UNCOVER GERMAN PLAN TO FOIL NEUTRALITY

American Secret Service Men Slowly Unravel Extensive Plot to Arouse American Opinion.

WAR FUNDS WENT ASTRAY

Suspect Network of Hidden Wireless Systems Constructed at Great Expense With German Money.

New York, March 11.—The United States secret service net, reaching into all sections of the country, is slowly gathering in parts of an alleged German machine that was put together in Wilhelmstrasse to violate American neutrality or work against its interest in case of war.

Arrests in New York, Chicago and Philadelphia today, and in Los Angeles yesterday, showed the extent of the federal operations.

The district attorney's office announced today that revelations of a German agent established that the kaiser has been levying a war tax on his subjects in this country. Accredited representatives of Germany, it is said, have systematically assessed Germans in America and have collected millions of dollars. The spending of this money will be one of the objects of the grand jury probe already begun. Officials do not believe the money was sent to Berlin.

Indications that a huge German fund was in existence during the recent elections, to secure the election of federal and state officials who would be favorable to German enterprises, are being probed.

Wulf to Philadelphia.

Chicago, March 11.—Federal officials here probably will take Fritz Wulf, German suspect, to Philadelphia tomorrow. Prominent Germans, some of them known to have been identified with German propagandist movements in the past, have called upon Wulf at the county jail. They refuse to give any information concerning him. Wulf also maintains absolute silence.

Wulf and the investigators were closeted in the federal building practically the entire day. Since his arrest at the request of Investigator Clabaugh last night, the prisoner has been constantly guarded by secret service operatives. A number of pro-German sympathizers are under surveillance and additional arrests are expected. Wulf, if that is his name, has worked in Cleveland about a year.

LAST LECTURE COURSE NUMBER

On Wednesday night at the Parmele theater there will be given the last number of the high school lecture course, by Miss Therese Davault, reader and entertainer. In her offering are selections from "The Melting Pot" by Zangwell, "The Music Master" by Klein, "Peg o' My Heart" by Manners, "Polly of the Circus" and Charles Dickens' "Christmas Carol." This will be one of the most popular numbers of the entire course and those who attend can rest assured of having an evening of high class entertainment. The Mack-Mae company that is appearing this week at the Parmele, will not show on Wednesday evening, leaving the date open for the lecture course.

WINDOW GETS BROKEN.

From Saturday's Daily. Last evening while a driver of an automobile was endeavoring to drive through the doorway at the Manner's garage on lower Main street, the machine failed to hold to the track to the door and crashed into the side of the doorway, breaking the glass window adjoining the door and splintering up the woodwork considerable. The car fortunately was provided with a fender that saved it from getting badly damaged.

unoccupied portion of them for their lumber yard. Whether they intend to build a hotel in the place of the Platte Valley we do not know, but it looks very much to us if the man who put up a first-class hotel, here would be making a good investment.

Board of Trade Meeting.

Agreeably to a call very many of our business men met at the Court House on Saturday evening last, to organize a Board of Trade.
 Dr. E. R. Livingston was called to the chair, and A. W. McLaughlin elected Secretary, D. H. Wheeler and others set forth the objects of the meeting and there was a sort of a general confab on our situation and what should be done this ensuing year. A motion that the temporary organization be retained until a permanent body could be organized was carried, and a committee of seven appointed on Constitution and By-laws as follows: Messrs Wheeler, C. H. Parmele, Jno. Waterman, J. V. Weckbach, F. E. White, M. L. White, F. Gorder
 A number then signed the list of

THE MACK-MAE FAVORITES AT THE PARMELE TONIGHT

The Mack-Mae stock company arrived this morning to open their five night's engagement at the Parmele theatre and will afford a treat to the lover of the dramatic art. This company is one of the best stock organizations making the smaller towns and are even better this season than they were last summer when they appeared at the Air Dome in this city. Mr. Mack and Miss Mae who were such favorites with the theatre goers of the city during their stay here, are anticipating another pleasant time with the Plattsmouth people and will do their utmost, together with the other members of the company to provide high class entertainment for those who attend the performances. The opening bill tonight will be the pleasing comedy drama, "Pretty Peggy O'Neil" and is one of the most delightful Irish comedies on the stage today, and one that is free from all suggestiveness that is found in so many of the late plays. It is a charming little story and in the hands of the Mack-Mae company will be given a pleasing presentation.
