HOW THE LITTLE RIPPLE GROWS!

If you cast a stone into a pool it starts a ripple, that expands in constantly widening circles. How like that stone is this store, and how like the pool is this community in which its fortunes are cast.

Our little circle on entering has widened and widened, and is still widening, and as it increases, so does this store expand to accommodate its broadening trade.

But we've only begun. We expect to grow broader, bigger still, with your help, of course. To earn this help, we pledge you the same fair dealing, the same fair service, the same splendid values that have been a part of our store keeping system since the first ripple started.

DRAFT EXEMPTION LAWS AS ARE ADOPTED

Rules of Procedure in Cases Appealed to District Boards From County Boards, Which Can Be Taken.

The local examining boards, who have charge of the matter of granting exemptions from service, are required to certify to the district board above them the names of all persons who have been rejected on account of not passing the physical examination; also, the names of all who have passed the physical examination, and which will include all who were examined, whether they have passed successfully the examination or not. In like manner the local boards are required to certify the names of all who have been called by that board and who have not been examined, with their addresses.

Decide in Three Days.

Each local board shall decide within three days, subject to appeal as provided, each claim for exemption or discharge filed with the respective local boards within three days after the affidavits in support of the respective claims shall have been filed.

Issue Certificate.

Each local board shall issue a certificate of discharge to each person by or to whom a claim for discharge has been filed, in accordance to those rules and regulations, if in the opinion of the local board, such claim has been substantiated as required by the rules and regulations and the right to a certificate of discharge been established. These certificates may be absolute, conditional, or temporary, as the case may require.

Certify List.

The local boards shall certify to the district boards, the names and addresses of all persons drawn by such local boards who have not been exempted or discharged; also, they shall furnish a list to the district boards of those who were called by the local boards and who have been exempted or discharged.

File With District.

The local boards shall file with the district board each claim for exemption or discharge, together with all affidavits and papers filed in connection with such claim for exemption or discharge, including the records of the physical examination, and also a copy of each certificate of exemption or discharge issued by the board.

Publish Names.

Within two days after certifying such list to the district board, the local board shall post a copy of such list in its office, in a place accessible to the public view. It shall give another copy to the public press, with a request for publication.

District Boards.

District boards will hear appeals from the local boards, and exercise original jurisdiction in matters of claims made for the discharge of persons engaged in certain industries, including farming.

Notifying the Persons.

After the closing of the cases the district board shall notify the person of their decision. If the decision be against the person, he shall stand called to military service. Should the decision be that the person be discharged, a certificate shall be issued to that effect.

WILL PROTECT PUBLIC FROM 'PROFITEERS'

War Industries Board Announces People Not Allowed to be Victimized.

ALLIES BUY ON SAME BASIS AS UNCLE SAM

Lovett Gives Out Statement Declaring War on Excessive Prices For Supplies.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—Definite assurance that the American public would be protected against profiteering and that the allied governments will get their war supplies at the same prices as the United States is contained in an announcement tonight of the administration's war policy.

The pronouncement was made by the new war industries board, formed last week as a part of the council of national defense to have full charge of the government's war purchases. It made clear the administration's determination that there shall be no exorbitant war profits and at the same time stated the government's intention to see that industry receives fair prices for its products.

Prices Declared Excessive.

Prices now charged for materials necessary to the industrial life of the nation are out of all proportion, the statement said, to the cost of production. "Unconscionable profits," it is declared are made on national resources entering into the manufacture of articles consumed by the public.

Already the administration is preparing for drastic action to reduce prices, if negotiations with manufacturers fail to produce results. Robert S. Lovett of the war board, who made public the statement, declared the government was ready for such a contingency and felt confident it could meet the situation. If possible, he said, it hoped to achieve success without resort to legislation.

What Food Bill Does.

In the senate today Senator Pomerene introduced a bill to authorize the president to fix the prices of iron, iron ore, steel and their products and to regulate their production and sale through the federal trade commission. Full power to control the sale and distribution of foods, feeds and fuel was given to the government today in the final passage of the food control bill.

The administration attitude in demanding that American manufacturers sell to the allies at the same prices as to this government is that since there is a common purpose and since the allies are buying their supplies with American money, justice requires that costs be equalized.

Two restrictions, however, will be enforced in selling to the allies. One is that the allies themselves must apply the same rule in selling to each other and to the United States and the other is that the arrangement must be limited to articles actually used for war purposes.

Restriction Necessary.

Officials hold that the last restriction is necessary as a protection to American industry and intend that no raw materials shall be sold abroad at low prices to be made up into manufactured goods and sold back into the United States in competition with American dealers.

The requirements that the allied governments force their own producers to sell to other governments at the same prices charged at home is to protect this government and at the same time to establish a system to prevent any of the allied nations from profiting at the expense of its associates.

A Harder Problem.

The war board believes that American manufacturers will accept the suggestion concerning prices to the allies without the use of force. It feels that the knowledge the government already has power, or can procure it from congress, will be sufficient to persuade producers to follow the board's suggestions.

The subject of prices to the public presents a harder problem, but administration leaders hold that the reduction of prices charged the governments in itself tends to lower prices generally.

The Pullford

$145 INSTALLED

is a simple attachment to go on Fords (or other cars) to convert them into practical tractors.

The price of the attachment is $145 on Fords, much cheaper than any other similar attachment.

The Pullford will do the work of four horses and does not eat when it is not working. If you could buy four good horses for $145 you'd think they were mighty cheap.

For practical work on the average farm the Pullford is the very best investment the farmer can make.

It will pull your binder, do your plowing, discing, harrowing, pull your manure spreader, haul your heavily loaded wagons to town; in fact, it will do about all the work your horses will do except planting and cultivating your corn.

The Pullford will pull any load that your two best teams will pull and do it easy.

required several stitches to close up. It is supposed that some careless hunter was nearby and a stray bullet struck the little girl in the hand. It was indeed a narrow escape from serious injury.

Miss Margie Walker entertained a number of lady friends Monday afternoon at a Kensington party. An invitation to the Walker home is an assurance of a good time and this occasion was in no way contrary to the expectation of all the ladies present. At the usual hour dainty refreshments were served. Those present were Mesdames Dick Pitman, Sam Pitman, O. A. Davis, G. H. Gilmore, Anna White, W. S. Smith, W. G. Boedeker, James Brown, E. M. Steiner, of Lincoln; James Holmes, of Plattsmouth; Allwine, of Omaha; and Misses Fay and Pauline Oldham, Gertrude Long, Villa Capen, together with Mrs. Mattie Kamstra, of La Fayette, Indiana.

PLEASANT AFFAIR AT THE MARK WHITE HOME

At the beautiful country home of Mark White, Mrs. Mark White and Mrs. Anna White received Wednesday afternoon about 55 ladies of Plattsmouth and Murray and vicinity. The event was a reception tendered the ladies in honor of Mrs. Jay Grow of Mansfield, Texas, who is a granddaughter of Mrs. Anne White.

The White home, which has long been famed for its hospitality, did ample justice to that term on this occasion. The house was artistically decorated with patriotic emblems and wild flowers. A program of classical music furnished the major part of the entertainment and was a royal treat to the ladies. This program was offered by Mrs. Asch, of Murray; Mrs. Grow, the guest of honor, and her daughter, Miss Georgia Grow, and Marjette and Anna Hiatt, of Sidney, Iowa.

Another pleasurable feature of the entertainment was the delicious three course luncheon served by Mrs. Mark White with the able assistance of Frank Gobelman and Mrs. Ray.

During the early part of the afternoon festivities, Mrs. Grow was presented with a diamond watch by her daughter, Mark White, as a gift to be kept in remembrance of the occasion.

Those present from a distance were Mrs. Jay Grow and daughters, Georgia and Susie, of Mansfield, Texas; Miss Lovy and the Misses Marjette, Anne and Martha Hiatt of Sidney, Iowa.

A HOUSE PARTY AT WHITE'S.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark White have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. J. Grow and two daughters of Mansfield, Texas, and the Misses Anna, Martha, Marjette and Lovy Hiatt of Sidney, Ia., and Mrs. F. R. Gobelman of Plattsmouth, at a house party at their pretty country home, from Tuesday to Thursday.

JUDGE PROBST IN TOWN.

Judge James W. Probst of Louisville, was a business visitor in the city today, having business at the court house, and while here called on the Journal. Judge Probst is a very clever gentleman, and in conversation with the Journal man, he said that business in his line was very quiet; in fact he declared that he had had only fined one man this summer, and that man was one who was before him last February for drunkenness. This man had been allowed to go, so he could earn money to pay his fine, and he had left, and returned later, when he was called upon the carpet, and a fine and costs were put up.

IN MEMORY OF C. H. VALLERY.

Dear papa, we hope that thou art not dead,
But sleeping in quiet rest.
Many are the tears that are shed while we
Hope that thou art supremely blessed.

Thou art gone from us below;
We hope a crown thou will obtain,
Although we weep we bid thee go,
For we hope to meet again.

And our dear children, while they must think
Of you while in Jesus thou dost sleep.

A little babe has gone on before,
High up in that heavenly land,
And we do hope to greet thee
With that heavenly, happy band.

Thy sister's tears are flowing, too,
While thy brothers, they must weep;
Thy Savior called and bid thee go,
Now free from toil and pain.

And your many friends, I know,
Are thinking of you when in that Beautiful land you soon shall see, and the Face of your Lord you soon shall behold.

FEDERAL AGENTS TELL OF GREAT EGG WASTE

Lincoln, Aug. 8.—Federal agents and inspectors of the Nebraska food commission say a recent investigation has shown a waste of 20 to 30 per cent in gathering and transporting eggs.

Five per cent waste in shipments during hot weather should be the maximum, according to federal agents who said criminal prosecutions may be brought as a result of the investigation.

They said similar conditions prevailed at Omaha, Lincoln, Beatrice, Fremont, Falls City and other shipping points. They blamed the farmer for not gathering eggs regularly and keeping them in cool places.
