MRS. ROBERT NEWELL HOME.

From Saturday's Daily.
Mrs. Robert Newell, who has been at the Immanuel hospital in Omaha for the past few weeks, has so far recovered from the effects of her recent operation as to be able to return to her home in this city. She is feeling much improved in health although tired from the trip from Omaha. Mrs. Newell will remain here for a week or ten days before returning to her home in South Dakota.

BETTER COME ALONG!

-W. E. ROSENCRANS-

1917

We've a Happy New Year For Everybody!

On our part we enter the New Year with a firm determination to discount our past efforts at every point, in keeping this shoe store the best and most satisfactory shoe store in this vicinity.

May the recollections of the dying year live as a pleasant memory of a time that's gone.
May all sorrow be buried by the goodness and joy which the New Year has in store for you.

LITTLE INTEREST IN NEXT SESSION

Few Members Reach Capital and Those Who Are There Are Just Enjoying Themselves.

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 29.—Beside the organization activities of former legislatures the present session appears like a church tea. There are few members in the city and those who are here are busier taking in the movies than they are in mixing legislative political potions.

For the speakership of the house the candidates, George Jackson of Nelson, Charles Trumble of Hazard, John Reifenrath of Crofton are taking it easy. The belief is that the matter will be settled entirely without the least friction and without any show of dissatisfaction among members.

The clerkship race is in the same condition. George Potts of Dubois, clerk of the 1915 house, has but one opponent, John Jones of this city. Mr. Jones is not extraordinarily active and may not even enter the caucus if he finds that Potts' pledges number higher than he expects them to now.

In the senate end the same apathy is apparent. Phil Kohl is a candidate for the presidency pro tem. John Mattes of Nebraska City is being boosted by his friends for the honor. Few members have pledged support to any particular candidate. Others may bob up at the last moment. But as in the house the race here will be settled in good spirit and without leaving any bitterness.

Republicans Between Two Fires.

The republicans are torn between conflicting emotions. Some of them want very much to do away with the "absurd" plan of holding minority caucuses, as they call it, and a lot of others believe that they should continue no matter if the democratic enemy has such a formidable show against them this session.

Of the pro-organizationists there are four candidates for the minority leadership—C. Petrus Peterson of this city, William Dorsey of Bloomington, a first term man of much ability; the Rev. F. A. Reiser of Thedford and Cronin from O'Neill.

In the senate end the minority leadership may go to "Tom" Lanners of Belvidere, although Charles Sandall of York is said to be a secker after the honor. So low is the minority membership in this year's senate that the successful bidder for this place will have to have only five votes besides his own to win out.

Would Limit Bills to Five.

The efforts of George Liggett of Utica to get a gentleman's agreement between members limiting each one to the introduction of five bills is expected to do some good. Early arrivals for the session say that that average would be too high, although much lower than the average for several sessions past.

This effort and the parallel effort to improve the quality of bills along with decreasing quality will play an important part in the session's activities. The members assert that they are willing to go the limit in this. Their sincerity in the matter, think the leaders, means that a real record is to be made in this respect at the coming session.

L. F. Langhorst, democratic state chairman, is here for the organization. He says he has but one object in view, that of helping the party and Governor Neville in their assumption of state responsibilities early next week.

Reduction of house committees from thirty-four to twenty in number with a membership of five for each committee and with provision that no member shall be upon more than one committee, is the radical change being urged upon early arrivals by W. J. Taylor of Custer county.

Sheriff C. D. Quinton departed this morning for Hastings, Neb., where he will look after some business for the county.

Mrs. G. H. Falter was among those going to Omaha this morning where she will spend a few hours in that city with friends.

Milk in Winter.

Why do your cows give less milk in winter than they do in summer? Just because nature does not supply them with grasses and green food. But we have come to the assistance of Dame Nature with B. A. Thomas' Stock Remedy which contains the very ingredients that the green feed supplies in season, only, of course, in a more highly concentrated form. We guarantee that this remedy will make your cows give more milk, and better milk with the same feed.

Ben Beckman and grandson drove up this morning from their home near Murray and spent a few hours in this city visiting and attending to the week-end shopping.

Mrs. John R. Pierson of Table Rock, Neb., who has been enjoying a visit over the Christmas season with her mother, Mrs. Mary Allison, departed this morning for her home.

E. P. McElwain, the jeweler, departed this afternoon for Kansas City, Mo., where he will visit over New Year's with his brother, Myron, and will, on his return, stop at Lincoln for a short visit with relatives.

EVIDENCE FROM HOME PEOPLE

The Statement of Plattsmouth Residents Are Surely More Reliable Than Those of Utter Strangers.

Home testimony is real proof. Public statements of Plattsmouth people carry real weight.

What a friend or neighbor says compels respect.

The word of one whose home is far away invites your doubts.

Here's a Plattsmouth statement.

And it's for Plattsmouth people's benefit.

Such evidence is convincing.

That's the kind of proof that backs Doan's Kidney Pills.

Theo. Starkjohan, retired farmer, Locust and Ninth streets, Plattsmouth, says: "For several years Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in our family for backache and kidney trouble and they have always proved to be all that is claimed of them. Whenever my back feels a little lame and my kidneys are not acting as they should, I take Doan's Kidney Pills a few days, and they never fail to do me good. They can't be equalled, and anyone having kidney trouble should use them." Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Starkjohan had. MAGNATES AND MEN DISAGREE

Conference Discontinued When Representatives of Roads and Unions Deadlocked.

New York, Dec. 28.—Conferences between representatives of the railroads and the four brotherhoods of railway employes, at which were discussed the possibilities of a settlement of the eight-hour controversy, were discontinued abruptly today when it became apparent an agreement could not be reached.

It was announced by both sides that there would be no more meetings until after the United States supreme court hands down its decision on the constitutionality of the Adamson act.

The break came when the railroad representatives refused to concede the demands of the brotherhood chiefs for an agreement looking toward the enforcement of the new wage schedule, fixed by the Adamson law, which goes into effect January 1.

Contention of Brotherhoods.

The brotherhood chiefs held that their men had the right to begin drawing wages according to the scale provided by the Adamson law immediately after the law became effective, irrespective of the suits brought by the railroads to test its validity.

A statement issued by Elisha Lee, chairman of the conference committee of railway managers, declared:

"The railroads will await the decision of the supreme court in the Adamson law test case. By agreement with the Department of Justice at Washington the railroads will keep a record from January 1 of the wages of the employees affected by the Adamson law in order that if the law is upheld by the court the employees will receive the extra back pay due them. The rights of the employers in the interval thus will be amply protected.

Not Party to Contract.

"The statement has been made in the press that the conference committee had been aiding in preparing a bill to be supported by the railroads and the employes alike and to be offered as a substitute for the legislation proposed by the administration to hold strikes in abeyance until after an investigation by a public body. The national conference committee has not been a party to such a program."

The railroad managers held it would be folly for them, in view of the award made last week by a board of arbitration in the case of the Switchmen's union, to pay the 50,000 switchmen who are members of the brotherhoods at the rate of ten hours' pay for an eight-hour day when the award grants only nine hours' pay for eight hours' work. The brotherhood leaders refused to be quoted after the meeting.

Danger Signal.

If the fire bell should ring would you run and stop it or go and help to put out the fire? It is much the same way with a cough. A cough is a danger signal as much as a fire bell. You should no more try to suppress it than to stop a fire bell when it is ringing, but should cure the disease that causes the coughing. This can nearly always be done by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Many have used it with the most beneficial results. It is especially valuable for the persistent cough that so often follows a bad cold or an attack of the grip. Mrs. Thomas Beeching, Andrews, Ind., writes: "During the winter my husband takes cold easily and coughs and coughs. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best medicine for breaking up these attacks and you cannot get him to take any other." Obtainable everywhere.

Mrs. M. A. Street was among those going to Omaha this morning to spend a few hours with her granddaughter, Miss Clara Mae Morgan at the Methodist hospital in that city.

Mrs. M. E. Brantner and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Chase and babe of Pender, Neb., who have been visiting over Christmas at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Cory, departed this afternoon for their home.

HONEST ABE DID NOT TURN A DEAF EAR TO SOUTHERN MOTHER

The appeal to the "great heart" by a southern mother whose son is condemned to die as a spy, is one of the touching features of "The Birth of a Nation" spectacle and characteristic, too, of Lincoln's experiences of those days. The Ford's theater scene, including the assassination of the president, is of particular value since the reproduction of the interior of the old playhouse, including the scenic setting which was on the stage at the fatal moment, is as near exact as art and money could make possible.

The part covering the reconstruction period sets forth vividly Lincoln's charitable policy toward the south, also the many difficult problems arising from the attempts of the white and black races to dwell together on politically equal terms.

Here it has been said some of the features are overdrawn, but possibly no more than necessity demanded to convey accurately and quickly to the people the impending dangers with which the southern people were called upon to cope. The necessity of educating the negro, recently a slave, is potently evident.

"Hail to the Chief," clarions the orchestra—an audience of men in glittering uniforms and women in hoop-skirts rises as one, a fierce, wild cheer bursts forth, and the tall, stooped figure and the sad, rough face of the president of a re-united nation appears between heavy curtains. Abraham Lincoln has arrived at Ford's theater! This is the tremendous scene which is flashed every night in a leading theater of most of the great American cities, where real audiences feel themselves actually face to face with Abraham Lincoln, the martyred president.

"The most noble scene in moving pictures" is a tribute paid to D. W. Griffith's staging of "this remarkable situation in his epoch-making production, "The Birth of a Nation."

This is only one of the many wonderful visualizations in Griffith's extraordinary work, however, and this enormous spectacle will be shown in its entirety, and accompanied by a symphony orchestra, at the Parmelee theater, January 4th and 5th.

Cough Medicine for Children.

Mrs. Hugh Cook, Scottsville, N. Y., says: "About five years ago when we were living in Garbutt, N. Y., I doctor two of my children suffering from colds with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and found it just as representative in every way. It promptly checked their coughing and cured their colds quicker than anything I ever used." Obtainable everywhere.

August Nolting from west of the city was in this afternoon attending to some trading with the merchants.

Nervous Women.
When the nervousness is caused by constipation, as is often the case, you will get quick relief by taking Chamberlain's Tablets. These tablets also improve the digestion. Obtainable everywhere.

Doing the Work.
W. T. Nanney, Noel, Mo., writes, "Your B. A. Thomas' Hog Powder is doing the work down in this part of the world. It proved to be what we needed to prevent and cure hog cholera and expel worms."
