DAN CUPID AGAIN GETS IN HIS WORK

Mr. Frederick Tschirren and Miss Helen Kaffenberger Married By Rev. Steger Yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the parsonage of the St. Paul's Evangelical church occurred the wedding of two of the popular young people of this section of Cass county, Mr. Frederick Tschirren and Miss Helen Kaffenberger. The wedding was a quiet one, the marriage ceremony being performed by Rev. J. H. Steger, pastor of the church, and only the attendants, Miss Margaret Kaffenberger, sister of the bride, and Mr. Herman Graham, with the members of the Steger family were present to witness the nuptials of these two estimable young people.

Following the wedding services in this city a reception was given the bridal couple at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kaffenberger, west of the city, and which was attended by a very large number of the friends from this section of Cass county. The royal hospitality that is so characteristic of the Kaffenberger home was in evidence at the reception last evening and the feast prepared was one fit for a king with the good things provided for the inner man, and those who were in attendance enjoyed the event to the utmost. Mr. and Mrs. Tschirren as remembrances of the friends received a large number of rich and handsome presents that will be treasured by them in their new home in the years to come.

Both of the contracting parties have been reared to manhood and womanhood in this community and none are held higher in the esteem of their friends than these two who have just joined their lives as one. The bride is the charming and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kaffenberger and is a lady whose friends are only limited by the number of her acquaintances. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Tschirren, who reside near this city, and is one of the enterprising young farmers of this portion of Cass county and a man of high character in every way.

Mr. and Mrs. Tschirren will make their home on a farm west of the city, where their new home is just nearing completion, and here they will be at home to their many friends in the future. The Journal joins with the other friends throughout the county in wishing them a long and very happy married life through all the years to come, and an old age free from care and sorrow.

THIRTY-FIVE YOUNG MEN SIGNED FOR COMPANY HERE

The meeting called last evening at the rest room to discuss the probability of the formation of a company of national guard or volunteers in this city, was largely attended, there being in the neighborhood of 150 present. The keenest interest was taken in the meeting by the young men. It is still uncertain yet as to whether or not the city could secure a company in the Fifth Nebraska to fill up one of the companies that is not recruited to its full strength, but if one is secured there is but little doubt but that plenty of men could be secured for enlistment as the sentiment is strong in this direction in the city and surrounding country. The meeting was addressed by the captain of Company C, of the Fourth regiment that is stationed in this city and he gave it as his opinion that the chance of getting into the Fifth would be the only course open.

At the meeting thirty-five signers were secured for the proposed company and the boys signing the list are very desirous of seeing the company organized and a great many additional applications for enrollment are being received.

The fact that congress considers very strongly the call for volunteer service to recruit the army gives great hopes that the company if organized would be at once accepted into the service of the country, but this of course will lay with the federal authorities who will have full charge of securing the volunteers and mustering them into service if the plan is adopted.

THE DISTRICT COURT DISPOSES OF TWO CASES

In the district court one of the celebrated Lund Land cases has been disposed of by Judge Begley in the case of Casper F. Raasch vs. the Lund Land company, et al., and has resulted in a victory for the plaintiff Mr. Raasch, under the decision of the court. The decision is against the defendant and it is ordered that H. C. Ainoh re-convey the land in question in the suit to Mr. Raasch without further delay by a warranty deed or that the decree will operate at a conveyance of the land. This is the close of one of the many suits of this kind that have been filed in the district court in this county by parties seeking to have their property restored by claiming fraudulent representations made to induce them to trade.

In the divorce suit of Henrietta Wiles vs. Everett Wiles the court ordered a decree of divorce separating the two parties to the suit and dissolving the ties of matrimony. The evidence of the plaintiff and witnesses were taken and the decree granted on the grounds of non-support and cruelty.
