Dr. Gilmore was called to Omaha Sunday evening on professional business.
Ben Dill shipped a car load of hogs to the South Omaha market on Friday of last week.
Omar Yardley's force of corn shellers were busy at Leonard Terry's this week.
Albert Young is all swelled up in the region of his nose, having been attacked by "A Boid."
Arthur Shepardson departed for Chase county Thursday of this week where he will work on a farm the coming summer.
Elmer Halstrom spent the latter part of last week in Lincoln, Havlock and Davey, combining business with a pleasure trip.
L. H. Puls, our genial garage man, has remodeled his office and supply room. Albert Young, the Murray carpenter is doing the work.
John Robbins, living four miles west of Murray, is spending the week in Western Nebraska and Kansas with friends and relatives.
J. W. Connelly, who has been in the western part of the state, came home Monday morning, as the weather was too severe to continue with his work.
Byron Young, an old time Cass county man, is visiting friends and relatives and old familiar scenes in and around Murray this week. Mr. Young is now a resident of Carroll, Neb., and reports that part of Nebraska as being prosperous and progressive.
Sales are quite numerous in these parts, and Col. Rex Young is about the busiest man in the world now-a-days. There is a good reason, for when it comes to the man who can deliver the good as an auctioneer Rex is first in his class. He's no has been, he is now.

The gripe is still raging in this part of the country.
W. G. Boedeker is confined to his home with a severe attack of tonsillitis.
Corn has dropped during the past few days from 90 cents to 85 cents per bushel.
Geo. W. Shields, J. D. Easthart and James Delesdernier shipped a car of hogs to South Omaha last Tuesday.
It is reported that C. E. Carroll, who suffered a severe fall a week or so ago has entirely recovered and is as spry as ever.
Wm. Troop and Richard Kettlehut from near Nehawka, passed through here Monday, per rough roads and driver, on their way to the county seat.
F. E. Valley's personal experience with the car shortage is still on, and he is holding his three cars of cattle up near Cullom. Never mind, Frank just feed them some of the corn that the elevators are unable to ship.
Miss Gertrude Long, who was called to Omaha owing to the illness of her niece, Eldorene Shrader, is still at the home of her sister, Mrs. Robt. Shrader in that city. The little patient has not shown much signs of improvement.
The building fever is on in our midst, and with the opening of spring and the year of 1917 will see more new modern buildings in the town of Murray. No wonder people want a live and build here, good schools, churches, up-to-date stores and housing set of people.
A deal was consummated Wednesday of this week whereby John Wasilik disposed of his interest in the Murray barber shop to Morrill Bartlett, of Imogene, Iowa. John intends to return to his former home in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, where he will enter a new line of business.
Ben Noell took his little son to Omaha the latter part of the week for treatment at the hospital. His tonsils were removed Friday, and this week he undergoes a more serious operation. His many friends hope for the speedy recovery and return home in former good health.
Each of the Murray elevators received another present from the M. P. Ry. Co. in the shape of a little empty box car in which they could place a small quantity of their surplus grain that they have been trying to reach the market with for so these many days. Small favors like this are thankfully received, but they would like to "grab" a whole train.
George W. Young, of Alva, Oklahoma, was a passenger Monday for Omaha, where he spent the day with his brother Bob, who is receiving treatment at the hospital in that city. Mr. Young is getting along as well as could be expected, but it is a pretty tough proposition for a man that has been as active as "Old Bob" to be confined to his bed for such a long time.
It will no doubt be necessary for the Board of Trade of Murray to adopt some very stringent rules regulating the operation of its members. Last Thursday there was quite a scene on the muskrat market and it appeared for some time as if business would be suspended, but the members were able to weather the fluctuation, and the market closed very bearish, although the bulls were very reluctant to let it do so.
One of the greatest improvements that the Missouri Pacific Ry. Co. have bestowed upon the people of Murray and vicinity during the past few years, was the completion of their electric bell signal at the crossing on lower Main street, this week. This improvement carries the latest equipment, the alarm bell also the wiggly, waggie danger signal which can be seen for a quarter of a mile at either night or day. The people of Murray are indeed very grateful to the company for this new safety device.
For some reason or other, more than likely for the lack of enthusiasm, there has not been a meeting of the Murray Commercial Club this winter. For the past two years Murray has enjoyed the distinction of having one of the best clubs in the state for a town of its size. These meetings have resulted in good for the town and community. There is no other one thing that can advertise a town and community to a greater extent than a Commercial Club composed of good live boosters, such as Murray had a short time ago. If the old organization is dead the business men should get together and see that a new one is born. It is up to you, what do you say? Talk it over and let us all get together in the very near future and boost for the Murray Commercial Club.

Mrs. Walker Sans was an Omaha visitor Wednesday of last week.
Fred Campbell delivered his corn to the Farmers Elevator Tuesday.
Mrs. Joseph Burton has been numbered with the sea this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellington, of Omaha, came down to attend the funeral of Mrs. Frank Young.

A number of (dead and alive) attended the funeral of Robt. Frank from Bank Bluffs not far from here.
Meant Shrader has been in the cattle business for some time, having purchased a fine lot of Alex Rhodes.
The Library Association have had for a number of very fine books that will add to the list is a very substantial work.
Jim Hill, who was operated upon for a sprain of the foot a few weeks ago, has completely recovered to be able to return home this week.
Wait Valley departed Monday morning for Omaha, where he will visit his brother, Conrad, who is in the hospital, where he was operated upon.
Bob Dill, one of the country's most successful farmers, shipped a car load of hogs to the South Omaha market this week, and from all reports was much pleased with the price received.
Since the car engine has been broken and Murray has washed a few cars, farmers are holding again and hauling their corn to town. As the present prices seem to be well, will be swelled much above normal. This is one swelling that is always welcome.

Hatt & Tutt who some weeks ago met with the misfortune of having one of the large plate glasses in their store front broken by a couple of smart pranksters, much under the influence of "red" juice, now have a new one installed. The citizens of Murray are very much worked up over this occurrence, and a few more such misdemeanors and a general clean-up will take place.

Harry Creamer went to Omaha Saturday evening where he will spend Sunday with his wife who is at the St. Joseph Hospital.
Rawley Collins from South Missouri is visiting at the home of Henry Schrader and will commence work there the first of March.
Bill Solitt has sold his stock to Bob Smith. He is now ready to leave. Bill has purchased a fine game in Chase county and expects to leave there in a few days.

The little children at the Alex Rhodes home are all sick with Grip having a nurse to assist in taking care of them as the baby has contraction of the lungs and is in a critical condition.
Charley Schwabe having sold his fine farm in this neighborhood will move on their place near Nebraska City. Their many friends and neighbors regret to have them move from their midst.

ANOTHER FINE MALE DUROC.
The Oldham Stock Farm have added a very valuable hog to their herd purchased out of the Deets herd at Kearney, Neb. Deets Illustration is conceded to be the greatest sire in Nebraska at this time, and this is a male pig sired by Illustrator. Deets bred sows averaged $104.00, the top selling at $316.00. This individual, with the Critic, grandson of Critic B., and King's Col., sires of the Oldham herd, makes a good line of breeding as can be found anywhere in the Duroc herd.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH CHIMES.
In the death of Mrs. Sarah Young the church has suffered a great loss. For over fifty years she was a faithful and consistent member. Her zeal and devotion to the cause of Christ was at all times untiring. She is gone but not forgotten. The large crowd present at the funeral was an eloquent tribute of the esteem in which she was held by the people of this community.

MAN SENT TO COUNTY FARM.

This morning an old gentleman who has been staying in the vicinity of Nehawka, was sent to this city by County Commissioner Heebner to be placed in the county farm, but on arriving here it was found that the situation at the farm was such as to make it impossible for him to be cared for at once by Superintendent Tams. The man was in charge of Sheriff Quinton and this official had another problem added to his care in trying provide some suitable quarters for the man until the commissioners could provide for his care at the farm.

NEW AUTO LICENSES REQUIRED.

Yesterday was the last day of grace for the automobile drivers who have not secured their 1917 license numbers, and those who operate under the old numbers of last year will be liable to considerable annoyance. There are very few auto owners, however, who have not already secured their new licenses from the secretary of state and while a number of them have failed to receive their number plates from the state they have paid over the required fee and will have them in a very short time.

Roy Campbell came down from Lincoln yesterday for a few days visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Steinhauer.
