

WHAT CANDIDATES IN CASS COUNTY PAID OUT THIS YEAR

The candidates seeking office from the people of Cass county at the last general election seem to have made a very inexpensive campaign compared with other counties of the state as the sums reported to the office of County Clerk Libershall, indicate. The largest expenditures made was for the office of state senator where John Mattes, the successful candidate expended $160 while his opponent, A. F. Sturm spent $161.90. For county clerk, it cost Frank Libershall, the winner $92.50 and Clarence Beal, the republican candidate for the position, $89.25. In the race for clerk of the district court James Robertson expended $95 while J. E. Nemetz, the democratic candidate spent $93. L. G. Todd, the successful candidate for float representative expended the sum of $131 in making the race. For the position of county treasurer it cost Mike Tritsch $93 to win and opponent, Major A. Hall $95. Sheriff Quinton paid out $95.25 for the campaign. For representative, John Murtye, the democrat winner paid $82.50 and L. A. Tyson, the republican candidate, the sum of $87.80. In the race for county attorney A. G. Cole paid $74.25 while J. A. Capwell gave $25.25 in the battle. County Commissioner J. A. Pitz, who was re-elected, paid out the sum of $95 while the republican candidate, J. J. Johnson paid $80. Judge Beeson in the race for county judge was only out $3.50 for cards. The socialist candidates, J. M. Leyda for representative and C. E. Martin for police judge did not expend a cent in the race, while Judge M. Archer, democratic candidate for police judge was out $6.50 for cards and announcement. In the race for assessor G. L. Farley expended $27 while P. E. Ruffner paid out $42. Miss Eda Marquardt, county superintendent, paid $55 in an assessment to the republican county committee. Most of the expenditures were for assessments to the county committees and cards and advertising to the papers of the county. There are still several other candidates to file their statements with the county clerk.

STORK VISITS HOME OF MR. AND MRS. T. M. SCARBROUGH

Saturday evening the stork paid a visit to this city and called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Scarbrough in the north part of the city, leaving in their care a fine little son and heir. The little lad is of the regulation size and weight and is the object of much admiration from the delighted parents and will make a playmate for the little daughter. It is needless to say that the event has caused a great deal of joy to Teddy, and he is without doubt the happiest man in the city over the advent of the little son. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Scarbrough will extend their congratulations on the happiness that has befallen them and their best wishes for the welfare of the little son. Uncle John Nemetz is also feeling mighty happy over the addition to the family.

The following is taken from the society department of the Omaha Bee of yesterday in regard to several of the young ladies who are guests of friends in the metropolis for the coming few weeks:

"Several visiting girls are in town, delighted girls for whom it is a pleasure to entertain. Miss Mariah Mathers of Greenville, Pa., who is visiting Miss Mildred Todd on her way to California, and Miss Louise Hupp of Chicago, who is frequently the guest of Miss Helen Van Dusen, are sharing honors at numerous functions. This afternoon Miss Van Dusen is giving a tea for them; tomorrow Miss Helen Dunham will entertain at luncheon, and Tuesday they are planning a little trip to Plattsmouth, where Miss Margaret Donelan will give a luncheon in their honor."

Her Son Subject to Croup.
"My son Edwin is subject to croup," writes Mrs. E. O. Irwin, New Kensington, Pa. "I put in many sleepless hours at night before I learned of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mothers need not fear this disease if they keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house and use it as directed. It always gave my boy relief." Obtainable everywhere.

WEeping WATER COUPLE WED.

From Saturday's Daily.
This morning at the court house, County Judge Allen J. Beeson was called upon to unite in the bonds of holy wedlock Mr. Norris E. Engstrom and Miss Viola Parker, both of Weeping Water. The ceremony was performed in the usual impressive manner of the judge and was witnessed by W. C. Ford and B. L. Philpot, friends of the contracting parties from Weeping Water. Following the ceremony the young people returned to their home in the central part of the county, rejoicing in their new found happiness.

ELECTION COST CASS COUNTY ABOUT $2,000

From Saturday's Daily.
The cost of the expression of the will of the people of the county at the election grows greater each year it seems and this year it will reach over the $2,000 mark for the actual cost of the election. This includes the judges and clerks, the cost of the supplies for the different precincts, the ballots, the rent of rooms, and the cost of distributing the supplies and posting up of notices of the election. The length of the ballot caused a great deal of time to be put in by the boards in each of the wards and precincts and which kept some of them until late the next day after the election in preparing their returns. Added to the cost of the general election comes that of the primary election that almost reaches the same proportions as that of the general election and it is fortunate that the legislature cut down the elections to one in every two years instead of each year as was formerly the case under the old election law.

FINE DRAMATIC OFFERING AT K. S. HALL SATURDAY NIGHT

The dramatic offering at the K. S. hall Saturday evening, given by the members of the dramatic club of the K. S. society was very largely attended and the work of the members of the company under the direction of Joseph Racek, was received with the greatest of approval by the delighted auditors. Each member of the company was at their best and the different roles of the play were carried out in fine shape. After the play had been given the hall was prepared for dancing and to the delightful music of the Plattsmouth orchestra under the direction of Thomas Svoboda, the young and old alike spent several hours in dancing and the occasion was one that will be long remembered by everyone who was fortunate enough to be present. The attendance was quite large both at the play and the dance which followed and a neat sum was realized on this occasion. Everything was most delightful and a real pleasant time was enjoyed by everyone.

Sufferer From Indigestion Relieved.

"Before taking Chamberlain's Tablets my husband suffered for several years from indigestion, causing him to have pains in the stomach and distress after eating. Chamberlain's Tablets relieved him of those spells right away," writes Mrs. Thomas Sasey, Geneva, N. Y. Obtainable everywhere.

AGREEMENT WITH MEXICO EXPECTED

Washington, Nov. 19.—After three hours conference Saturday with President Wilson, Secretary of Interior Lane, chairman of the American-Mexican peace commission, expressed himself as "well satisfied with the Mexican situation," and hopeful of a settlement of the negotiations at Atlantic City.

The president's guests were Secretary Lane, Secretary Lansing and Secretary Baker.

The whole situation arising from hitches in the peace commission proceeding at Atlantic city were thoroughly discussed, together with this government's future course should the commission fail.

But at the close, Lane said no change in the Mexican policy had been mapped out.

Lane will return to Atlantic City tomorrow and the commission sessions will be resumed Monday.

"We are very good settlers," said Lane, but he refused to reveal on what line he hoped to succeed. While the tentative agreement at Atlantic City called for early withdrawal of General Pershing's column, the secretary was non-committal as to the exact date.

It was intimated that when the commission resumes its sessions Monday the American members will emphatically urge upon Luis Cabrera, head of the Mexican members, the necessity of accepting the proposed agreement.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT SOKOL HALL DANCE

There was a large crowd in attendance at the dance given at the T. J. Sokol hall Saturday evening and the occasion was one of rare pleasure to the jolly party of young and old alike who while away the hours very delightfully in the enjoyment of the dance. The music was furnished by the Bohemian band and each selection was received with great approval. During the evening a very handsome hand worked doile was given away and in the drawing No. 16 which was held by Mrs. James Dvorak was found to be the lucky number and she was given the prize. The proceeds of the dance on the doily go to the fund for the independence of Bohemia that is being raised in the United States by the different Bohemian societies. The dance continued until a late hour before the merry party broke up.

BIG INDUSTRIAL PROBLEMS BRING CLASH THIS WEEK

Powerful Influences of Labor, Railroads and Government Come Together for Investigation.

Washington, Nov. 19.—The powerful influence of labor, railroads and the government will come together next week in what promises to develop into one of the most spectacular clashes of America's industrial history.

Monday the joint congressional committee, authorized to make a searching inquiry into the whole railroad problem with a view to determining what legislation is necessary to better regulate interstate commerce, will begin its work here.

During the week the commission appointed by President Wilson to investigate the opinion of the eight-hour day on railroads will begin informal hearings in New York city.

At the same time the department of justice expects to complete plans for combating the suits filed by railroads asking an injunction against the Adamson eight-hour law.

President Wilson, meanwhile, will be formulating proposals to the next congress for settlement and prevention of industrial disputes by legislation.

The railroads hope to tie the hands of the government and prevent enforcement of the eight-hour law until the joint congressional committee has had an opportunity to complete its hearings. The brotherhoods will uphold the hands of the government in enforcing the eight-hour law, but will bitterly combat any attempt to enact laws which will limit their striking powers. A number of the brotherhood leaders arrived here tonight to prepare for their fight.

Out of the congressional investigation the railroads hope to gain relief from what they term their "forty-nine masters," namely, control by the states, and show that until full powers of interstate legislation is vested with the federal government alone, no "further hardship," such as the imposition of the eight-hour law, can be borne by them.

In conjunction with this, the question of rates, wages, terms and conditions of employment—in fact every question in which the railroads and their employes have been interested for years and over which many industrial battles have been waged—promise to be thrashed out.

Big business, including plant manufacturers, industrial houses and commercial organizations of all kinds have entered into the fight in the hope that the investigation of the committee will develop some means of settling threatened strikes by legislation.

MR. FARMER!

A half million dollars worth of perfectly good farm machinery is thrown in the scrap pile every year in Nebraska.

Farm work is the hardest work there is on machinery.

Castings break, bearings wear out, shafts bend and break. Things get dull and pull hard, gears rattle, smash, bang and crash, paint gets dull.

Many farmers throw away machinery and buy new, because they are not aware that we can in nearly every case re-make such machinery equal, and in many respects better than new.

We do not care how bad your machinery is smashed or worn, they all look alike to us; we re-make them as good as new and save you money.

A dollar saved is a dollar earned, keep your money at home and you may get it back again besides it helps us to employ home labor.

Put your machinery troubles up to us, we have the best equipped machine shop in the country; if you don't believe it call and see us. Visitors are always welcome.

We make everything in metal. Now is a good time to overhaul things for the spring rush.

Lets not make it worse than it is!

We read somewhere in a daily paper last week that the proverbial Thanksgiving dinner with turkey and cranberry sauce would cost only 50c more this year than last year and everything was figured out item for item to prove it. We hear so much about high prices on every hand that at first thought one might guess that Thanksgiving dinner would cost about double this year. We also noticed the ad of a local grocery firm that figures out for us quite a list of very substantial and wholesome eatables that have not advanced at all in price. That's encouraging. Perhaps it isn't quite so bad after all. Let's look a little further. Here is a list of things to wear in the men's line that cost very little if any more than a year ago.
