PRESBYTERIAN LADIES

The Ladies Auxilliary of the Pres byterian church were very pleasantly entertained by Mesdames G. K. Staats J. T. Baird and Adah Moore, yesterday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Stants. This being their regular meetbusiness session was held, at which ing a very lengthy and interesting ime a great deal of business was ransacted, and taking up the greater portion of the afternoon. After the business session the ladies indulged in a delightful social time, some very industrously plying the busy needle and others engaging in various amusements, which made this afternoon's intertainment most enjoyable to the arge number in attendance. A densing feature of the afternoon and one very much enjoyed and appreciated by the guests, was a number of rocal selections rendered by Mr. and Mrs. McCluskey. At a convenient ime the hostesses served dainty refreshments, which were likewise enloved. A few moments were devoted to social conversation and then at the usual hour the ladies dispersed very much indebted to the hostesses for the delightful afternoon they had enjoyed venient for the hundreds of cars that Mrs. Agnes Chapman of Lincoln was a guest of the ladies.
