HOUSE DEFERS ACTION ON "DRY" BILL

Measure Taken up at Lincoln. But Members Will Await Congressional Vote on Shipping Bill.
 Lincoln, Feb. 20.—It was before a crowded house that consideration of the prohibition bill, H. R. 793 was taken this morning in the lower branch of the Nebraska legislature.
 Upon motion of Norton of Polk, the house went into committee of the whole with Speaker Jackson in the chair for consideration of the prohibition bill. The bill was taken up section by section and the committee amendments read pertaining to each section and the amendments took up two hours, and the further consideration of the bill was put over for special order for Tuesday, the 27th.
 There was little or no demonstration when the bill was being read, although closely watched by its backers. A delegation from Alvo, composed of high school boys and girls under care of Prof. Worley and chaperoned by Mrs. Murty, wife of the Cass county member, occupied a place near the chair of Mr. Murty.

 A Bone Dry Measure.
 There is every indication that the bill will leave the house a "bone dry law," but just how far it will get on the other end of the building is problematical. Chairman Norton of the dry committee which drew the bill, is said to favor a bone dry law, although the bill does not so provide. An amendment will be added providing for this.
 One of the amendments to the bill which the committee recommended adds an appropriation of $50,000 for the use of the governor in enforcing the law.
 In making the bill a special order for a week from today, it is said members of the house and also the governor are anxious that congress take some action on its bill prohibiting the shipment of liquor into dry states, before the Nebraska legislature takes final action.
 That there will be a fight on the floor of the house over whether the law shall be bone dry, is admitted. The senate will probably decide the issue.
Vote Today in Washington.
 Washington, Feb. 20.—The senate measure forbidding shipment of liquor into prohibition states, even where state laws authorize such shipments for personal use, will come to a vote in the house tomorrow with both wet and dry advocates divided among themselves as to the expediency of its passage.

 Those favoring the provision which was written into the annual postal appropriation bill by the senate, declare it will pass with votes to spare.
 In addition to making "bone dry," about a score of states which now forbid the manufacture or sale of liquor, but permit its importation for personal use, the senate amendment would bar liquor advertisements from the mails in states where such advertising is prohibited.
 Representative Moon will open the fight on the prohibition amendment tomorrow with a motion that the house disagree on it. Representative Randall of California, the only prohibitionist member, will lead the opposition to this motion and a compromise proposal probably will be submitted, modifying the amendment so that it would apply only to states which have themselves legislated to bar liquor shipments. A long and vigorous debate is expected before a vote is taken.

BELLEVEUE GIRLS GO ON A STRIKE

Revolt Against Bible Course—President Upholds Them.
 Omaha, Neb., Feb. 20.—A class of ten academy girls of Bellevue college has revolted against taking further Bible instruction under Miss Alice M. Barton, dean of women of the suburban Presbyterian college. Rev. William Ramsay Kerr, D. D., president of the institution, however, says he will not punish the revolting students or force them to attend the class, which was scheduled as part of the required work.
 "I don't blame the girls," explains Dr. Kerr. "We'll discontinue the class for the rest of the school year."
 Rumors that Miss Barton had been asked to resign, or that her orthodoxy was questioned, were flatly denied both by her and Dr. Kerr.
 "My teaching of the Bible is not exactly what would be called 'old line'," says Miss Barton. "I have followed the historical method. I expect to continue my teaching and remain as dean of women for the term of my present year's contract with Bellevue."
 Dr. Kerr says this is Miss Barton's first experience as a Bible teacher in a denominational college, and that her teaching of the scriptures might be more positive. He also indicated that "lack tact" had been shown by the dean of women in handling Bellevue girls and their young men callers.

UNCLE SAM WANTS TRAINED OFFICERS

Men With Technical Knowledge Would Be Greatest Need in Case of War.
 New York, Feb. 20.—Study to be a reserve officer!
 If war comes and you have brains and ability in leadership, you will not serve your country well by enlisting as a private.
 It is well to be modest, but Uncle Sam needs officers.
 He needs men who are willing to think, to study and to take responsibility.
 Shouldering a musket is not doing your full duty if you are capable of more.
 This is a message sent out by the war department and echoed by the Military Training Camps association, the latter an association of graduates from the Plattsburgh and other civilian training camps.
 If the president calls for volunteers there will be immediately needed 25,000 reserve officers.
 Today the number of reserve officers commissioned is less than a thousand. About 3,000 men are attending various voluntary schools of instruction in different parts of the country and studying, with a view to taking the reserve officer examinations. These examinations will be held at short intervals.
 What the need is appears in the following extract from a circular issued by the New York office of the association:
 "A conference with the war department officially developed the fact that the special need of service today in the officers' reserve corps is as follows:
 "In the line, first and second lieutenants more particularly. This is the first and most immediate need, and men within the proper age limits are urged to qualify themselves to take examinations for these ranks particularly.
 "For older men and specialists, the situation is as follows:
 "The quartermaster's department, in case of an increase of the army, would need large numbers of men with the rank of captain, who have had large business experience, particularly in purchasing supplies of various kinds. The special needs are men with experience in motor cars, to take charge of motor trucks, motor car and motorcycle companies; also men with experience in transportation and navigation companies, for duty on transports and docks for overseas service.
 "Engineer corps—The engineering societies are in touch with the war department on this situation where they need men for the younger officers more especially.
 "Signal corps—The telephone branch is well cared for, but they would like to have men qualified in telegraph and radio work.
 "Ordnance corps—Here some mechanical engineers and a few electrical engineers are needed for work in munition factories and as inspectors, and some chemists who work in explosive plants; also men now in munitions and manufacturing plants, with administrative capacity and experience.
 "Judge advocate general's department—This corps is very small. The needs are not great, and the only men who are wanted are those who have had experience in international and military law."
DR. BLEICK.
 Dr. Bleick, 532 World-Herald building, Omaha, specialist in eye, ear, nose and throat diseases, will be at Plattsmouth every Tuesday, at B. A. McElwain jewelry store. Eye glasses scientifically fitted.

FROM PERU NORMAL

Miss Susan Harmon, who teaches in the English department, received her A. B. degree from the University of Nebraska last week.
 Prof. F. C. Smith has recently been appointed a member of a committee to outline a state course of study in manual training. This committee is working under the endorsement of the state superintendent.
 Dr. Winship, editor of the Journal of Education, Boston, Mass., will deliver the principal address at the dedication of the new training building on Saturday, June 2. It is probable that Dr. Winship has delivered more educational addresses than any other man in the United States.
 The State Normal will be joined by the Masonic lodge of Peru in the semi-centennial celebration next June, this being the fiftieth anniversary for both these organizations. A committee of Masons has just completed a program to be given June 5. Invitations will be extended to every Masonic lodge in the state.
 The girls' glee club gave one of their annual splendid concerts on last Wednesday evening. The musical Monitor of February contains pictures of the Girls' Glee club, the Men's Glee club and Dr. House, the director. The following is a part of the notice printed by the Monitor: "One of the most efficient leaders in community music work in western Nebraska is Dr. Homer C. House of the Peru State Normal school, Peru. Dr. House demonstrates by means of his splendid glee clubs (among the finest in the west) and his chorus, which annually assists in the May festival, that 'community music' is not a fad, but a very helpful and pleasant addition to the life of any city. Peru's festival is one of the great musical events in eastern Nebraska."
 Last week closed one of Peru's most successful basketball seasons, the last games being played here Friday night. The second team played Auburn High school and the first team played Doane college. This week the first team boys are out on a tour through different parts of the state.
