

Some Ford Facts!

Mr. Farmer and Mr. Business Man:

Don't get the idea that your neighbor is joining the "Lonesome Club" when he buys a Ford car...

You have only to take notice of the automobiles that are travelling when the roads are deep with mud...

Now when you were using the driving team you did not think it necessary to keep a team and carriage costing from $1,200 to $1,500...

Then why are not the same arguments true of the every day automobile. All you get out of a car anyway, is the trip to town, to church, to your neighbors...

Mr. Owner of the big expensive automobile, just keep your eyes on your neighbor who owns a Ford. How many times a year does he get out his driving team and leave the Ford at home on account of bad roads?

And then as you go to town slowly behind the faithful old driving team, the Ford scots gaily by you thru the mud like streaks of greased lightning...

So when you take into account the cost of depreciation on the big cars, the expense and gasoline consumption, can't you see its economy to own a Ford for your every day running around...

Mr. Farmer who does not own a car. Sell your driving team and buy the best and only car in the world for your every day use, a Ford.

We have sold Ford cars to the following people in our territory since the latter part of August 1916.

- Frank Vallery, J. W. Holmes, Glen Vallery, John S. Vallery, Henry Rice, Chris Schomaker, Lincoln Telephone Co., C. H. Wiles, Lloyd Capen, Z. W. Shradler, A. W. Smith, Jas. D. Earhart, C. L. Shumaker, Ben Hankinson, Wm. H. Carpenter, F. H. Johnson, Mrs. Mary Becker, Drs. Brendel & Brendel, C. L. Wiles, Fred Haffke, A. J. Trilley, D. C. Pienzenaugh, P. H. Meisinger, Jr., John F. Stander, Earl C. Wiles, Ernest Ahl, Troy E. Wiles, Miles M. Allen.

- Rudolph Heil, C. P. Cook, Jeff Salberg, Russel Stander, Paul Jung, Tom A. Tennant, Philip Hennings, Geo. L. Meisinger, E. G. Dovey & Son, Fred Peterson, A. W. Leonard, J. O. Ward, Will Oliver, Jr., C. R. Hutchison, C. D. Spangler, Chris Parkening, F. T. Wilson, W. F. Gillespie, Fred W. Meisinger, Dr. G. H. Gilmore, Jesse Terryberry, Adam J. Shafer, Chas. L. Creamer, J. E. Gruber, E. W. Elliott, Phil T. Becker, J. W. Harrington.

There is a big shortage of Ford cars again this year and the Ford Company will furnish us cars only on signed orders from actual purchasers.

PRICES:

Runabout, $345, Touring Car $360, Coupelet $505, Town Car $595, Sedan $645, f. o. b. Detroit.

T. H. Pollock Auto Co.,

Authorized Sales and Service, 6th Street, Plattsmouth, Neb. Office Telephone No. 1. Shop Telephone No. 58.

The reliability and practical usefulness of Ford cars is best proved by the great number in daily use. Ford owners drive their cars all the year around.

Bargains in Used Ford Cars.

T. H. Pollock Auto Co., Sixth Street, Plattsmouth, Neb.

"THE GIRL HE COULD NOT BUY" HERE THURSDAY EVE SURE

"The Girl He Couldn't Buy" which failed to fulfill the engagement at the Parmele theatre on Saturday evening last, will be here on Thursday evening, March 8th, according to the latest advices received by Manager Charles Peterson.

MRS. A. B. FORNOFF CELEBRATES HER BIRTHDAY

The pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Fornoff, in the Cullom neighborhood was the scene of a most delightful gathering on Friday last, when a number of the relatives and friends gathered to assist Mrs. Fornoff in celebrating her forty-seventh birthday anniversary.

AUTO GETS SMASHED UP

Late Saturday evening a Ford car driven by a gentleman named Campbell met with a severe accident on Washington avenue near the Heisel mill, as the car was coming east on that thoroughfare and the steering gear not operating properly the driver was unable to control the car and it crashed into the curb, badly injuring two of the wheels and putting the machine out of commission.

GOES TO OMAHA HOSPITAL

This morning Charles Wolf of near Murray was taken to Omaha, where he will be given treatment at the Presbyterian hospital in that city for heart trouble, from which he has been a sufferer for some time. He was taken to the hospital by Homer Shradler in his auto, and was accompanied by Dr. G. H. Gilmore, Mrs. Wolfe and Mrs. Jennie Shradler.

CARD OF THANKS.

We the undersigned wish to express through the Journal our sincere appreciation of neighborly comfort and assistance during our hour of trial and death of beloved Mother Edgerton; especially are we thankful to the ladies of the W. R. C. in the time of our need; to the neighbors, and the Order of Eagles we express our sincere appreciation and full thanks.

- Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Edgerton. Mr. and Mrs. George Edgerton. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Edgerton. John McDaniel. William McDaniel. Martin McDaniel. Thomas McDaniel.

From out our lives to the great unknown, A mother's life in spirit flown; In mute despair on the brink we stand, To gaze beyond to the promised land.

No echo there, the night is still, Hearts bowed low emotions fill; Good-bye dear mother, thy spirit fled To the great beyond, where angels tread.

MUST BE SOLD

By Saturday, a sideboard, sewing machine, washing machine and other articles. Inquire of George Oldham at 9th and Rock Sts. 3-5-3td weekly tonight

Good furnished room for rent—heated—reasonable. Phone 200.

TWELVE SENATORS DEFY CONGRESS

Senator Hitchcock, Wilson's Spokesman, Denounces Filibuster Led by La Follette and Stone.

Opposition Maintains Stand Till Sixty-Fourth Congress Adjourns Despite 26 Hours of Pleas That Action Means Humiliation to America.

The twelve senators who halt action in greatest crisis since the civil war: Republicans.

- Clapp of Minnesota. Cummins of Iowa. Gronna of North Dakota. Kenyon of Iowa. La Follette of Wisconsin. Norris of Nebraska. Works of California.

- Democrats. Kirby of Arkansas. Lane of Oregon. O'Gorman of New York. Stone of Missouri. Vardaman of Mississippi.

Washington, D. C., March 4.—Twelve senators, led by Senator La Follette and encouraged by Senator Stone, democratic chairman of the foreign relations committee, in a filibuster denounced by President Wilson's spokesmen as the most reprehensible in the history of any civilized nation, defied the will of an overwhelming majority in congress up to the last minute today, and denied to the president a law authorizing him to arm American merchant ships to meet the German submarine menace.

Unyielding throughout twenty-six hours of continuous session, to appeals that their defiance of the president would be humiliating to the country; uncompromising in a crisis described to them as the most serious to the nation since the civil war. La Follette and his small group of supporters refused a majority of their colleagues an opportunity to vote on the armed neutrality bill and it died with the Sixty-fourth congress at noon.

To fix responsibility before the country, seventy-six senators, thirty republicans and forty-six democrats, signed a manifesto proclaiming to the world that they favored passage of the measure.

This declaration, embodied in the record of the senate, referred to the fact that the house, Thursday night, had passed a similar bill, by a vote of 403 to 13, and also recited that the senate rule permitting unlimited debate gave a small minority opportunity to throttle the will of the majority.

Thirteen senators declined to sign the declaration, but Senator Penrose, republican of Pennsylvania, announced that he would have voted for the bill had the opportunity been afforded him.

Hours before the end senators who fought throughout the night to break down the filibuster, conceived a way to thwart La Follette's well laid plans to occupy the center of the legislative stage at the climax of the bitter fight. Its execution brought the session to a dramatic end, with La Follette fighting vainly for a chance to deliver a speech on which he had worked many days.

He saw friends of the doomed legislation inflict the death blow which he planned.

Hitchcock Folds La Follette. Instead of La Follette, Senator Hitchcock, leader of the majority in favor of the bill, talked out the waning hours of the session.

Timing his opportunity to the minute, Senator La Follette entered the senate chamber shortly after 9 o'clock this morning, prepared to take the center of the stage for the last act of the tragedy.

When the moment he had chosen arrived he addressed the chair, but Senator Hitchcock prevented his recognition.

The forensic struggle which ensued seldom if ever had been equaled in the history of the senate.

Voices were strained to shrieking; threatening fists were shaken at the presiding officer, while the crowded floor and galleries looked on breathlessly.

Nebraska's Denouncement. But the incident soon passed without violence. The chair recognized senator Hitchcock, and Senator La Follette's opportunity was snatched away.

Ten minutes before the end Senator Hitchcock had made his last appeal for unanimous consent for a vote on the bill. La Follette objected. The Nebraska senator, prefacing his closing remarks with a portion of the president's address to congress asking for the authority about to be denied, solemnly said:

"It is unfortunate and deplorable that twelve men in the senate of the United States have it in their power to defeat the will of seventy-five or eighty members by one of the most reprehensible filibusters ever recorded in the history of any civilized country."

Hour Strikes; All Ends.

As the Nebraska's words echoed through the chamber, La Follette stolidly glared toward the speaker, who presently added, that perhaps he should apologize for the violence of his words.

"You are perfectly safe," La Follette returned, without rising from his chair. "No one can answer you."

No one did, for the hour of noon had struck and the Sixty-fourth congress was ended.

La Follette Pays Price.

Before the manifesto was presented many democratic and republican leaders worked unceasingly to prevent the inevitable defeat of the bill. After midnight they practically abandoned the fight and prepared the manifesto to record the real sentiment of the senate on the subject.

The defeated senators determined to make Senator La Follette pay for his coup by sacrificing the crowning fruits of his victory.

The plan to prevent him from delivering his address to the senate was made quietly in the cloak rooms and the time was fixed for 10 o'clock this morning, when most of the senators would be back in the chamber ready for adjournment.

La Follette, looking fresh and eager entered the chamber while Senator Owen was speaking. When Senator Owen started to take his seat, both Hitchcock and La Follette addressed the chair.

Senator Saulsbury, presiding, under the rules would be compelled to recognize the man who addressed him first. The chair recognized Senator Hitchcock, but La Follette interrupted.

La Follette Interrupts.

"At 8 o'clock this morning," he said, "when I sought recognition, I was told that when the vice president left the chair he had left a list with the names of two senators upon it who might be recognized before I could be recognized. They were Senators Owen and Hitchcock."

"I recall that sometimes these lists are disregarded by presiding officers, and I would like to know if I am to be recognized."

Senator Robinson immediately made a point of order that it was not a proper inquiry under the senate rules.

La Follette Issues Defy.

"I do not care," La Follette shouted, "what point of order the senator makes."

The Arkansas senator insisted on addressing the chair again and La Follette moved out into the center aisle and down into the well, before the clerk's desk.

The almost deserted senate chamber quickly began to fill. Democrats hurried in to enjoy the spectacle of a filibuster pitted against a filibuster. La Follette, quickly sensing the situation, raised his voice almost to a shriek and shaking his forefinger menacingly at Senator Saulsbury, shouted:

"I will continue on the floor until I complete my statement unless somebody carries me off the floor, and I would like to see the man do it."

Before La Follette could conclude the sentence, Senator Robinson leaped to his feet and stamped down the aisle on the democratic side shouting demands that his point of order be sustained and that La Follette be forced to his seat.

La Follette Overwhelmed.

Senator Saulsbury promptly sustained the point of order and La Follette as promptly appealed from his ruling. Senator Robinson quickly moved to table La Follette's appeal—an undebatable motion—and there the cup against La Follette was clinched.

"The eyes and noses," shouted Senator Ashurst. His name heads the list and always starts the roll call.

"Ashurst," called the clerk, while La Follette frantically appealed for the recognition which he saw was doomed.

Ashurst responded with a roaring "Aye."

The motion carried, 52 to 15.

Thus beaten in his plan to talk the bill to death, La Follette was forced to sit and hear Senator Hitchcock discuss the measure until congress expired.

Hitchcock Seeks Vote.

Shortly after 11 o'clock Senator Hitchcock proposed an agreement for a vote on the house bill at 11:30. Senator Stone said he objected to the bill, but not to voting on it.

"I object now and will object again as often as the request is made," said Senator La Follette.

"The senator from Wisconsin is constantly violating the rules of the senate," interjected Senator Williams.

A Great Dairy Invention THE NEW SHARPLES SUCTION-FEED Separator gets a new profit for dairymen, a big one, which no other existing separator gets. Another big feature, you can turn faster and finish the job quicker. It's the only separator that can be hauled.

"IN A BAD WAY" Many a Plattsmouth Reader Will Feel Grateful for This Information. If your back gives out; Becomes lame, weak or aching; If urinary troubles set in; Perhaps your kidneys are "in a bad way."

A FINE LITTLE DAUGHTER. This morning the stork paid a visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Slavick in the west portion of the city, and left in their care a fine little daughter. The advent of the little one has brought much joy to the members of the family and the happiness of the parents and two little sisters is unbounded.

LARGE NUMBER OF AUTOS. Saturday was one of the best days enjoyed by the business houses of the city and the number of residents from the country districts was exceptionally large. There were ninety-six automobiles counted on the streets at one time and the total number that were driven in here was a great deal larger as they were going and coming all afternoon.

ANOTHER LITTLE LADY ARRIVES. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Sedlock, in the west part of the city, was made happy on Saturday by the arrival of a fine little baby girl, who has come to make her home with them in the future, and it is unnecessary to say that the event has brought a great deal of pleasure to all members of the family.

STORY HOUR NOTICE. Miss Anna Rys will tell the stories at the Children's Story Hour at the Carnegie library Wednesday afternoon at 3:30.

EASTERN STAR NOTICE. The Eastern Star lodge will meet in regular session tomorrow, Tuesday evening, at their lodge rooms at 7:30. All members are requested to be present.

Want ad will bring what you want in a week.

Parmele Theatre! March 8 one performance only—THURSDAY NIGHT. Can a Girl Live an Honest an Upright Life on Six Dollars a Week? "The Girl He Couldn't Buy!" A Powerful Story of New York Life! No mother or daughter, especially those who have to earn their own livelihood, can afford to miss this great problem play! SEATS 25c to $1.00 Seats on Sale at Weyrich & Hadraba's 7:30 p. m. Tuesday