

ALLY COUNCIL IN COMMAND OF ITALIANS

CADORNA REMOVED FROM SUPREME CHARGE AND DIAZ IS MADE CHIEF.

ROMAN CONTINUE TO RETREAT

Expected That Stand Will be Made at Piave River, Aided by the Anglo-French Forces.

The Italian armies continue their retreat across the Venetian plains toward the Piave river, where it is expected a stand will be made, aided by the British and French reinforcements and under a newly formed military command which is to work in conjunction with a permanent inter-allied conference of military officers.

General Cadorna has been removed from supreme command and given a post on the inter-allied conference, the other members of which will be the noted French general Foch and General Wilson, sub-chief of the British general staff. General Diaz has been placed in chief command of the Italians. General Badoglio is second and General Grandino third.

Causes Much Satisfaction.

Among military officials the decision of the allies to create a permanent military committee has caused great satisfaction. It is accepted as evidence that the allies have awakened to the necessity for the closest union of the whole length of the western front for political and military conduct of the war.

General Diaz, the new supreme commander, is rated as one of the ablest Italian military leaders. For years he was connected with the general staff. He took part in the Libyan war, serving as a colonel, and was wounded so severely that he asked to be wrapped in a flag, feeling that death was at hand. He rendered distinguished service in the present campaign. He is from southern Italy. General Badoglio is a northerner. In the war he has been in command of a brigade of Bersaglieri, whose heroic deeds have done much to decrease the gravity of the disaster.

General Grandino was minister of war in the cabinet of Premier Boselli. He was one of the leading generals of the second army.

Hold Back Enemy.

Rome, Nov. 9.—An official announcement says: "Our troops continue to arrive and establish themselves on the positions chosen for resistance. Our rear guards are holding back the enemy."

NOW CHIEF BOAT SWAIN MATE.

From Saturday's Daily. This morning Mrs. J. W. Gamble of Omaha and son, Cedric Eaton, who eight years ago left Plattsmouth to join the Navy, and who has since that time been connected with the United States service in that capacity. Mr. Eaton who is now Chief Boat Swain Mate, has climbed in the line of promotion through his application to the duties which were required of him until he has attained the position which he now occupies. Mr. Eaton likes the services, and arrived in Omaha a few days since to visit with his parents J. W. Gamble and wife and will return to the service next week some time. He and mother visited with the old time, friends here today, all of whom he has not seen for eight years.

McMAKEN NEW GARAGE.

From Thursday's Daily. The bricklayers have completed their task, having finished yesterday morning, and departed for their home last evening. This put the building in shape that the other work can be pushed forward more rapidly. The boiler for the heating system has been set, and the chimney constructed, and is but a short time it will be ready for operation so that should a cold spell arrive it would place the workmen in position so that the work might not stop. Workmen are placing the main pipes for the heating in position, so that when the other things are out of the way the remainder of the heating system can be put in place. The approaches to the building are being placed in position, being of cement and are in course of construction, being nearly completed at this time. Their gasoline tank which is placed in the ground is of adequate proportions being about twenty feet long by ten feet wide, and some seven feet, which will hold gasoline in proportion to the building holding cars.

Funeral Of John Davis

From Friday's Daily. W. H. Seybert and wife returned last evening from Springfield, where they were attending the funeral of John Davis, who formerly lived near Cullom on the south side of the river but who later moved to the north side where he farmed. Some time since he was taken sick and taken to a hospital at Omaha, and was brought home last Saturday morning dying that night. He was about 64 years of age, and leaves a large family of children. Four of his daughters acted as pall bearers, the funeral was held at Springfield, and the interment made there.

CAUGHT A CHICKEN THIEF.

From Friday's Daily. A. R. Troop has been missing his chickens for some time of late, and has been trying to catch the thief, so two nights ago, when he heard a noise at his chicken roost, he hastened out to see if he could catch the thief in which he was successful, for he bagged a large opossum, which had been the chicken thief. Dispatching the lover of the toothsome fowls Mr. Troop now does not look for some of his fine flocks to keep missing.

RETURNS HOME TODAY.

From Thursday's Daily. Hillard Grassman was a passenger to Omaha this morning, where he goes to return with Mrs. Grassman who has been at the hospital at that place for some two weeks, and where she underwent an operation and has been receiving treatment since. Mrs. Grassman is showing good improvement and it is pleasing news to her many friends that she is able to return home at this time. Mr. Grassman also will visit his sister Miss Edith Grassman who is at the St. Joseph hospital where she is very sick with pneumonia.

THE HIGH SCHOOL PROGRESSING

From Thursday's Daily. With the walls of the new High School building assuming nearly their wanted shape, and getting near where they should be, it is making the building look like the place it is to be. The inner walls yet have to be built, and will be a matter not so much moment when the other mason work has been completed. With the dearth of labor it has been a task to keep enough help to make the work move along as it should, but under the wise management of the manager the work has gone along nicely.

FIRE DESTROYS BOARDING HOUSE

From Thursday's Daily. Yesterday afternoon at a little distance from Louisville, occurred a fire which destroyed one of the boarding houses of the Woodworth stone quarries. The building was burned entirely to the ground, and no intimation exists as to how the fire was started.

Mrs. P. O. Stuchell Tells How She Cured Her Son of a Cold.

"When my son Ellis was sick with a cold last winter I gave him Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It helped him at once and quickly broke up his cold," writes Mrs. P. O. Stuchell, Homer City, Pa. This remedy has been in use for many years. Its good qualities have been fully proven by many thousands of people. It is pleasant and safe to take.

U. S. AID GOES ON IN SPITE OF FRESH RUSSIAN REVOLT

CONDITIONS IN PETROGRAD WILL NOT CHANGE GOVERNMENT'S ATTITUDE TOWARD ECONOMIC RELIEF.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Russia's latest upheaval will not change the attitude of the American government toward measures under way for the relief of economic conditions in the demoralized country. This statement applying particularly to contracts placed with money borrowed from the United States for vast quantities of shoes and clothing for the civilian population was the only authorized comment at the state department today upon the overthrow of the Kerensky government at Petrograd.

Injured Her Finger Severely

From Friday's Daily. Miss Mattie Gopen, while doing some sewing had the misfortune to get one of her fingers under the presser foot of the machine, thus allowing the needle to pass through the finger and break off. The surgeon had to place her under the influence of chloroform, in order to make an incision to remove the part, and dress the wound. The injury is now getting along nicely but is and has been very sore.

ANOTHER MEMBER OF THE FIRM

From Friday's Daily. There was added to the firm of Mr. and Mrs. Henry McMaken today a junior member, who is a son of these good people. The young man who is small of stature, and who has had but a limited experience in business promises to take a lively interest in the home and business beginning with today. No particular title had been given to the work which he is to perform, but he is Master of Ceremonies, without a doubt. The mother and father are both getting along all right, and McMaken the younger, is doing fine too. No wonder one heard something that sounded like a mocking bird; we thought it was some one trying to whistle the Star Spangled Banner, Old Lang Sine, Coming Thru the Rye, and a half dozen other songs all together.

EDITH GRASSMAN IMPROVING.

From Saturday's Daily. Miss Edith Grassman who has been sick at a hospital at Omaha with pneumonia, induced by the drug administered when she underwent the operation for the removal of her tonsils, is reported as doing nicely this morning. The nurse in charge of the patient reports this morning over the telephone that the crisis is past and that improvement is now looked for. This will be good news to her many friends in this city.

RADICALS MUST BE CRUSHED, SAYS RUSSIAN ENVOY

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 8.—In an address here tonight Boris A. Bakhemetteff, the Russian ambassador, declared that if Russia is to achieve her political freedom the Maximalists who revolted against the Kerensky provisional government at Petrograd, must be overthrown. Immediate peace, such as the Maximalists propose, he said, could result only in Russian oppression.

While not attempting to belittle the gravity of the situation in the Russian capital, Ambassador Bakhemetteff said the Maximalist revolt was a revolt of the few against the many.

Will Fight to End.

"The majority of the Russians who followed Kerensky since the Romanoffs were overthrown last March," the ambassador said, "are heart and soul with the Kerensky government. They fully understand the freedom of Russia is assured only through an allied victory against Prussian autocracy. They will fight to the end."

Soon after his arrival here from Washington Ambassador Bakhemetteff was informed by the officials of the overthrow of the Kerensky government. His reply to the disquieting news was that "the intent and spirit of Russia as a whole can in no way be judged by the news from Petrograd" and, he added that the spirit prevailing in the capital is not representative of the Russian spirit as a whole.

Ambassador Bakhemetteff tonight was without advice from Petrograd regarding the new revolution.

A Plattsmouth Boy At Sea.

From Friday's Daily. The following is a letter from George Rennie, who is in the navy, to Carl Kunsman his former employer, in which he tells of some of his experiences on the ocean.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 25, 1917.

"Hello Butch"

Well, as I am ashore and having one of those times I used to tell you about when I was there in the back room, and Turk Murray and I did the killing. (Oh boy,) those were some days, believe me, but now "Shy" is an old salty sailor, away out here on the deep blue. We had an awful storm the other night and the old battle wagon rolled and went bow end straight up and came down, and when it went up my stomach did too, but when it came down my stomach could not make the loop, and I heaved up, ha, ha, some sea sick baby, believe me. But it's all in the game so I'll take mine and say nothing, for it really was fun to see the others. Some got mad and wanted to fight, so I had to take one of them on, but we didn't look so had after we got through, but I'll say that that guy could fight and was sure there. Well I suppose you will think this a crazy letter, but it is just like me, so don't mind. Well, I'll close now, and hoping to hear from you in the very near future, I am just the same old "Shy Fox."

GEORGE RENNIE.

WILL MAKE THEIR HOME HERE.

From Thursday's Daily. John Boyer of near Gretna and family, a wife and four children were in the city yesterday, and concluded a trade, whereby he becomes the possessor of a five acre tract, south of the city, purchasing the same through the A. J. Trilitty agency. Mr. Boyer and family will soon move to this city and make their home here. Mrs. Boyer is a daughter of Mr. Alex Russell who resides across the river near Pacific Junction, Iowa.

LUKE WILES HAS HAND CRUSHED VERY BADLY

From Saturday's Daily. This morning Luke Wiles was in the city to bring Mrs. Wiles to the train and to meet his sister who should have returned from Minnatare but who did not make the train. After he returned to his home, he went to the field to pick corn, and in attempting to adjust the picker, got his right hand caught in the mechanism of the machinery, crushing and breaking the hand very badly. The machine was stopped, and the horses unhitched, while the hand remained in the machinery. The hired man was compelled to get a wrench and partially take the machine apart before the hand could be released. John Gorder who sold the machine was telephoned for but the hand had been gotten out before he arrived. Mr. Gorder placed Mr. Wiles in his car and hastened to the city where the member was dressed. Mr. Wiles was suffering a great deal of pain, and was placed under the influence of ether while the operation was performed. The hand was broken from the back to the front, the bones being driven into the palm of the hand, which was cut open by the machinery. The hand was otherwise bruised and mangled.

Dictatorship FOR RUSS LOOMS AS POSSIBILITY

HOPE FOR KERENSKY GOVERNMENT IN CHANCE THAT RADICALS MAY NOT SUCCEED IN RALLYING ARMY TO CAUSE.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Discouragement felt here over the news of the Kerensky government at Petrograd is tempered by hope that the extreme radicals who have seized the capital may not be able to extend their control over the army or any considerable part of the country. However, it is feared that much blood must be shed and the nation further demoralized before any power rises above the turmoil strong enough to control the situation.

True Condition Uncertain.

The State department and the Russian embassy were without official advice tonight, consequently there was no official comment on the situation. Informally it was pointed out that with the telegraph lines and the semi-official news agency at Petrograd in the hands of the radicals it would be difficult to learn the true state of affairs, although there was no disposition to question the collapse of the provisional government's power in the capital.

Whether this control of the channels of information will extend to interference with relief which Ambassador Francis and other diplomatic representatives are seeking to send is not known.

Cossacks Always Conservative.

The suggestion that the new power at Petrograd may be short lived is based to an extent upon the fact that the Cossacks, the best military force in Russia, always have been reckoned upon to support a strong conservative government.

It was conceived in some quarters that if Kerensky, fleeing from the capital, should be able to bring to his support General Korniloff, the strong man of the Russian army, with his Cossack backers, he might set up a new and stronger government at Moscow, where he could count upon the loyalty of a majority of the population.

Dictatorship Is Possible.

In view of the intensity of the democratic spirit developed in Russia since the overthrow of the czar, it is regarded here as difficult to conceive of the appearance of any other form of government other than a republic, yet in diplomatic circles, where the peculiar temperament of the Russian masses is well understood, the opinion is expressed that out of sheer weariness with revolutions and anarchy, the majority of the people might suddenly decide to confide their destinies in a dictator, thereby following in the footsteps of the radicals in the French revolution.

Finds Owner For Stray Car

From Friday's Daily. Through the number plate on the car which was picked up by the sheriff yesterday, a Ford roadster, Mr. Quinton was able to locate the man who wned the car. The car was so it would not run, the coil box being loose, and whoever had stolen it had abandoned the car and made good their get-away. E. N. Turrell the owner is to arrive today for the car.

WILLIAM STOTTLER DIED LAST NIGHT

From Thursday's Daily. Miss Hazel Stottler adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clugey, received the news this morning of the death of her grandfather, William Stottler, aged ninety-two years, which occurred at the farm home northeast of Union last evening at about nine thirty o'clock. Mr. Stottler, who at his advanced age was very feeble, was still able to get around until just recently. His wife who was some younger than himself passed away at the home last winter. They have lived in the vicinity of Union for nearly forty years. Mr.

Stottler and his wife were the parents of a large family, all of whom are living. They being Samuel, Carey, Loren, George, Walter, who is the father of Miss Hazel, who makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clugey, Mrs. Sarah, Ira, and Ella. The funeral will occur from the Baptist church of Union, of which Mr. Stottler was a member, and the interment will be at the Union Cemetery. Rev. Taylor will officiate.

Death of Mrs. Bertha Rhode

From Friday's Daily. Mrs. Bertha Rhode, who has been making her home for some time at the home of Mr. Henry Leuchtweis, died last evening of heart failure after a severe attack of acute indigestion. Mrs. Rhode who has lived in and about Plattsmouth for the past nearly twenty years was about thirty-five years of age. She is the daughter of L. H. Vestal, of Elmwood, and was married a number of years ago to a Mr. Richards, who lived at Ashland, who died, and then she was united in marriage to Gust Rhode, who was for a number of years reporter on the News. As yet there have been no arrangements for the funeral. Mrs. Rhode had been sick for only about a week, but the suffering was so intense that the heart which was weak, was affected and death ensued.

Cattle Sale In Murray.

From Friday's Daily. G. E. Berger, from Ness City, Kansas, was in the city Thursday of this week for a brief visit with friends, and was a pleasant caller at the Journal office. George has been in the cattle business in Kansas for the past number of years, and has arranged for the holding of a sale of cattle in Murray, on Saturday, Nov. 17th. The sale will be held at the stock yards. Watch this paper and bills for further announcement of the sale.

MRS. SEYBOLD VERY SICK.

From Thursday's Daily. Mrs. Harriett Seybold, mother of J. B. Seybold and Mrs. A. C. Mutz, is very sick at the home of her son northwest of Murray, with pneumonia, having been taken with a few days since. Mr. and Mrs. Mutz were called to her bedside Wednesday morning, and her daughter Mrs. Mutz, remaining at her bedside, while Mr. Mutz returned to Plattsmouth to attend to some business. Mr. Seybold who is 82 years of age feels that the sickness is not serious and hopes to be able to be up again soon.

APPEAL TO INTERSTATE COMMISSION TO HEAR PLEAS FOR GENERAL ADVANCE.

December 17 Fixed by Body for Conference With Carrier Chiefs.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—Western railroads today asked the interstate commerce commission for a conference to discuss a general freight rate advance similar to that new under consideration and December 17 was assigned for the conference.

Hold Enthusiastic Y.M.C.A. Meeting

From Friday's Daily. Last evening through the invitation of Wilson Gilmore who is the chairman for Mt. Pleasant precinct for the Y. M. C. A. war work fund, Mr. C. A. Rawls went there to hold a meeting and address the same. There were nearly forty present including the men and young men. The meeting was enthusiastic in the whole course, thirty-three of the thirty-seven present subscribing to the fund. The amount to be raised by the entire precinct was two hundred and fifty-five dollars, and this meeting taking hold of the matter raised $155.00 by the subscriptions of those present leaving only one hundred dollars to be raised by those outside of the meeting. This is showing enthusiasm and interest in the move beyond the fondest expectations of Mr. Rawls, who is greatly pleased with the outlook for the entire county. With this feeling, the meeting which is to be held here on Sunday evening at the Parmele Theatre, should be such as the capacity of the building would not be able to hold those who desire to attend. The quota for Plattsmouth which near the thousand dollar mark should be easily raised, on that night, although the drive for the clearing up of the fund will not occur until next week.

THE NEBRASKA SCHOOL OF CAMOUFLAGE

(From the Plattsmouth Journal.) Frank R. Gohelman has just completed a piece of work, which is artistic in its execution, in the removing of a package of soda from a picture of a hunting dog, in the grass, substituting for the space occupied, which so blended with the picture that it is not possible to see that any alterations have been made. Chicago Tribune.

The above appeared in the Plattsmouth Journal some months since as a news item, and was copied by the Chicago Tribune, as a joke on the methods practiced in Nebraska, but still acknowledging that the best in this case was placed on the outside. Otherwise it would not have been entitled to have designated it "Camouflage."
