

JOHN RICHARDSON MINUS GOOD AUTO

Stolen From Near the Court House Last Night, and Two Suspects Arrested in Omaha.

From Friday's Daily.

Last night, shortly before 10 o'clock, John Richardson, the ferry man, discovered that he was shy one perfectly good Ford automobile which he had parked on North Fourth street near the court house. As soon as the loss of the car was discovered by Mr. Richardson he notified Sheriff Quinton and Chief of Police Barclay, who started a search for the machine. A clue was found as to the parties having started for the wagon bridge north of the city over the Platte river, and Sheriff Quinton at once proceeded in pursuit of the parties. On reaching Omaha Sheriff Quinton received additional information that led him to place two very suspicious characters under arrest and lodging them in the Omaha jail to await further developments, but so far the missing car has not been located. From the description of the parties arrested in Omaha they tally with that of two men who were seen in this city shortly after the arrival of train No. 14 over the Burlington from Omaha, and that they were here for a short time only. Chief Barclay gathered what information was possible, called the sheriff in Omaha, and the two men were placed in jail. They were unable to give a very clear account of their whereabouts from 8 o'clock until 11 and this would have given them time to visit this city, get the car and make their getaway back to the metropolis. This morning Ben Rainey was sent to Omaha to identify the men if possible as those whom he had seen in this city last evening. It would seem that these parties have been here several times and a number of persons saw them last evening on the street before the car was missing, and this points strongly to the fact that the authorities have a pretty straight line on the right persons. Efforts are being made to locate the car of Mr. Richardson before the persons receiving it get away from this part of the state with it. From the earmarks of the job it would seem the work of the same gang that has stolen so many cars in Omaha during the past year. Sheriff Quinton returned this afternoon from Omaha, accompanied by Ben Rainey and bringing with him the two men, who will be arraigned here on the charge of stealing the auto of Mr. Richardson. The missing car was located in Omaha late this morning by Sheriff Quinton, having been left in charge of a third party by the men taking the machine, and the car was brought back here to be restored to the owner of the machine.

From Friday's Daily. The firm of J. H. McMaken & Sons have a very fine display of the Buick automobiles, of which they are the agents, as well as the famous G. M. C. truck and the Kelly-Springfield tires, of which they are representatives. The store and sales room is located for the present in the White building on Main street and during the carnival has been the point of interest for a great many of the visitors to the city from out of town. It is the intention of this firm to have a first class modern garage erected in the near future, but for the present they will use the White building for their sales room. For those interested in autos a trip to the Buick headquarters is well worth the time spent.

FOOD INSPECTOR IN PLATTSMOUTH

In His Sanitary Inspection He Does Not Find Things Altogether As They Should Be, and Says So.

From Saturday's Daily.

The conditions in the sanitary line throughout the city have been looked into by Henry L. Fillman, state pure food inspector. In speaking of this Mr. Fillman says: "Last week I had the pleasure of visiting Plattsmouth as a representative of the Nebraska pure food department of which Governor Neville is commissioner and Otto Murschell is deputy. "Not to pass bouquets, let me compliment the city for its general sanitary condition, and for having a set of business men who are agreeable to meet, and who as a rule are trying to live up to the enforcement of the sanitary food law. However, I want to warn you that everything is not perfect, and that those who have been warned will operate contrary to law at their own peril. "I found some back yards in bad condition, garbage having been exposed apparently for weeks. Now, the law is very specific regarding waste products subject to decomposition and fermentation, and specifies that garbage cans must be provided in which to place such refuse, and must be used regularly. I found in one back yard not only garbage but dead rats. Such conditions are absolutely unjustifiable and will not be tolerated. "Restaurants, groceries, bakeries, hotels and other places where food and drinks are served and sold, must at all times be clean. Shelves and counters must be dusted and kept clean. The floors must be kept clean, and paper, dirt, boxes and other refuse must not be shoved under counters or shelves. Such practices are conducive to carelessness. Get the clean-up and clean-out habit, like all good housekeepers have. Don't forget that all perishable goods must be protected against dirt, flies and dust, such as dried fruits, cheese, butter, meats, pastries, etc. This is a never ending exaction of the law and its non-compliance by any dealer should be reported to the pure food department. Any complaints that come to the department are held in the strictest confidence, so that no one need have any fear about making complaint. We appreciate complaints that are honestly made, but do not court complaints that come from prejudiced sources. My home is in Polk county, which is up the Platte river something like 100 miles. To know that Plattsmouth derives its name from that dear old river draws the bonds of affection to your city still more closely. HENRY L. FILLMAN, Sanitary and Food Inspector.

SOLDIER BOYS WIN IN BASEBALL GAME

Yesterday afternoon the members of Company C, of the Fourth Nebraska, which is stationed on guard duty at the bridge in this city, made themselves felt in the realm of the great American game of baseball when they trounced the team representing the Tom W. Allen Shows by a score of 10 to 6 before a very enthusiastic audience at the Red Sox ball park. The game was one filled with a great deal of ginger throughout and several times the lead of the soldiers was threatened by the carnival company team, but by playing the game tight in the last innings, the boys from the military camp were able to stop the onrush of the amusement promoters. The soldiers possessed plenty of ginger in their playing and the batting of Dailey and Rasneick were especial features of the conflict, while in the fielding department Pavlick, the catcher of the army team, proved a stone wall for his team mates and held down the carnival team. Dailey opened the game for the army and was able to keep the carnival boys guessing for the innings he was in the box, but was touched for several hits, which, with errors, allowed the visitors an opportunity to score. His stick work, however, was a large contributor to the victory of the soldier boys and in this department Rasneick was also on the job, with a few badly needed and timely pokes of the pill. Kennedy, of the soldiers, also was able to nab two badly needed hits. Johnson at second, while having several errors, was able at critical times to grab a few of the drives of the visitors that looked good for runs. For the carnival company Bemis, the pitcher, was the bright particular star of the game, while Kaufman was the most successful in batting. Cross, in center field, saved his team from a heavier score by two good catches. The tabulated score of the game was as follows:

Patristism and Business. Every good citizen at this time should do his share toward strengthening the Federal Reserve Banking System which our Government has created with its billion dollars of resources to stand back of its members banks and their depositors. You can contribute directly to the strength of this system, and at the same time secure its protection by depositing your money with us, since part of every dollar you deposit with us goes directly into the new system, where it is always ready for you when needed. This is a suggestion for prompt action. FIRST NATIONAL BANK - The only National Bank in Plattsmouth -

THE EAGLES BELIEVE IN INSURING MEMBERS WHO GO INTO THE U. S. ARMY

From Saturday's Daily. Plattsmouth, June 16.—Editor of the Journal: Time and again the undersigned has observed communications from various writers suggesting ways and means to care for the dependants and families of our brave boys who may lose their lives in this war. Permit me to submit a plan that will be presented to the Grand Aerie convention of the Fraternal Order of Eagles to be held at Buffalo this coming August, and which, no doubt, will be enacted into law.

At Kansas City, May 29, twelve members of Grand Worthy President Rex B. Goodsell's administration determined to recommend to the coming grand aerie a proposition that will surely prove the greatest patriotic movement that has ever been put forth in fraternal history. Briefly, it is this: That those of us that are not called to the colors shall, during the duration of the war, each pay the sum of 10 cents per month into a common fund, under the control of the grand aerie, for the purpose of insuring for $1,000 the life of every man who serves in the army or navy from the date of his enlistment until the war is over. If he loses his life during the period of enlistment the face of the policy shall be paid to his dependants or to his beneficiaries.

To illustrate: The premium on $1,000 for a man of 26 years, under the American experience table, the most conservative table, is $14.57. To this must be added the war risk of $37.50, making a total annual premium of $52.07. Now, 10 cents a month from our 400,000 members, exempting, of course, our enlisted members, will net approximately $480,000 a year. In other words, we can insure between 9,000 and 10,000 members of this order each for a $1,000 life insurance policy if each of us will pay 10 cents a month—the value of a fair cigar, the price of a moving picture show.

The premium for this policy will not cost our enlisted members one cent. It is to be the gift of those of us who remain behind. It is to be our "Godspeed and good wishes" to the man who goes to the front. Could anything be more patriotic or more necessary? Is it not fraternalism actually transformed into something concrete and encouraging? Should it not also promote the growth and prosperity of the Fraternal Order of Eagles? It should also stop lapses, if anything will; for who would sever his connection with an order carrying into effect such a movement? It should increase our membership, for men now outside in patriotic approval wish to put the seal of their manhood on what we are doing. Out of a wide fraternal experience I say this is the high water mark in our fraternity. How does it appeal to you, Mr. Reader? W. M. BARCLAY, State Inside Guard F. O. E.

This will be very pleasing news to the friends of the family throughout the county. Dawson Will Fix It.

THE RED SOX ARE AGAIN VICTORIOUS

One of the Best Games of the Season Staged Sunday, and Sox Win, By a Score of 2 to 0.

One of the best base ball games of the season was staged yesterday afternoon at the Red Sox park when the Burgess-Nash crack independent team of Omaha was trimmed, by the score of 2 to 0. The game was close and in doubt until the last man was retired, as the score was small and a hit at any stage of the conflict might have proven disastrous to either side. Hay, formerly of the Storz team of Omaha, did the pitching for the Sox, and the catching department was looked after by Prefki, the former state leaguer, who was there and over. Herald, the regular catcher of the Sox, covered the initial station in fine shape and his playing contributed materially to the success of his teammates. Wes Baker did the tossing for the Burgess-Nash crew and was decidedly wild, but at that only allowed two hits to be secured by the Sox, while the Omaha team secured the same number off Hay. The Burgess-Nash team is a good clean organization of fast ball players and gave the fans a splendid exhibition of the national sport. Hughie Graham, the first sacker of the visitors, is a great favorite in this city, and his friends were well pleased to see him. Mr. Graham has enlisted in the navy and his base ball career will end as soon as the call comes for his report to the training station. The fielding of Beal and Ed Mason also featured the game.

There was nothing doing in the scoring line until the seventh inning, when the locals brought in their two tallies that spelled victory, and in this inning their hits were most effective in run-getting combined with the wild pitch of Baker. FINDER, the first man up in this inning, was safe at first when Padillo, the Cuban shortstop, threw wild to first. Hay retired on a high fly to King in the right garden. Edwards was the first to break the ice in the hitting line with a timely poke to left field that allowed FINDER to register at the plate for the first run of the game. Grassman, following Edwards, drove a hot one through short stop for a safe hit, and Beal, who followed, was hit by one of the slants of Baker, filling the bases. Salsburg was retired on a fly to Graham at first. While Baker was delivering to Herold at bat, he allowed a wild one to slip that Sanford could not secure and as a result Edwards registered. Herold closed the inning by retiring, Clark to Graham, leaving the score 2 to 0, and thus it remained until the close of the game. The tabulated score of the game was as follows:

Table with 5 columns: Player, AB, H, O, A, E. Rows include Beal, Salsburg, Herold, Prefki, Mason, FINDER, Hay, Edwards, Grassman, and Totals.

Table with 5 columns: Player, AB, H, O, A, E. Rows include Platz, Padillo, Graham, Charmquist, Clark, Hasson, King, Sandow, Baker, and Totals.
