

50 More Men Called for Examination

OUT OF ONE HUNDRED EIGHTY FOUR PREVIOUSLY EXAMINED THE EXEMPTION PERCENTAGE WAS SO GREAT AS TO MAKE SHORTAGE IN FILLING CASS COUNTY'S QUOTA

GENERAL SHORTAGE ALL OVER COUNTRY OWING TO EXEMPTIONS

This County Called to Furnish Ninety-Two—Still About Twenty-Five Short and Hence This Call of Fifty Additional Men for Examination—Men Will be Examined Next Friday.

Fifty more Cass county men have been called for examination, the notices being sent out today to that number to appear for examination on October 5th. This is made necessary by the fact that out of one hundred and eighty-four previously examined the exemption percentage ran so high as to make a shortage of some twenty-five men in this county's quota of ninety-two men to be furnished under the first draft. A like condition prevails generally over the country and some boards have found it necessary to issue two and three such supplementary calls as this before they have been able to certify enough men to fill their quotas. The general average has shown that not more than about one man out of every three examined is certified for service, either through disability or the acceptance of an exemption claim. Cass county's percentage exempted on account of disability is much below the average while the percentage claiming and receiving exemption is about the same as in other counties over the state. Following are the names of the men who are called in this supplemental list for examination, and out of which the local board hopes to be able to certify the twenty-five needed to complete the county's quota of ninety-two:

Directors' Meeting Last Night

From Friday's Daily.
At a meeting of the board of directors of the Cass County Bank last evening at the bank building, the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of T. M. Patterson was filled by the election of R. F. Patterson to the position, while the position of director, which also became vacant, and which was formerly filled by T. M. Patterson was filled by the election of Mr. T. E. Parmele to the position.
Mr. R. F. Patterson who has been chosen as the cashier of the bank has been connected with the institution for a number of years has shown himself one of the most efficient and painstaking gentlemen. He has a host of friends in and out of this city who will be pleased to know of his selection to the position of cashier.

Bert M. Barber, of Omaha, having passed forty-two mile stones in the journey of life, having been married once before, and divorced, and Miss Minnie Steffer, of Omaha, aged 24, slipped slyly off the train yesterday which came from Omaha, and proceeded to the office of the county judge, where they were sold a marriage license by the accommodating clerk, and were united in marriage by his honor, the judge. They departed for their home in Omaha on a later train.

WILL BUILD IN THE SPRING.

J. P. Falter and C. C. Parmele yesterday purchased the property just across the street west of where T. M. Patterson lives, and which will be taken by Mr. Falter, whose intentions are to erect a small building in the coming spring, where he will expect to live himself. This is indeed a beautiful building spot, with a great view and will make an ideal spot for a home.

A LETTER FROM ROY HOLLY TELLS OF ARMY LIFE

SAYS BOYS ALL GETTING ALONG FINE AND FEELING GOOD AT CAMP FUNSTON

The Journal Eagerly Looked For by Members of the Cass County Contingent now in Camp

Camp Funston, Sept. 26th.
The Plattsmouth Journal:
Friend R. A. Bates: This is to let you know that the Cass county contingent arrived here safely and in good health. We all felt rather blue after leaving Plattsmouth, but we spent our time on the train getting acquainted and jollied up a little. We arrived in Kansas City at 4:30 and had our supper at the depot. We then divided up into squads of six men to view the city. We enjoyed the sights in K. C. until 8 o'clock and then left for Camp Funston. We arrived at Camp Funston about 2 a. m. were met at the station by officers and checked up, and were then invited to take a nice cold shower bath, examined and ordered to change clothes. We were then issued mess kits, a hat, shoes, underwear, hosiery and trousers. Following this procedure we were then ordered to quarters. We slept that night on bed sacks filled with hay, on the floor and with no blankets. Some comfortable sleep for the first night. We were called up at 5:45 a. m. and lined up in front of our barracks for instruction, then had mess, or breakfast, or "chow" as it is called here.

We were lucky to be quartered in the same barracks as Carl Dalton, Leo Tigbe, O. Miller, Hall Pollard and Elie Munger, all of whom are with the Cass county bunch. Carl Dalton is mess sergeant and the rest of the men are acting corporals.

On Thursday we were called out to drill and take the physical examination. In the afternoon we were vaccinated and received the typhoid inoculation. Friday was lecture day and the captain gave several lectures about army rules and regulations. We did not drill as all of us had sore arms, and we sure did not feel like moving around. Saturday we drilled in the forenoon and washed our clothing in the afternoon. Saturday afternoon is clean-up and wash day. We have to shave and shine our shoes every day for retreat which is at 5:20 p. m. Cleanliness is important here, and the quarters have to be scrubbed twice a week, and beds aired every Friday morning. We were issued a complete uniform and toilet kits, which consist of toothbrush, hair brush, soap and towels, on last Saturday; also bed cots and blankets, so we sleep more comfortable now. I received several copies of the Journal last Sunday and had to pass them around the barracks, as all the fellows from Cass county were anxious to read the news. We sure would appreciate the daily Journal here, as we all like to read about good old Platts. The men are all feeling much better now as the loneliness has worn off and we like it much better. We sure get good treatment and good food here. The Lieutenant Colonel, in his lecture the other day said that we should drop the word "boys" and say men, as only men can be in the U. S. army.

TOOK A NUMBER OF MOVES.

From Friday's Daily.
Fred Guenter married some time since, and as a consequence, thought a home would be the proper thing, and he was right. The home is the mainstay of the nation. He arranged to farm on the old home place west of the city. Anton Meisinger is living there and has been for some time. C. H. Rist has been living on the farm of Phillip Becker, Sr., the one whom we heard of being killed he and wife in Illinois. Having lived there for some time he has done well, and having accumulated some money longed for a home of his own. Finding a farm near Murdock, or between there and Ashland, purchased the same, on which he will move in the spring. He having already sowed some winter wheat on the farm. This left this farm without a tenant, so Anton Meisinger, whose move it was, has rented this farm, and will move on it in the spring. This has made a place for them all, and all are satisfied.

HAVE AN ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Yesterday afternoon at their meeting at the Perkins House, the Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church, their annual election of officers was had, resulting in the selection of the following officers:
Mrs. Val Burkel, president; Mrs. Don York, first vice president; Mrs. John V. Hatt, second vice president; Mrs. Charles Carlson, secretary; and Mrs. Henry Mauzy, treasurer. With these ladies at the head of the management of the affairs of the society, it would seem that they should make good progress.

W. R. HOLLY.

BUSINESS IS VERY GOOD.

From Friday's Daily.
With all the numbers almost in use on the extensive switchboard of the Lincoln Telegraph and Telephone Company, and still the business coming their way, it has become necessary for the company to put another section on their switch board, in order to accommodate the increasing business. Besides this, they are compelled to build more cable in order to have lines for the connections of subscribers. This is a pretty fair barometer of the business interests of the community, and when the telephonic service has to be extended, the business has increased to demand more and better service. You people who think the city and community in general is not progressing, notwithstanding the fact of high prices and high cost of living, must take stock and find where you are. The town is getting better to business, in its morals, in its society and all other ways, our town is growing better in all ways. Put your shoulder to the wheel and help push it along.

RETURNS FROM BURLINGTON.

From Friday's Daily.
Frank Moore this morning returned from a visit in Burlington, Iowa and vicinity, where he was called about a week since by the serious illness of his last surviving aunt, Mrs. J. Jesters, of Danville, Iowa, a small station this side of Burlington. Mr. Moore received the message last Sunday, and which was sent the day before. He immediately started for the bedside of his aunt, but she has passed away before his arrival. Mr. Moore's family lived at Danville before the war and removed to this state and county in the late fifties, Mr. Frank Moore being born a few miles south of this city, August 31st, 1858.

IMPROVING SLOWLY.

From Friday's Daily.
Friends in the city are in receipt of a letter from Col. J. F. Thrasher, who is with his son Connie at Deer Lodge, Mont., in which he states that he is still under the doctor's care and very weak and nervous. Has not walked a block for seven weeks and that he hopes to be able to return to Plattsmouth about November first. He also writes that his daughter, Mrs. Agnes Keffler is now living at Drummond, Mont., a town about thirty-five miles west of Deer Lodge. Colonel's many friends will be sorry to learn of his continued illness but trust he will regain his usual good health and soon be able to return to this city and be in their midst again.

VISITS DAUGHTER AT EAGLE.

From Friday's Daily.
Yesterday Mrs. Thomas W. Glen departed for Eagle where she will visit with her daughter Miss May Glen, who is one of the teachers in the public schools of that place. Mrs. Glen will stay until Sunday and departed for Eagle where she will visit with a sister Mrs. Susan Bernard for a short time before she returns home.

INJURED IN THE SHOPS.

Just as we go to press we hear of an accident which occurred this afternoon at the Burlington shops when Oliver Harvey was hurt while at work on the freight car repair tracks. He was raising a car when the handle of one of the jacks underneath the car slipped and flew up, striking him under the chin in such manner as to cut a gash nearly two inches in length and deep enough to make a severe wound. The Burlington physicians dressed the injury, which will be the cause of laying Mr. Harvey up for a considerable time.

VISITED THE CHILDREN.

From Friday's Daily.
Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Peterson returned this morning from a trip which has taken over a week, and which included Dakota City, Nebraska, where they visited first, returning with their son Andrew Peterson, who was visiting here from his home at that place, with his car, they going with him. From there they went to South Sioux City, Nebraska, where they visited with their daughter, Mrs. John M. Mayfield and family, for some time. After which they went to Havelock, where they visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cook, Mrs. Cook being a daughter.

BUYS FARM WHERE BORN.

From Friday's Daily.
Yesterday was concluded a deal whereby Major Anderson Hall becomes possessor of the farm on which he was born, and where he lived for the first few years of his life, what is now known as the Parmele and Sage ranch. It is the farm just across the Missouri river, in Iowa, which has been farmed the past year by Parmele and Albert Funk. James Hall, father of Dr. J. H. Hall and M. A. Hall and a number of the other boys, owned this farm for about five years away back in the early sixties, and after selling it, built a home where Allen Land now lives, living there for many years. In purchasing this farm Mr. Hall is acquiring an excellent farm both for farming and stock raising, and especially the latter. The place which comprised 346 acres, is of ample proportions for the keeping and feeding a large herd of cattle each year. Consideration about $50,000.00 and the deal was made through the real estate agency of W. E. Rosenkrans.

SEVENTH BIRTHDAY.

From Friday's Daily.
Little Miss Charlotte Field was seven years old Wednesday and a number of her little friends were invited to come to her home on Wintersteen Hill to assist her in celebrating the occasion. For several hours the little folks played various games, which made the afternoon most delightful to them. At 6 o'clock a tempting birthday luncheon was served, consisting of ice cream, cake, fruit and candies. Mrs. Field was assisted in serving by Mrs. A. T. Fitt. Just at dusk the little guests departed for their homes, wishing Miss Charlotte many more happy birthdays.

Those in attendance were Ruth Lushinsky, Edith LeGway, Carolina Schulhof, Bertha Schulhof, Matilda Olson, George Olson, Clara Olson, Ruth Smith, Dallas Hawkenbury, Charlotte Field, Edwin Field.

ANOTHER VERY FINE GARAGE TO BE BUILT

POLLOCK AUTO COMPANY WILL SOON COMMENCE ERECTION OF NEW FORD HOME.

New Building to be Erected at Sixth and Pearl Streets will be Replete with All Modern Conveniences.

From Saturday's Daily.
Plans are now in the hands of the architect, George A. Berlinghof, of Lincoln, for the erection of another fine garage for the city of Plattsmouth, to be known as the home of the Ford. This building will be erected on the corner of Sixth and Pearl streets by the Pollock Auto company. The new structure will be modern in every particular, absolutely fireproof, and built of steel and concrete. It will be a two story building 60x120 feet. The first story, which will be a full basement, will be used as a repair room, with one section for Ford supplies and accessories. The second floor will be devoted exclusively to the office equipment and show room.

When completed, this will be one of the most modern garages in the state, with right up-to-the-minute conveniences, and will be of sufficient size to accommodate the many Ford customers, as well as all other car owners. The rapid growth of the Ford business in this territory, and the increased territory given Mr. Pollock for the coming year has necessitated more modern conveniences for the carrying on of the business.

The lot owned by Mr. Pollock on this corner is very large and when the new building is completed he will have a space 70x140 feet to the west of the building. It is his intention to make this a public parking place. The lot, which is slightly below the level of the street, will contain a concrete driveway on either side, with a flower garden in the center and will make a very attractive garden spot for the customers' convenience of the new Ford home.

It is Mr. Pollock's intention to rush the building to completion as rapidly as possible, so before many days this old corner in the city will be one of the most beautiful to be seen here. Let the good work go on. Plattsmouth is booming and we want the world to know it.
