IN DISTRICT COURT.

From Friday's Daily.

A civil action which was tried in the county court a short time since, in which Edward W. Thomsam, owner of the Muroch Garage, brought suit against Peter Gakenmeyer for repairs of an automobile, and in which a judgment was rendered, aggregating the amount of about forty dollars, has been appealed to the District court by the defendant, Peter Gakenmeyer.

Frank Boetel has asked for a decree of divorce from his wife, Ethel Boetel, on the grounds of extreme cruelty and threatening his life. The petition states that they were united in marriage May 8th, 1906, and now have five minor children.

BUSINESS AT NEBRASKA CITY.

From Friday's Daily.

Walter Tower, who is entering in business on his own account at Nebraska City, as the manager of the Overland agency at that place, has a part of his stock there in his new place of business and will take down another car which he has here this afternoon. Mr. Tower sure knows the automobile business in all its lines, and is well equipped to care for the business in which he is embarking. We are pleased to see him getting into business in Nebraska City and feel that his success there is certain.

Mr. C. Tyler and son, Orrin, departed this morning for Omaha, to which place they go to accompany a little granddaughter of Mr. Tyler's, Edna, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Line, of Omaha, to her home there. She has been visiting at the home of her grandparents here.

LABOR DAY SOON HERE.

Well, what are we going to do about Labor day? Have a ball game and call it done with? Other towns celebrate the occasion in a becoming manner, and why not Plattsburgh? This day is set aside for the laborer, and we are all laborers, it matters not whether we labor with our muscles or with our minds, or a combination of the two. In fact the latter class catches most of us. And when a day has been set apart for the observance of the promotion of the best interests of labor, we all should try and get together and see what we can do for the benefit of all kinds of labor. A strong pull, a long pull, and above all a pull together makes a proposition lighter. Why cannot we get up a program which will be fitting to the occasion? The arrangements should be made at once. Who will make a motion to appoint a committee with power and a disposition to make Labor day a real success in Plattsburgh?

MATRIMONIAL MARKET GOOD.

From Friday's Daily.

James Neilson, of Minneapolis, Minn., slipped down here yesterday and in broad daylight secured a license to wed Miss Katherine McDonald, and Miss McDonald being along they were married by the affable judge and away they went and will surprise their friends when they get home. Besides this couple there were the following who applied for and obtained permits to marry: Howard L. Ankerly, aged 26, of Lincoln, to marry Miss Abbie L. Judkins, age 23, of Nehawka. Then came George William Nelson, of Greenwood, asking liberty to wed Miss Emma Baurers of the same town, and they were both 24 years of age. Francisco Rontez, aged 22 wanted a wife, and sent a letter asking permission to take unto himself a life partner, Miss Inaeta Ventura, aged 25. The latter couple live at Elmwood. All the requests were granted and the various parties concerned seemed to be happy.

JOY RIDING IN A FORD.

From Friday's Daily.

Otto Muehlhette, who formerly lived in Plattsburgh, but who left here about twelve years ago, came in yesterday afternoon in his Ford car, and is visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Muehlhette, of this city. He is accompanied by his wife and three children, Wayne, Alice and Carl. They departed this afternoon for Auburn, where they will visit over Sunday at the home of Mrs. Muehlhette's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Porter. When Otto went away he was a boy and now he returns married and with a family. He reports things looking well at his home, Venus, Nebraska, where he is engaged in farming and stock raising at which he is succeeding very nicely.

RETURNS FROM LONG VISIT.

From Friday's Daily.

Miss Alma Waterman, who has for the past two months been a guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. Ida Wagner, at Detroit, Mich., and also at the home of Mr. Chester Wagner and wife, the latter being a nephew of Miss Waterman's, returned home yesterday afternoon. Miss Waterman tells of Detroit being a great business place, and that her nephew, Earl Wagner, as he is known, is an employee of the Ford Motor company there. His business is the taking of photographs for the illustrating of the many advertising publications which are issued by the Ford Motor company. Mr. Wagner has with him five assistants and receives seven dollars per day for his work.

TAKE VACATION THIS WEEK.

From Friday's Daily.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude C. Smith departed yesterday afternoon for Wahoo, where they will take up the time of Mr. Smith's vacation visiting. Mr. Edwin Fricke will have to depart for Ft. Snelling on Saturday, where he will go into training as an officer of the army, and the matter coming so quick causes Mr. Smith to hurry to get in his vacation in time for Edwin to get away, so Mrs. Smith was pressed into service to assist him in enjoying the few days he will be able to get away from business.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hastings, of Council Bluffs, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mason, late of Wisconsin, were in the city for a few hours yesterday visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rawls. Mrs. Mason is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hastings. Mr. Hastings being an old friend of the Journal man at the time we resided in Silver City, Iowa, we were greatly pleased with the brief visit made at our office during the afternoon.

Berliners Will Die as Flies in Winter Cold

Escaped Prisoner Tells of Disease, Starvation and Vice, Which is Sweeping Over the Fatherland.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—Shot through the arm nine weeks ago, escaping across the Holland border from Germany, after being a prisoner of war for more than two years, Joseph Behr 23 years old, is in Chicago. He appeared before the federal authorities at the postoffice and asked how he could get into the United States army.

He was examined by the recruiting officers and turned down. About half of his teeth are missing, the 200 pounds that he weighed at 21, are shrunk to 160 and his stomach "has not got used to food yet," he says. He fled from Berlin in April and says that conditions were frightful there at that time.

Short of Food.

"If this is a cold winter, the people in Germany will die like flies," he said and then, grimly, "I guess they will anyway. When I left the government was giving each person a half pound of beef and a half pound of horse meat a week, according to the food cards. But often even that wasn't to be had.

"The food cards showed each person got three pounds of potatoes a week. The truth is they got potatoes for one week and then went for two weeks without. Two and a half pounds of bread was allowed a week, a quarter pound of 'olso'—butter wasn't to be had—and one pound of marmalade every fifteen days.

Grind Up Bones.

"Often sausage was substituted for meat and the bones were ground up in the sausage. The only fats to be had are cattle fats, there being no hog fats of any kind. Chicken is only for millionaires. I've heard that a two-pound bird is worth $75. Each fifteen days a person gets three-quarters of a pound of sugar and the next fifteen days a half pound and so on alternately.

"Moral conditions are wretched. The kaiser gives a $50 reward for every boy baby born and the marriage law is forgotten. Berlin is filled with cripples and you'll see hundreds of women to every physically sound man. Women become madly jealous over the men. Girls consider it an honor to have a male illegitimate child. Men live first in one house and then another."

Born in Poland.

Behr is a Jew, born in Russian Poland. When the war started he attached himself to the Russian Red Cross. He had lived in the United States four years, and was home on a visit to his father and mother, who were well to do.

"If they are alive today, they are living in a hole in the ground," he said. After his capture by the Germans at Sokolow, ninety miles from Warsaw, he was taken to Stettin, Germany, with 103 others, locked in cars like cattle and put to work in an auto factory.

"Many of the party died of ill treatment, starvation and vice," he said. "At the end of six months only forty-two were left out of the 104. Some were taken to hospitals. We heard that they died. The story got around that they were poisoned—I don't know.

"Germany is teeming with disease, and I have seen cholera quarantines with soldiers on guard to shut off the traffic."

ERRONEOUSLY REPORTED.

Some few days ago the Journal made mention of Herman F. Gansemer taking his little son to Omaha for the treatment of a broken arm, and placing him in a hospital in that city. The Journal reporter stated in his article that the member was not correctly set at the time of the accident, which is the erroneous section of the report. According to the examination of the local physician, together with an X-ray examination made by Dr. J. S. Livingston in this city and one by the specialist at the hospital, the member was correctly replaced and was doing nicely at the time of the second injury, which was located near the first break. This is simply an error that sometimes creeps into newspaper columns thru the careless and eager desire for news on the part of the informant and the reporter on the paper, and not to injure any one in the least.

Sam Dean, who has been working for the past season with Glen Perry, on the farm south of Plattsburgh, has finished his contract and will return to town, where he will probably engage with the Burlington again.

HERE FROM HAMBURG.

From Friday's Daily.

James Andrews, who is located at Hamburg, Iowa, in the garage business, went to Omaha yesterday with a car for repairs, and thought to see his brother, Will, who was operated upon at the Immanuel hospital for appendicitis. James did not know at which hospital his brother was, and telephoned to several but did not locate him, so decided to run down to Plattsburgh and find out from his folks here. On arriving here he found out that they had not returned home from Omaha last evening, so failing to find out he departed for Omaha again this morning. At the Burlington station this morning he met the folks and found out his brother was at the Immanuel hospital, where he hoped to be able to see him this morning before having to depart for his home at Hamburg, Iowa.

Farewell to the Soldier Boys

From Friday's Daily.

District Judge Begley departed last evening for Papillion where he is to give the leading address at the farewell ceremonies which have been arranged for the boys of Surry county who have enlisted in the army."

The above is a news item which appeared in yesterday's Journal. It would have been doubly nice, if the same could have been said truly of the boys who have already gone to the service from this county, Plattsburgh, yes this town, with its best-advanced progressive spirit, had the opportunity to have given its boys, and all the boys of Cass county who have quit their profitable avocations, who have severed the ties which bound them to kindred, to friends, and to sweethearts, and who have gone to the defense of their country, a royal goodbye, but they did not, and we have not heard that they expect to up to the time of going to press. Now there is another large bunch of the "flower of young manhood of Cass county" soon to be sent away to cantonment camps for training, some of whom will doubtless never return, while others may come back wounded, but we hope the larger part at least will come back safe and sound, as when they depart.

It looks like the citizens through some organization (the commercial club if they desire; something else if need be) should take steps immediately to tender some kind of a farewell to these boys, that will at least show some appreciation of the sacrifices they are making for the good of the country, and which those who do not have to go shall enjoy. But apparently do not appreciate.

SLEEPS ONE OVER ON FRIENDS.

From Friday's Daily.

On July 14th Eugene Brady and Miss Ellen Leyda, while in Omaha, secured a marriage license, and were united in marriage by the Rev. B. R. Vonderlippe, of the United Presbyterian church of that city. They thought they would have one on their friends and did not say anything about the marriage on their return, keeping the matter secret until about a week ago when they first made known the facts to their respective families, and which was a great surprise to them. Last evening the recently wedded pair departed for Omaha, from whence they went to Kansas City, and from there to Norborne, Mo., where Mr. Brady has some folks. They will be gone about a week. Mr. and Mrs. Brady are well known here and have a host of friends who will join with the Journal in wishing them a joyous journey through life.

DR. G. S. BARGER.

Dr. E. W. Cook has disposed of his practice and office to Dr. G. S. Barger, of Raymond, Illinois, who comes well recommended and has had twenty years of successful practice. Dr. Barger will be here to take up his practice about September first.
