

RED SOX CAPTURE GAME FROM VISITORS

A Very Fair Game, Winning From Council Bluffs Team, By a 7 to 2 Score—Large Crowd Present.

While the sun shown brightly, large, dark, heavy clouds covered the ball park when the game was called by Umpire Holmes. The Chamlis Giants of Council Bluffs, Ia., gave promise of playing an excellent game. During the first half of the game there was lots of pep and much mirth from the sons of the sunny southland. Stewart, the pitcher for the visitors, hopped into the game with a single, but when he tried to annex second, lost all. Bynu, the second base artist, could not help but follow the example of his leader, while Acre flew out, and they had a portion of a setting for their goose. Then came the Red Sox to the plate, with a strike-out for Salsberg, Caldwell and Smith, and the teams could have marketed just a half dozen of the goose frisk.

The second inning recorded a fly out for Wright of the visitors, while Hill and Woodson followed, each with a ground-out, and their half was gone. Herold got a single, stole second and third, while Hay followed with a single. Mason struck out, and Edwards got a single, Hay died on second, Poissall got a walk, making a forced run, with Grassman at the bat; Grassman missed the ball, and Roy Wright, the Giants' catcher, danced a cancan.

Third inning for the Giants, was one, two, three, and out went Burke, Givins and Frankel, all fanning the air.

Salsberg at bat for the home team made a single, stole second, while Caldwell struck out. Smith got a safe hit, for one base, while our colored friend in the box fanned Herold and Hays.

Beginning the fourth inning, Stewart flew out, while Bynu and Acre were fanned. Red Sox at bat, Mason flew out, Edwards, with a single, annexed second and third, while Poissall and Grassman struck out. Beginning the fifth, Wright got a single, Hill, Woodson and Burke were induced by Hay to strike where there was no ball. Not one run had yet been made and it was considered by Jeff time to play ball. He got a single, was followed by Caldwell, who struck out; Smith got a hot grounder, but one of the visitors picked it up, and it was resting in the hands of Acre on first base before Smith could make the trip. Herold was hit by the ball, when Smith ran for him. Hay slammed the sphere, Salsberg went to third, while Smith, running for Pete, was safe on second, and the playing was interesting. Hays a misplay allowed Jeff and Smith to get home, while a grounder, was nipped and Mason did not get to first. In the sixth, Givins shot a high fly over towards first, and Smith tossed it over to Hay before it could touch the ground, Frankel swatted the ball which went sailing over second, but Grassman was in the way and he went out. Stewart knocked a grounder to Hay, and still the visitors had not gotten a lookin.

When our boys came to bat, Edwards was induced by Stewart to send a fly down near second, and Bynu was there. Poissall was given a walk, Grassman made a two-bagger, and Poissall came home; Salsberg flew out to Hill, and Caldwell to Bynu, and the game stood three for the Sox and nothing for the visitors.

In the seventh Bynu singled and made first, Acre grounded to Hay, but Bynu was on second, Wright flew to Caldwell, when Hill took the stick and Bynu got to third, but died there when Hill was fanned.

Smith flew out to Bynu, Harold made a safe single, Hay got his grounder picked up, Mason was given a walk, and Edwards, did not get to first on his grounder and Herold crossed the plate, but no good, three lost their pep, were playing a losing proposition, but were tolerably happy. Woodson at bat got a little grounder, and made a break for the first sack, but Smith was there with the ball long before the visitors' right fielder arrived, well he did not arrive at all he turned off and made for the bench. Burke struck out, Johnson took the bat for Givins, and being a left-hander got a smash at the ball, and finally found himself at second, but not until Frankel had tried to find the ball for a time or two, Johnson died on second and Frankel went down as the fifteenth man who Hay had deluded. The eighth and last for the home team was begun, by Poissall, who did not get to first soon enough on his grounder, Grassman was allowed first, because the home plate would not stay still long enough for Stewart to get the ball over it. This happened again in the case of Salsberg. In a back play Grassman lost on second. Caldwell got a good rap, and was at first with Salsberg at second, Smith at bat, and gave it a good safe rap, bringing in Jeff and Caldwell, while he finally landed a second. Herold was given a walk, and Hay got a good single while Smith and Herold came in, making the score 7 to 0. Mason flew out to Bynu. Ninth for the visitors, Stewart was fanned, Bynu made a good single. Acre lost on a grounder, Roy Wright came up smiling, and twirling his cugel, like a man from Borneo, tried to knock a board off the fence, making a home run, bringing in Bynu. Say but you should have seen that fellow's face smile, when the crowd cheered. Hill struck out and it was all over. The Chamlis American Giants will come again next Sunday, and look for a good game.

MEETING OF LADIES AUXILIARY OF ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH IS HELD

The Ladies Auxiliary society met at the home of the president of the society, Mrs. William Rummell, on Friday afternoon last instead of on Thursday, when it was too stormy for the meeting. It being a beautiful day Friday, there was a large number in attendance. Religious services were held at the opening of the meeting, after which the minister addressed those present, saying in substance:

The ladies of the church should organize and maintain as good working status as the Ladies Aid, which does a great deal towards supporting the church. The more conscientious the mother, the home maker and the church worker, the more she desires to develop her talents will cause her to become more efficient for the duties which fall to her lot. They need to exchange thought and ideas, to study, to devise plans and methods in order to do better and more systematic work, which is what the Ladies aid societies and churches need.

After the conclusion of the address, the regular business of the society was taken up, at which it was decided that in case there was not a special invitation given for the meeting to be at some member's home, they should then be taken alphabetically, as per the names of the members. Then followed the social part of the meeting, which was most delightful, and after a delicious luncheon the members departed, thanking the president for her kind hospitality.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. George A. Meisiger, who had extended a special invitation, for Thursday, September 6th.

LOOKING FOR TROUBLE.

The office building on the Rifle Range has been a source of annoyance to the watchman, Mr. Marshall, for some time because of the boys continually breaking the windows and breaking into the office and committing deprecations there. Mr. Marshall says that he is going to find out who has been committing these outrages, and that it will then be up to them and the government. Say, Kiddies, better look a little out or you will get into trouble. Go slow about the government property. It is not like knocking a window out of a vacant house, and then making a get-away. You are not looking for trouble, but you might get it.

NEW OVERLAND CARS.

Will Fight, one of the prosperous Cass county farmers from near Myrard, is sporting a fine new Willis-Knight car this week. It is the best the company makes, their famous eight-cylinder, and is certainly a beauty. George Lloyd is another one of our good farmers that selects the Overland for his choice of car, and has purchased one of the four cylinder type. Both sales were made through the Bauer Agency of this city.

MISS BIXBY'S PIG THAT SHE FAILED TO GET

"To market, to market, to buy a fat pig. Home again, home again, jiggety jig," used to be the story. Now it is entirely different. Little red pigs sold in a market square for the benefit of the Red Cross are delivered by well-to-do farmers to the purchasers in seven-passenger automobiles.

When Miss Helene Bixby went down to Plattsmouth to serve as "Columbia" last Saturday she found that among other attractions at the "country store" were two of the cutest little red pigs imaginable. These little porkers weighed about fifty pounds each and were being hotly contested for by the throng of people who attended the closing celebration of Red Cross week. Miss Bixby and the party of Omaha people who spent the week-end at a house party in Plattsmouth, were determined that one of the pigs should be hers, so that in due time the storekeeper delivered a squealing pig into her hands.

Late at night he was escorted in due state to the scene of the house party and there ensconced in a wire chicken coop. Again a hose was turned on him and he received a second shower bath. Ungrateful beast! When morning arrived he was nowhere to be found and the whole company started out to scour the countryside in search of the pig.

When the farmer who had donated the pigs heard that Miss Bixby's pig had run away he came driving to her stopping place in his seven-passenger car with another little red pig. This one had a little white saddle mark on top of its back and for that reason was more estimable than the first. Pig No. 2 was consigned to the wire chicken coop, and it, too, received a shower bath. While the company ate dinner on Sunday the little rascal escaped, but a vigorous search brought him to light. Then the guests christened him Columbus—first because he discovered the way out of his pen and second because he belonged to "Columbia." This little pig was crated Monday morning and delivered by express at Miss Bixby's home. No sooner was Columbus' crate open than he jumped out and took to his heels down the boulevard with all the little boys in the neighborhood giving chase. Automobiles grazed him or turned aside to avoid him as he slid over the slippery street. Finally he was captured and one of the little boys has taken him to raise on shares. If he should reach maturity Miss Bixby expects to sell him for the benefit of the Red Cross.

The Fort Crook band furnished just the right sort of music for the dancing at Plattsmouth. Prizes for the best dancer being offered, and Miss Bixby won the first prize, a ring, which she intended to put in Columbus' nose. Someone, as a joke, helped himself to it before she had a chance to decorate the pig.—Omaha Bee.

VISITED OVER SUNDAY.

Mrs. G. A. Alwain and brother, Rudolph Kinnan, of Omaha, came in last Saturday evening, and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Holmes over Sunday. Mr. Kinnan departed for his home this morning, where he is employed, while Mrs. Alwain went to Murray for a visit for the day at the home of J. A. Walker, and will return this evening for a longer visit in this city before returning to her home in Omaha.

SPENT SUNDAY NEAR HERE.

Attorney Henry E. Maxwell of Omaha came down last Saturday evening and was a guest at the home of Bentley Livingston and family over Sunday at the old farm home, where he spent many of his boyhood days. Mr. Maxwell departed this morning for his home in Omaha, going over the Burlington.

LOYAL WORKERS, NOTICE.

The Loyal Workers of the Christian church will be entertained by Mesdames Thomas Wiles, Miller and Calhoun, at the home of Mrs. Wiles, Wednesday afternoon. Everybody welcome.

A large assortment of all sizes of American flags can be secured at the Journal office. Call in and see them

HARRIS COOK WRITES HOME.

From Friday's Daily. Dr. E. W. Cook this morning received a letter from his son, Harris Cook, who is located at Fort Riley, Kan., near Junction City. Harris is stationed at Camp Funston, which is building rapidly, as they have 2,500 carpenters at work, who receive $8 per day for eight hours' work, and when they work on Sunday they receive $16 per day. Harris says that he has to sleep on a cot, with pillows for a mattress, in a long shed looking like a cattle shed, but that the work of completing temporary barracks is being pushed as fast as possible, and that then the officers and members of the staff will each have a separate room.

CALL KAISER'S CHIEFS IN A CONFERENCE

From Friday's Daily. The allied offensive on the western front apparently is on the nerves of the German emperor.

It is assumed that a war council of the high military and naval leaders in Germany, called by the emperor to meet in Brussels, had as its objective an analytical survey of the offensive, which, if it is carried out as planned by the allies, would prove a menace to the German holdings in Belgium, and especially along the coast.

Wednesday was the date set for the conference, which was to have been attended by Field Marshal von Hindenburg chief of the imperial general staff; Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, in command in Flanders; the German crown prince and others, including Vice Admiral von Capelle, minister of the navy, whose naval bases on the North Sea would be affected by a success to the entente allied arms. As yet, however, nothing has come through to indicate the trend of the discussion.

GIVE SIX O'CLOCK DINNER AT BRIDGE IN HONOR OF VISITOR

From Friday's Daily. Wednesday evening the friends of Miss Oeta French, Miss Genevieve Whelan and Miss Myrtle Petersen had planned to give a reception and party in honor of their friend, but the storm put the matter off, and the following day Miss Myrtle Petersen departed for the west. But on Wednesday evening the friends of this little lady visitor, Miss French, gathered at the Garfield park, and chaperoned by Mrs. J. C. Petersen, jr., and sister, Miss Rath, the following young ladies departed for the Burlington bridge, where the evening was spent, and where they had a delicious 6 o'clock dinner: The guest of honor, Miss Oeta French, Misses Genevieve Whelan, Pauline Bajock, Jane Beeson, Clara Trilitty, Jennie Reynolds, Mary Catherine Parmele and Catherine Waddick. The crowd had a most delightful time, and returned home just as night was falling.

VISIT MASONIC HOME.

From Friday's Daily. A party of Masons, from Omaha, came in this morning and were guests at the Masonic Home, where they visited their friends and looked over the institution, which has for its mission the caring for members of the order and their dependent families within the state jurisdiction who have no home. Those composing the party were, Mrs. Donald D. McPherson, Mrs. Thomas Falkner and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Carnaby.

DELIVER FOUR FORD CARS.

From Friday's Daily. The T. H. Pollock Auto Company today received four Ford touring cars which will be delivered to F. D. Oldham, W. M. Sporer and Thomas Hansen, of Murray and Ira Stull, of Plattsmouth. These cars were all delivered at the regular price notwithstanding the rumor that has been prevailing that Ford prices would be increased after August 1 and that there would be a big shortage of cars. The local branch will soon be able to fill all orders as they have a much larger contract this year than last.

BARE EXEMPTION CLAIMS

Crowder Plans to Filibuster Those Unfairly Seeking Immunity by Having Boards Give Details to Press.

Washington, D. C., August 4.—Protest Marshal General Crowder today took action to reduce the number of applications for exemption from military service, which news reports indicate are being filed. In a telegram to all governors he directed the local boards be instructed to furnish to newspapers hereafter from day to day names of all registered men who apply for exemption, the grounds asserted to support such claim and the action taken by the board. In cases of discharge for physical disqualifications, this does not apply, as they are not cases where exemption is claimed, but are the result of rejection by the board.

Officials believe the effect of this order will be to curb applications for exemption to a large extent. Men who do not have legitimate excuses are not expected to court the scorn of neighbors who would recognize the weakness of their pleas when published.

Men whose cases are clear, however, and who are entitled to exemption, officials believe, will be glad to have their neighbors know their circumstances and that it is not lack of patriotism or fear which has prompted them to seek relief from military service.

Exemption in such case, officials declare, will be generally approved and the parents or relatives of boys who will be taken are entitled to know why the boys of their neighbors were not taken.

Far from regarding the progress of the selection process as slow, General Crowder believes rapid strides are being made. If reports were available tonight, he said, from each of the 4,600 local boards, it would be shown that many thousands of men already have been passed and are now merely awaiting orders to join the colors. An accurate estimate of the number in this class is not obtainable.

General Crowder's telegram to the governors follows: "The names of all registered men are on a list arranged in the order in which they will be called for military service. Whenever a registered person imposed upon a local board and improperly secured a certificate of exemption or discharge he advances the time of call of all other uncalled persons on the list.

"For this reason every registered person and to some extent, every person in the community is more or less directly interested in seeing that the true facts are brought to the attention of the government. For every local board a person has been designated who will receive information of such cases and take appeals to the district board or inform the local board.

"For this reason the public is entitled to know the grounds upon which claims for exemption or discharge are being asked by the registered men. "Local boards should therefore be instructed immediately to make available to the press from day to day the names of persons claiming exemption or discharges, the ground upon which such claims are based and general, the number of cases that are being disposed of by the boards from day to day. This instruction does not apply, of course, to men discharged on the ground of physical disqualification.

LETTER FROM SON.

Mrs. Stella Persinger a few days ago received a letter from her son, James Persinger, who, with a number of other Plattsmouth boys, enlisted in the Navy early last spring, and who have been away for some time. James, while he cannot say just where they are, states that he is now on the Dreadnaught Pennsylvania, and says that he likes the work and life first rate. He has with him also from this city, Ray South and George Rennie. Both these boys are reported to be in good health and spirits.

James E. Tillotson, of Avoca, came in this morning over the Missouri Pacific and was transacting some business at the county seat today.

THINKS CORN HURT SOME.

From Friday's Daily. W. D. (Billy) Wheeler from near Rock Bluffs, was a visitor in the city this morning looking after some business matters and in conversation with the local representative of this paper said that they had a very good rain in that part of the county, and that it had done great good, but that there was some of the corn which was injured before its arrival. A considerable amount of the late corn was tassel-shedding out in stalk, while the early corn was much higher and better corn.

FORMER CITIZENS VISITING RELATIVES IN PLATTSMOUTH

Mrs. Emily Drew, of Omaha, formerly of this city, is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. C. Cummins and daughter, Miss Kittie, as is also Mr. Gerald Drew, her son, an attorney at Omaha. There is also S. H. Colvin, a brother of Mrs. Drew, and Mrs. Cummins, with his wife, guests also at the Cummins home. Mr. Colvin and wife are making their home in Turlock, California, at this time. It will be remembered that they made their home in this city for a number of years but left years ago. Mr. Colvin and wife, some time since, started from their home in the west and traveled to Alabama in an automobile, their journey in the car being over 3,500 miles. They had intended to make the return trip in the car, and made this point, but the traveling so far over land in a car became wearisome for Mrs. Colvin and the return trip was abandoned, and they took the train, and are this far on their homeward way. They will visit here with relatives and old time friends for a while before going on home.

BUILDING HOUSE IN IOWA.

Frank Konferst, the contractor, with Alois Smitana, departed this morning for Vilisca, Ia., where Mr. Konferst has the contract for the construction of a house about six miles out from that city. The structure, which is 28x32, and two stories high, is a commodious house and one which, when completed, will make a good farm house. The man for whom this house is being constructed is fortunate in the selection of Mr. Konferst, as he is an excellent workman, and will only be satisfied in doing the best work.

HOGS AT TOP PRICE.

Last Saturday Mr. Adam Stoehr, who lives west of this city, was on the Omaha live stock market with a carload of fine porkers, which brought him $15.25 per hundred. This was a fine lot of hogs, and all black, which made them look fine, as they were. This car at the price brought a nice piece of money, which Mr. Stoehr has labored for, and which we congratulate him on getting.

RECEIVES ANOTHER REO CAR.

The Reo salesman, T. L. Amick, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Helen, were passengers to Omaha this morning, where they go to bring home another of the famous Reo cars of which Mr. Amick has sold so many recently. There is so much of a demand for these cars that it is difficult to get them as fast as they can be disposed of. Mr. Amick has had to wait for some time for what cars he has sold within the last month.

SPENT SUNDAY HERE.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Hempel, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hempel and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sitek of Omaha motored to this city yesterday morning and spent the day with Mr. Hempel's mother, Mrs. Ben Hempel, and sister, Miss Teresa.
