Insure the Happiness of Your Little Ones!

Any parent charged with neglect of his children naturally will become indignant. Still there are some parents who, through carelessness, neglect to provide for their welfare.

The little ones must be protected. There is no better protection than a bank account.

There was a large attendance at the mask ball given at the Puls & Gansemer hall in Murray Saturday evening and a most enjoyable time was had by all. Mrs. Carl Sattler, of Plattsouth, took the first prize, and Herman Gansemer captured the second. Plattsouth was well represented by many of the young people who enjoy dancing.

The Thanksgiving dinner at Lewiston, given by the ladies of the K. N. K. was one of the most successful given by the ladies; the day was ideal, the dinner was of the finest, the crowd was the largest of any year that these dinners have been given, 240 dinners being served at noon. C. A. Rawls gave a splendid talk on the Thanksgiving theme that was thoroughly appreciated by the large crowd present. Rev. W. A. Taylor delivered a very fine and eloquent sermon. Mrs. E. R. Queen favored the audience with a solo. The Plattsouth male quartet was present and gave several numbers in the evening that added very much to the pleasure of the evening. The tables were tastefully arranged and decorated with beautiful red and white carnations, which were the gift of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hesser of Los Angeles, Cal., and each guest at dinner was presented with one of the beautiful flowers as a remembrance of Lewiston, and many old friends of Mr. and Mrs. Hesser were present and received a flower that was prized very highly. Mrs. Will Oliver and Mrs. John Hurdicks, who had charge of the needlework, had many beautiful pieces for sale and received the neat sum of $45 for the trouble; the ladies received in total $135, and take this method of expressing, to each and every one who contributed in any way, their earnest appreciation for their kindness in help and giving.

GAILEN RHODEN SOMETHING OF A TRAPPER

Gailen and Glen Rhoden were in town yesterday afternoon from their farm in the Murray neighborhood, and while here Gale related a little of his experience as a trapper this fall on the farm. He had noticed some strange looking tracks near a straw stack in one of the fields, and decided that he would try out his luck with a few traps to see if it was possible to land the animal that was prowling around the farm. Gale set the traps all right, and lo and behold, the next morning there were two nice fat opossums in the traps and the secret of what was making the tracks was solved. This good luck decided Gale to make further efforts, and a number of traps were placed along the creek that flows through the farm, with the result that several muskrats and a racoon was added to the list of victims, as well as a fine specimen of the mink that was snared in one of the traps. The success of Mr. Rhoden in the trapping line led him to prepare to set out a number of others and he is in hopes of being able to secure several other 'possums, that will furnish the chief feature of a fine feast. Gale has not had much experience in trapping but is coming right along.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

Bible school at 10:00 a. m. The superintendent has appointed a committee to look after the Christmas program.

The sermon topics for next Sunday will be "True Greatness," and "A Young Man Who Preferred Duty to Pleasure."

The new hymn books seem to take well with the congregation. Come next Sunday and help us sing.

UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Rev. W. M. Jackson, who had been assisting his father, Dr. Jackson, in evangelistic services for ten days, left on Friday night for his home in Topeka, Kas. He was accompanied by his little son, Lawrence. While here Mr. Jackson preached eleven times, one of his sermons being given Thursday morning, a very appropriate Thanksgiving discourse. Dr. Jackson preached Saturday afternoon, also Sunday morning and evening, and dispensed communion after the morning sermon.

At the United Presbyterian church next Sabbath the pastor will preach both morning and evening, the Sabbath school being held before the morning sermon.

The ladies of the United Presbyterian church will hold their annual bazaar Saturday and will serve splendid meals at noon and in the evening. They will have on sale many articles suitable for Christmas presents.

R. R. Nickles was visiting in Plattsouth Saturday.

GREAT INDUSTRIAL CONVENTION OPENS

Toledo, O., Dec. 5.—With more than a mile and a quarter of Pullman trains composing the six special sections which brought in the first squad of Overland dealers, parked in the extensive yards of the Willys-Overland company, began yesterday the biggest industrial convention in the history of the world.

To this convention came dealers from seventeen states, including Idaho, Nevada, Utah, New Mexico, Wyoming, Texas, Colorado, Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, the Carolinas, Nebraska and Iowa. Many of them are clad in grotesque costumes, the Louisianians with sugar canes, the Georgians, Alabamians and Mississippians with kumquats and statsumas; the Floridians bearing stuffed alligators and oranges, the Iowans with brass band and all sporting varicolored hatbands and armbands.

Every man was here to learn something of the new Overland line for 1917. Sales methods and service ideas will be discussed. Twelve hundred and ten dealers and boosters arrived. Omaha and western Iowa contingent numbered 650.

They went on tours through the Overland factory with its 103 acres of floor space, listening to lectures and sales talks by officials, and were guests at a banquet and entertainment. They will be replaced by new dealers on Wednesday.

The convention program, which will be repeated for a new squad of dealers every other day, will last until December 23rd.

SHOOTING MATCH.

There will be a shooting match at Murray, Neb., Wednesday, December 20, for turkeys, geese and ducks. Blue rock and target rifle shooting. All shooters are cordially invited to attend this event. Campbell & Shrader.
