PROPRIETORS PLEDGE SELVES TO MEATLESS TUESDAYS AND WHEATLESS WEDNESDAYS

'CONSERVE' THE WATCHWORD

Sugar and Fats Will Also be Saved as Much as is Consistently Possible to Do So.

From Tuesday's Daily. The problem of the world today is to feed the fighting men and the people of the allied countries, and the solution of this problem falls on America, and especially the United States. Our government has established a food administration to accomplish conservation of our food supply, while the war is still plenty. A great portion of this work must be done in the home, but next to the home kitchen comes the hotels, restaurants and all places where food is prepared and served to the public. Realizing the importance of such conservation and appreciating the efforts of the food administration of the United States and its branch in Nebraska, we the undersigned proprietors of the hotels and restaurants of Plattsmouth, desire to co-operate with the food administration and abide by the following resolutions:

Resolved, That in the hotels and restaurants operated by any of the undersigned, Tuesday will be observed as a meatless day, and no beef, pork mutton or any of their by products will be served on that day. But in lieu thereof fish, fowl, game and vegetable foods will be substitutes.

Resolved, That Wednesday shall be observed as wheatless day, and in place of wheat bread and other wheat products, we will serve rye, graham, corn and other breads. Instead of pies and cakes we will use rice, forming ices and puddings that do not use wheat flour.

Resolved, That we will help in saving fat by using boiled, baked and roast foods, that we will do all we can to save sugar by preventing its waste so far as is possible and by using no more than is necessary in preparing food, whenever possible, syrups, honey and sorghum will be used for sweetening and no icing and frosting be used on pies or cakes.

Resolved, That we preach and practice the "Gospel of the clean plate" by serving such portions as will be eaten so that the waste will be lessened.

Resolved, That the membership cards of the Food Administration be displayed in all hotels and restaurants, observing the suggestions of the administration; that copies of these resolutions be printed in the Plattsmouth Journal and displayed in our dining rooms, to inform the public of our united efforts to "do our bit" in solving a world problem. S. G. WHEELER, A FORMER CITIZEN, TALKS TO CLASS

IN ADDRESS AT THE METHODIST CHURCH, HE DWELT ON RAILROAD PROBLEMS

Mechanical Faults Can be Overcome but Those Resulting from Liquor Can Not

From Tuesday's Daily. Last evening at the rooms of the Young Men's Bible Class at the Methodist Sunday school, was delivered one of the most intensely interesting addresses which we have listened to for some moons. The address was delivered by a former citizen of Plattsmouth, one who lived here more than three decades ago, and was for a number of years an engineer running an engine out of this city, Mr. S. G. Wheeler. When living here he occupied the home where Mrs. W. D. Jones now resides. After leaving here he has worked over the Burlington in Nebraska and lines west, and is acquainted with the whole Burlington system. While engaged in the locomotive division of the work of the company, he became interested in the air brake, propositions as a safety device and has pursued the idea, since, making it his special study. Last evening at the lecture room, he took up the proposition of air braking, on trains, first going back to the time when the first ox-cart was invented and the necessity of impeding its momentum on a down grade, which has in principle evolved until we have the perfected air brake of today. The first air brake was what is and has been known as straight air, which will be a force air pump located on the engine forced the air into cylinders attached to each car, this proving, which a great improvement over the hand braking, not entirely satisfactory, improvements were added, in one way bettering the conditions, which in others being a real hindrance to the object intended. He spoke of the gradual building up of the air brake, and of a numerous devices used, with the dates of their application to the work in hand, and of the man who was instrumental in bringing them into use. While this was an interesting portion of his talk, he had reserved the best for the last. During the last few moments he dwelt upon the problem, which the railroad had to combat and which was of greater concern, and involved the risk of more lives and property than the air brake, that of the use of intoxicants.

This Mr. Wheeler cited, grew on the company that it was a matter that must be given attention, and when at one time a general manager of one of the roads running into Nebraska issued an order to all conductors, brakemen, engineers, firemen, switchmen and agents, that in no case were they to drink any intoxicants while on duty. This it is claimed put 18 saloons out of business in one terminal as there was not enough business, after that order went into effect, to maintain the business.

Mr. Wheeler told of well known men with the Burlington who had climbed to the top not only with this rail but had gone elsewhere, where they had made good, but the sheer force of hard work and application to the matter in hand. He held up the proposition that it is possible for any one who has ordinary intelligence to succeed if they will pay the price which is hard work, a clean character, and interest in the work which is charged to them. Arrangements have been perfected to have another address on "Thursday evening of this week, at the same place by the Hon. R. B. Windham, who will tell of the trip to the Fifty Year Peace Jubilee which was recently held at Vicksburg, Miss., and to which a number of the veterans of the civil war attended.

They will return here with the car until the latter part of this week, they will return to their home in the north with it.

MAKES FOUR GENERATIONS.

From Tuesday's Daily. The stork made a flying visit yesterday to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore, leaving a dear little girl for the keeping, and the little one proved such a winsome little lassie, that she has already won a smile to the father and mother, as well as a very pleased look in the eyes and faces of the grandparents Mr. and Mrs. John Botel, to say nothing of the hearty laugh with which Great Grandpa Clause Boetel meets his friends. Everybody concerned are feeling pretty good over the matter.

From Tuesday's Daily. A letter from Edwin Fricke, who is in the officers' training camp at Fort Snelling, received a few days ago, tells of army camp life, and also states that last Sunday he was at St. Paul, on invitation of the family of a former Plattsmouth girl, Miss Dorothy Britt, who is now married and lives in St. Paul, he being entertained at dinner at her home. Mr. Fricke says that the course mapped out for those taking training to become officers will be completed in a short time now and they will receive their commissions. Besides Mr. Edwin Fricke, there is Dr. D. I. Reynolds formerly of this city, to receive a commission. What they will be will not be known until they are granted.

UNDERGOES OPERATION.

The operation was performed last evening and the young lady recovered from the effects of the drug, in nice condition and is resting finely this morning.
