Last evening Mrs. F. M. Although suffering a great deal from the shock she was able to go to the house of a neighbor, where medical assistance was summoned, and it was decided to bring her to this city, where an examination failed to disclose any broken bones and the only wound apparent was that in the forehead. Mrs. Young was taken back home but it will be some time before she fully recovers from the effects of the injuries received in the fall.

VERY PECULIAR AND SERIOUS ACCIDENT

Robert Shrader, While Removing a Family to Fort Crook, Loses Auto and Contents From Fire.

A very unusual incident that led to the destruction of an auto-truck belonging to Robert Shrader, is reported from Omaha, where Mr. Shrader is now located, and engaged in the transfer business. It seems that Mr. Shrader was engaged to move a family from South Omaha to Fort Crook and, last Monday, started to make the trip. One load had been sent on and Mr. Shrader loaded the piano and a number of rugs and other smaller articles in the auto truck for hauling to Fort Crook. It seems there was a box containing several flat irons placed on the truck, and someone carelessly threw a box of matches in the box with the flat irons. The jar and movement of the truck along the road caused the irons to toss about in the box and caused the matches to ignite. Mr. Shrader, who was driving the truck, did not notice the fire as the wind was blowing from the direction he was traveling and prevented the smoke from attracting his attention. He noticed, however, that several parties residing along the road were trying to attract his attention, but thought they were just waving at him for a joke and kept right on traveling along. Finally when near Fort Crook a farmer and his wife came rushing out to the road, and their frantic gestures and cries caused Mr. Shrader to stop, when he discovered that the rear of the truck with the piano and other articles was all ablaze, and just as he jumped from the burning truck the gasoline tank exploded, completing the work of destruction of the
