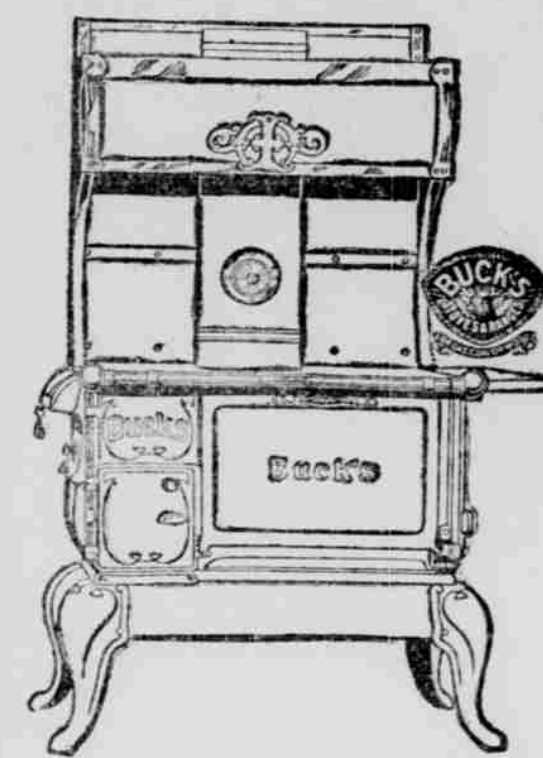

"In Old Kentucky" comes to the Parmele theater November 14. This entertaining and always welcome stage offering comes along as regularly as tax-day. This drama of the early nineties, written by Charles T. Dazey, still holds the affections of the playgoing public of America to a remarkable degree. Since it was written, tastes in things theatrical have changed and changed again, but without marring the marvelous drawing power of this drama of wholesome Kentucky life. "In Old Kentucky" is one of those rare plays that seem to improve with age. It has made its success without the help from this star or the other. Theatrical fashions may have changed since the original production of "In Old Kentucky," but the interest in the story is still keen and the features, including the swing across the chasm, the horse race and the amusing pranks, the band music, the songs and dances of the picnicians, still delight the theatergoer. The stage settings are always unusually picturesque, and the company is always exceptionally good. With the ebb and flow of stage entertainment, season after season, "In Old Kentucky" always more than holds its own in the affections of the public. Remember—at the Parmele, next Tuesday night.

JUNIOR GUILD ENTERTAINED
BY MRS. B. ROSEGRANS

The Junior Guild of St. Luke's parish held a very pleasant afternoon meeting yesterday, at which time they were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Bruce Rosegrans at the pretty home of her mother, Mrs. P. Thierolf, on North Sixth street. The greater portion of the afternoon was devoted to playing the busy needle in a most industrious manner, interspersed with various amusements, while sociability reigned supreme. About 4:30 a most tempting luncheon was served, to which all did ample justice. During the afternoon the business matters transacted at the home of Misses Gretchen and Marie Donnelly on Tuesday evening were explained to the members who were unable to be present.

PLEASANT AFTERNOON AT MRS. WILES' HOME

Yesterday afternoon the Ladies' Missionary society of the United Brethren church south of this city, were entertained in a most charming manner, by Mrs. Joseph E. Wiles at her home on High School hill. As the occasion was to be an afternoon in Japan, the handsome parlors of the Wiles home had been most attractively decorated in the Japanese colors—white and red, intermingled with the cherry blossoms and the Japanese lanterns, making a very pretty setting for this most delightful meeting. The ladies devoted the afternoon to the study of Japan, a very interesting program having been prepared on that country, which was very much enjoyed by those fortunate enough to be present. The Japanese scheme was also carried out in the dainty luncheon and the service—the luncheon consisting of tea, rice, biscuits and wafers. The hostess was assisted in serving by little Misses Helen Westcott and Marguerite Wiles, dressed as little Japanese maidens. There were some twenty ladies in attendance who, on their departure, extended their warmest thanks to the hostess for the unique and splendid afternoon's entertainment afforded them.

DEMOCRATS WIN IN LANCASTER

Clerk of Court and Treasurer Only Republican Candidates Who Pull Through.

Mrs. Minnie P. Knotts of Historical Society is Elected County Superintendent.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 8.—Lancaster county, normally republican by 2,500 votes, encountered a democratic landslide yesterday which swept out the entire court house, which has been in republican hands for years. Hitchcock and Neville, however, were the victims of systematic cutting and lost the county by more than 1,500 each.

Gas Hyers, one of the most popular sheriffs the county ever had, running for re-election, went down in the storm and lost to L. A. Simmons, his democratic opponent.

Harry Wells, county clerk, running for re-election, was easily defeated by George Sutherland, the democratic candidate.

Frank Peterson, democratic candidate for county attorney, ran away from George Hager, who was running for re-election.

W. H. Gardner, county superintendent, regarded as an absolute cinch, fell before the democratic onslaught, and was defeated by Mrs. Minnie Prey Knotts, the democratic candidate.

J. S. Baer, the republican candidate for clerk of the district court, and William Albers, republican candidate for county treasurer, were the only ones who weathered the storm.

The legislative ticket will be split, with at least half of the democratic candidates winning against their republican opponents.

PRESIDENT WILSON LEADS IN CALIFORNIA ELECTION

Omaha, Nov. 9, 3 p. m.—(Special to The Journal).—Late reports from California state that President Wilson is leading by 3,500 in that state and that the chairman of the committee claim the election of Wilson in that state. Hughes has at the present time 265 votes, his managers claim, or less than a majority, and if President Wilson carries California he will win by one vote it is claimed. The closeness of the contest has occasioned a great deal of speculation as to the outcome and it will probably take the official count to determine the result.
