MURRAY STATE BANK

Lewiston for Thanksgiving. For Sale: Five Duroc boars. Oldham Stock Farm.

Miss Laura Puls was home from Omaha last Sunday, to spend the day with her parents.

Fred Condon and Miss Pauline Oldham were Plattsmouth visitors last Saturday evening.

Jake Hill and family were visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Puls in Murray last Sunday.

Wm. Betts, from near Avoca, was in Murray last Sunday looking after some business matters and visiting with friends.

Jake Kreager and family, Philip Hill and family, Charles Herren and wife and Wm. Renner and family spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Puls and family in Murray.

A. L. Baker autoed to Lincoln last Sunday evening with his daughter, Miss Opha, and Miss Jesse Barrows, who were returning to their studies in the capital city. They were accompanied on the trip by Miss Eva LaRue.

The Oldham Stock Farm purchased a fine Holstein bull from T. J. Current, at Hildruth, Nebraska, this week. He is a fine individual, well marked, has an extra pedigree as to the particular breed and milking record. The owners feel that they have added to the strength and strains of their herd in the selection of this individual.

FOR SALE!
2 pure bred Holstein males—yearling and 2-year-old; pedigreed. A bargain if taken at once. Also, a few mtch cows.

REX YOUNG,
Murray, Nebr.

Roy Cline was an Omaha visitor last Sunday.

Turkey and the trimmings, at Lewiston, on Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Chas. Troop, of Plattsmouth, visited the home of Mrs. D. C. Rhoden in Murray last Friday.

Mrs. Baumeister, of Plattsmouth, was visiting for a few days the past week in Murray at the home of Mrs. W. E. Dull.

Arthur Hansen and family drove to Murdock last Sunday where they spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. O. E. McDonald and family.

Miss Vera Lewis, of Coleridge, Neb., spent a few days in Murray during the past week visiting with her aunt, Mrs. D. C. Rhoden.

W. J. Philp shipped three cars of cattle down from South Omaha last Saturday morning, that were driven to his farm home for feeding.

B. C. Davis of Chicago, stopped off in Murray last Sunday for a few days visit with his mother, Mrs. B. A. Root. Mr. Davis is traveling for a Chicago firm.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Bell were transacting business and visiting with county seat friends Wednesday afternoon of this week. They were pleasant callers at the Journal office.

The Farmers of this community have stopped gathering corn together, preferring to let it remain in the field for some time yet with the hope that it will dry out before cribbing it.

Willie Lintner returned home from the hospital in Omaha Tuesday. Louie Rheinackle went to the city after him Monday and returned Tuesday morning. He is getting along nicely at this time.

The next number of the Murray lecture course will be given on Saturday evening, November 24th, the number being Frederick Dale Wood, in one of his favorite lectures. Note that advertisement elsewhere on this page.

Mr. Andrus and son, Harold, from Manley, were in Murray Tuesday of this week enroute to Plattsmouth, where Harold was to take the examination for Uncle Sam's army.

Harold was registered from North Dakota, where he had been living at the time of the draft, but by permission from the authorities he takes the examination in this county, but when called for duty will report from the North Dakota point where he lived.

Louie Bannick, who enlisted in the army from Coleridge last spring, and who has been stationed at San Antonio, Texas, all summer, writes home folks to the effect that he has sailed for France. Mr. Bannick is a brother of W. H. Puls, and worked here for Mr. Puls a couple of years ago, and is quite well acquainted in and near Murray. His letter to home folks stated that he sailed on November 1st.

Y. M. C. A. Meeting.
While the attendance at the Y. M. C. A. meeting held in Murray on Monday evening was not quite up to what was expected it would be, it made up in enthusiasm and interest what it fell short in the attendance. Everyone in the audience will prove a worker for the good cause, and will do all they can at that. Mr. E. H. Wescott, of Plattsmouth, was present and delivered a very able and interesting talk along the lines of the good work being done by the "Y" in the army. Hill has placed his whole heart and soul in the Y. M. C. A. work in this great war, firmly believing it to be one of the fundamental principles upon which this great struggle will be won, and too much work cannot be done along these lines. His talk was well received by all. Mrs. Wescott favored the audience with vocal selections, also Mr. Don York, and Miss Caldwell violin selections, and Mrs. Wm. Baird in interesting readings, made up the evenings entertainment, after which donations for the "Y" benefit were received, raising almost $200.00 at this meeting. Mr. W. G. Boedeker was chosen Precinct Chairman at the Weeping Water meeting, and at this meeting A. L. Baker was chosen secretary, and G. M. Minford treasurer, and a working organization will be perfected for the canvassing of the entire precinct within the next few days. Do not be afraid that you will give too much for this great work. In case the quota is oversubscribed it will be kept in the home treasury for future calls and needs. Let your donation be liberal, you will never regret it.

Reba and Cleonia Frans are numbered with the sick this week.

R. R. Nickels took a load of apples to the cider mill at Nehawka Wednesday.

Are you thinking of Lewiston, the "Home of Good Eats" on Thanksgiving day?

John Hobscheidt, residing east of Murray, has been numbered with the sick for the past week.

Miss Mabel Donat, teacher of the Lewiston school, has been on the tick list for the past few days.

A. C. Crunk, from Deepwater, Mo., arrived this week for an extended visit with his son, Arthur Crunk and family.

Col. Seybolt, Dr. E. F. Brendel, and John Farris and wife autoed to Omaha Tuesday afternoon, in the Col's car.

Mrs. John Hostetter, who has been visiting in Omaha for the past few weeks, came down to Murray this week for a visit with her son Dee and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Puls and Mrs. Will Renner drove to Omaha last Friday, returning home in the evening accompanied by Mrs. Chas. Snell of South Omaha, who spent a few days at the Puls home. Mr. Snell came down Sunday and after spending the day returned home with Mrs. Snell.

W. G. Boedeker and family, Chas. Boedeker, H. C. Creamer and family, Walt Sans and family, Miss Benlah, and A. L. Baker were most loyally entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alf Gansemer last Sunday. The feature of the day being the excellent dinner prepared by Mrs. Gansemer.

Rex and Albert Young returned home from Grant, Neb., last Saturday evening, where Rex held a very successful sale the day before. Mr. Young now holds the distinction of being the first man that sold a cow in Perkins county for $100.00, in the sale ring. As an auctioneer Rex is gaining a reputation in the west end of the state, as well as in the east.

Christian Church Chimes.
Our sermon subjects for next Lord's Day, Nov. 18th, will be "The World's Obligation" at the morning hour, and "The Value of a Man" at the evening service. The index of a community is its churches. A dead church spirit spells a dead community spirit. It is to the best interest of all to have a "wide awake" church, if our prosperity is to be permanent. Our Bible School is taking on new life. Come and do your "bit", and help to strengthen our community for the tasks before it. Everybody welcome.

D. L. HUGHES, Minister.

Married in Nebraska City.
On Sunday, November 11th, Miss Esther Rice, of Murray, and Mr. John E. Fitzpatrick, of Weeping Water, were married in Nebraska City. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rice, and has grown to young womanhood in the vicinity of Murray, where she has a host of friends and hearty well wishers for a happy and prosperous future. The groom is a young man of sterling worth, and is employed in the store of Crozier Brothers at Weeping Water, where he has a cozy home already prepared for their future residence. The Journal joins with the many friends in extending congratulations.

Close to Serious Accident.
Mark White and one of his employees on the farm came very near meeting with a serious accident last Friday morning when they were endeavoring to ascertain the fine points in the mechanism of an acetylene gas plant, and were exploring the interior of the gas generating tank, by the aid of one of the farm lanterns. They supposed the tank was entirely empty of gas, but when the lantern was brought into service it was discovered that they were mistaken, as the flame from the lantern caused one terrific explosion and both gentlemen were quite badly burned about the face and head. The damage was not serious to the plant or building, and the boys will be as good as new within a few days.

Jim Hill came near meeting with a serious auto accident Monday, on the road just west of Murray near the Oldham farm. The wheel gave way and one corner of the car came in contact with the nearby bank, and looked like a serious accident for a few minutes.

Mrs. Homer Sharder has been quite sick for the past few days.

Mrs. George Rhoden has been pretty sick for the past few days, suffering with an infection of the hand.

Mrs. Dick Chriswiser, residing down in the edge of Otoe county, has been numbered with the sick for the past week.

Grandma Seybolt, at the advanced age of eighty-three years, has been quite sick for the past few days, but at this time is reported some better.

FREDERICK DALE WOOD

BIOGRAPHY

Frederick Dale Wood (mostly known as Fred Dale Wood and as Fred Dale to his intimates) is of Virginia parentage and ancestry, his forebears having been members of the Virginia colony 100 years before the Declaration of Independence. He spent his boyhood in Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska, and when still a boy fared forth to see the world on his own account. The West was really "wild and woolly" in those days, and he suffered many hardships, but gained much experience.

He did almost every kind of work a growing boy could do, from working in a livery stable to "riding the herd" as a cowboy. He found time to learn the printer's trade and read law, being handicapped badly in the latter by lack of education.

During President Cleveland's first term he was given a place in the Indian service, although he was not of age, where the Sioux Indians named him "Gray Eagle," because his hair was then gray. Indeed, Mr. Wood says, laughingly, that he cannot remember a time when his hair was not gray.

After a time spent as a special newspaper writer, he moved to Seattle, Wash., where he practiced law and became prominent there, and was later besought to accept a nomination for Governor, which he refused.

He served two years in the army in the Philippines, losing his health as a consequence, which caused him to abandon his Seattle law practice and move to New York City, going from there to Chicago about four years ago.

During many years, he has been noted in national politics and has spoken in every state in the Union in behalf of Democratic presidential nominees. He has traveled widely throughout the world and is a gentleman of culture, refinement and knowledge. He is one of the most eloquent men in the public life of America and one of its deepest and most (Catholic) thinkers.

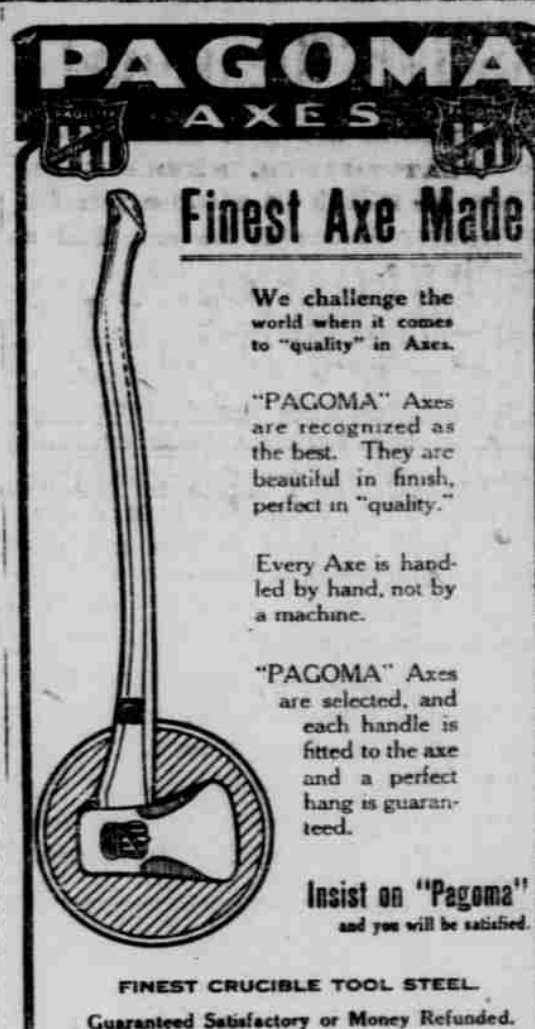

NOVEMBER 24TH.

TWO OBSOLETE IDEAS.

The idea that loathsome is wholesome should be consigned to the rubbish hole. Especially a remedy though highly efficient may be at the same time very palatable. Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine is a conclusive evidence that efficiency does not exclude palatability. Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine always helps, it does not matter how neglected your case of constipation, indigestion, headache, nervousness, general weakness, may be. It cleans out the stomach, restores healthy appetite, aids digestion and braces up the entire body. At drugstores. Another obsolete idea is that there is no reliable remedy for rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago, etc. Try at once Triner's Liniment and you will soon admit that you were mistaken. It is excellent also for sprains, strains, swellings, tired muscles and feet, etc. At drug stores. Jos. Triner, Manufacturing Chemist, 1333-1339 S. Ashland ave., Chicago, Ill.
