IN PLATTSMOUTH FORTY YEARS AGO.

Dr. John Black returned from the fair Friday, chuck full of enthusiasm for Nebraska—apples, potatoes and all.

Uncle Jake Valley came home from the fair Saturday, just tired out. The machine men did it with their cranks and cogs.

We neglected to mention last week the departure of Miss Latham to Canada, where she will spend the winter with her sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Klepser, of Nebraska City, parents of Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Simpson, have been making a visit in Plattsmouth. Mrs. Klepser and Mrs. Johnson left for Ohio the first of this week, to visit their old home.

We learn that Miss Mary Ruby, formerly a teacher in our Plattsmouth schools, has secured a position in Denver, where she will teach the ensuing year.

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. S. Duke has been so ill her friends were much alarmed, and Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Duke came down from Omaha. She is now much better.

Henry Eikenbury has gone to Salt Lake, Utah, and Colorado, to buy cattle for feeding this winter. "Croft" heard from him the other day, saying he attended Brigham's funeral, and that he expects to be home in about two weeks.

Chas. M. Hubner of the Nebraska City News has been visiting us during fair time. He and brother "big-foot" came up together, B. F. took two-thirds of the buggy and Charley had to stick his leg over the dashboard to get room.

Whooping Cough.

In this disease it is important that the cough be kept loose and expectoration easy, which can be done by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. P. H. Martin, Peru, Ind., writes: "My two daughters had whooping cough. I gave them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it worked like a charm."

MISS WILHELMINA HEROLD AND ALBIN LARSON MARRIED

Very beautiful in its details was the wedding of Miss Wilhelmina Herold and Mr. Albin Victor Larson, which was solemnized at half after 8 o'clock Thursday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Herold.

Pink roses, combined with greenery, were used in great profusion throughout the house. In the living room a bower of palms and ferns with tulle trimmed Dresden baskets of pink roses on either side formed a background for the members of the bridal party, who stood beneath an arch of smilax and Kilmarnock roses. Before the ceremony Miss Edith Bacon, of Fremont, sang "Because," and the bridal chorus from Lohengrin, played by Mrs. F. H. Barnes, was the signal for the entrance of the bride and groom with their attendants. Down the smilax twined staircase came little Miss Ursula Herold carrying the ring in the heart of a calla lily. She was followed by the maid of honor, Miss Helen Herold. The bride walked alone and was met at the bower by the groom, his best man, Mr. Arthur Larson, and the officiating clergyman, Rev. R. M. Badger. Dr. A. M. Bullock assisted. The bride wore a very exquisite creation of white net, heavily embroidered over white satin. A garniture of gold lace was used upon the bodice. The veil, which was arranged in a cap effect and banded to the coiffure by a coronet of valley lilies, fell to the hem of the short skirt. The bouquet was of white roses and swansonias in shower effect. Little Miss Ursula's frock was of pink silver cloth, with a trimming of silver lace, and Miss Helen Herold was garbed in a crown of silver tissue with an overdress of white tulle and opalescent trimming. Her arms were brimful of pink roses, with broad satins.

After the ceremony luncheon was served in the dining room. The bride's table was adorned with a mound of Kilmarnock roses and pink shaded tapers. Baskets of the roses, the handles bowed with tulle, decorated the small tables. Miss Alice Davis, who was in charge of the dining room, was assisted by Miss Lottie Martin, Miss Minnie Skinner, Miss Vivian Ward, Miss Edith Bacon and Miss Pauline Kaufman. Mrs. Henry Herold received the guests and Mrs. A. L. Tidd had charge of the guest book. Punch was served by Miss Pauline Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Larson left late in the evening for an extended western honeymoon, the bride traveling in a suit of midnight blue with a mustard colored georgette blouse and a hat of Milan. They will be at home after September 1 at Columbus, Neb. Mrs. Larson is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and for several years taught German in the Fremont high school. Mr. Larson is also a graduate of the University of Nebraska and attended Chicago university. At present he is instructor of manual training in the schools at Columbus.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Herold and Miss Ursula Herold, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Todd, Mr. William Herold, grandmother of the bride, and Miss Olive Gass, all of Plattsmouth; Mrs. S. L. Tyler, Miss L. M. Martin, Harry Herold, Mrs.

Emily Dickson, of Omaha; Miss Edith Bacon, Fremont; Miss Catherine Kraft, Wahoo; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Larson and Mrs. Mues and children, of Arapahoe.—Lincoln Star.

U. S. FLEET AT RIO; PATROLLING SOUTH AMERICAN WATERS

Rio Janeiro, June 23.—Rear Admiral William G. Caperton, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet of the United States navy, and the members of his staff have been received with honors here. The American officers today visited the minister of marine under the escort of a Brazilian naval battalion. The exercises accompanying the reception included the playing of the national hymns of the two nations.

Washington, D. C., June 23.—The arrival in Brazilian waters of an American Pacific fleet squadron, commanded by Admiral Caperton, reveals that the American navy has taken over responsibility for the patrol of that region against German raiders.

While navy officials would not disclose the identity or number of vessels in Admiral Caperton's squadron, it is assumed that they include the cruisers of the Pacific fleet, giving the American officer a swift and powerful force for whatever operations he may find necessary.

It has been understood that one of the first agreements reached with the British and French governments provided that the United States navy should take over patrol work in the Atlantic waters from New Foundland to Brazil. Navy officials decline for military reasons to discuss any details of the plans.

Display the American flag, all sizes and prices can be found at the Journal office when desired.

Valor and Value!

The valor of a soldier isn't determined by the stripes on his sleeve, any more than the value of clothes is determined by the price on the sleeve ticket. Valor and value are alike; they represent respectively what the soldier DOES and what a suit of clothes DOES.
