THE MOTERING PUBLIC, THE COURT OF LAST RESORT in all things having to do with motor cars, has definitely accepted the valve-in-head moter as being the nearest to perfection in internal combuston motors that has yet been achieved.

The experience of thousands of Buick valve-in-head owners has taught them that this type of motor gives the least vibration, the greatest flexibility, power and efficiency.

For sixteen years Buick has been steadily building and perfecting valve-in-head motor cars, with the result that to-day it is generally understood that valve-in-head means Buick.

The line of Buick six-cylinder valve-in-head automobiles now offered the buying public is a complete one - a car to suit every need, and day in the year.

With a Buick you get service that is built into the car at the great Buick Factories, where the best material is accurately made into parts carefully assembled into the complete car, assuring a minimum amount of attention to keep your Buick in condition to all times give complete motoring pleasure and satisfaction.
