NEED KNITTED WOOLENS. W. A. Robertson has received the following telegram from Red Cross headquarters, Chicago: "Red Cross has urgent call from Major Grayson Murphy for enormous quantities of knitted woolen articles. Last winter broke the record for cold and misery among people here. Our dread of coming winter and inexorable fear of being without supplies to meet the situation. We urge you on behalf of our soldiers and those of our allies, who will suffer in their frozen trenches and also thousands of French and Belgian refugees being returned thru Switzerland to France. Every one here looks to America to begin shipping at once one million five hundred thousand each of warm knitted wool articles, already requested. They must come before cold weather, and in view of shortage of fuel and other discomforts they will be of incredible value in both military and civilian work. We ask your Chapter to furnish a definite number of this requirement. Your allotment is 300 sweaters, 300 mufflers, 300 pairs of wristlets and 300 pairs of socks.

This call is for Cass County and not for the Plattsmouth Chapter alone. Any one wanting information concerning above, call at Red Cross Headquarters in the Coronado Apartments or call Mrs. T. P. Livingston. (Cass County papers please copy)

TEACHERS AT THE GEM. Last evening at the Gem Theatre, was given the second entertainment by the commercial club, to the teachers attending the institute at this place. The feature of the evening was a five reel Vitagraph, "Kitty McKay" featuring Lillian Walker, the pictures were of the best and were well received by the large crowd of teachers from all over the county, who were in attendance. Besides this, there was interest and rest added to the evening by the fact the Emil Wyrick, having taken at the grounds, where the institute was holding snap shots of groups of teachers from the towns represented, and the faculty, as well, and besides some personal pictures, all of which were catchy and added to the evenings entertainment.

IT IS CAPTAIN FRICKE. While in Fort Riley, Kansas, Mr. G. R. Olson met Dr. Albert Fricke, who is with the government at that place, and is holding the rank of captain, being on the medical force of the service. Dr. Fricke has surely made good in his chosen profession, and will be one who will give good service in the position which he now occupies.

KEEP THE SOLDIERS WARM. To those who are interested in the work of the Bandage circle, our Auxiliary of the Red Cross in the city, and each woman should be interested, we would like to call attention once more to the great demand for knitted articles that has come to us in the last week. Upon our prompt response to just such calls, depends the efficiency and success of our men in the trenches. To keep the Sammies warm, to keep plenty of dressings and supplies on hand, to staunch wounds and give first aid in an emergency—that is woman's part in this great World War. Every girl should learn to knit. Most all the older women know how to knit. Enthusiasm should not be limited to any age, class or even sex. The older men should learn to knit. We must all knit to keep our soldiers and sailors warm. It is cold in the North Sea, its cold in the trenches, wet and muddy, too. Keep them warm. Ladies knit while you can, can while knit.

Returns Home From the West

From Tuesday's Daily.
John Gorder and wife and C. W. Baylor and wife returned Sunday evening from a tour of the west, embracing a total distance traveled of 1670 miles. The trip was made in a Chalmers car owned by Mr. Gorder and in all the time they experienced no trouble save a little with one of the tires. Going, the party took the Omaha, Lincoln and Denver road, which they followed to Lyman, Colorado, and from thence cross country to Colorado Springs, over the Ocean to Ocean route, which they say was the finest ever.

Mr. Gorder reports fine crops all along the way. On the way out they stayed one night in Nebraska, ate their breakfast in Kansas and their dinner in Colorado. They were especially pleased with the scenery in and around Colorado Springs, Colorado City and also at Palmer lake. In returning, they came to Denver, and from there east over the Lincoln highway, which did not impress them much as being a good automobile route. Along this route they found crops looking pretty good, the more so the further east they got. Saturday night they stayed at Chapman, a station a little ways west of Central City, at which place they had not expected to stop, but the rain made the roads so slippery they decided to remain there over night. From that place they drove to Plattsmouth Sunday, the roads being very good and traveling fine. In all they enjoyed the trip very much.

WILL MAKE A FARM.

With in a short time C. W. Baylor, who has made his home in this city for a number of years and whose life has been identified with the best interests of the city, will remove from Plattsmouth and become an agriculturist in eastern Colorado, location some nine miles north of Hugo. There on the virgin prairie Mr. Baylor will settle and there build himself a farm and home. We feel assured that in this he will succeed, as he has made a success of everything which he has had to do with in this city. We do not like to see Mr. Baylor depart from this city, but when the matter comes to where opportunity invites, he will have to make his choice. When he departs we wish that he may find abundant prosperity in his new home.

MARRIED AT THE CHURCH.

Yesterday morning at six o'clock, was pronounced the words which united the hearts and lives of one of the fairest of the daughters of Plattsmouth with one of the hardy and valorous sons of Omaha, when Miss Helen Ptacek of this city, was married to Joe Dorrier of Omaha. The bride, Miss Ptacek, was born and reared in this city, where she has a host of friends, while the groom lives in Omaha on the south side, where he had prepared a home for his bride. The wedding ceremony was pronounced at the Holy Rosary Catholic church, by the Rev. Father Vleck, at early mass at six o'clock.

None but the immediate family were in attendance. The newly married couple remained at the home of the bride during the day when they departed on the last Missouri Pacific train for their home, which the groom had furnished in South Omaha. The Journal with their many friends join in wishing them a joyous journey through life, with as few of the unpleasanties as can come to the lot of mortals, and with as much of the joys of life as nature in her proficacy sees fit to give her favored ones.
