Friday afternoon the basket ball teams of the High school, accompanied by Miss Trautt drove to Nehawka, where a double game was played. Owing to the fact that several of Nehawka's players on both teams were disabled and could not play the ability of our players enabled Murdock to carry away the honors of both games. The girls' score was 40 to 0 and that of the boys, 44 to 2. However, it is not always size that counts. The little mascot of the boys' team made the only score for the boys. Mr. Stover and Miss Pollard, both of Nehawka, were referees. After the game our teams were taken for a short ride in the "kid" wagons, as they called them. Our boys and girls were very much in favor of the consolidation plan, in which Nehawka has been very successful, and wondered why Murdock couldn't have consolidation

WILL SPEND THANKS-GIVING AT HOME

From Tuesday's Daily.

J. W. Siever has received word that his son Don H. Siever will be here for Thanksgiving day, and will spend the same at the home of his father. Mr. Siever was going down to see his son on that day and had provided transportation for that purpose, which required some time to secure, by the time it has arrived word had come from Don to the effect he would be here. Don Siever has many friends who will be pleased to see him, and this will afford an opportunity for them to do so.

WILL SALT SAVE THE CORN CROP?

IT IS SAID BY THOSE WHO HAVE TRIED THAT IT SURELY

From Tuesday's Daily. James E. Bennett & Co., commission merchants of Chicago, learned hat salt was being used to preserve soft corn in Whiteside Co., Ill., and instructed one of their traveling men to investigate. He reports as fol-

"Accompanied by an experienced grain dealer I investigated thoroughly the use of salt for preservation of soft corn in the vicinity of Prophetstown, (Whiteside Co.) Illinois. We wiches. We bespeak success to this found numerous places where corn society as we know the members are was being salted or had been salted. enthusiatic and with the assistance We interviewed many experienced farmers on the subject and acquired the following interesting information. Mr. T. J. Marshall, a large successful farmer residing about one and a half miles south of Prophetstown, gives us the follow-

Mr. Marshall informs us that while cribbing corn that year, an elderly German, John ed with cattle for shipment await- Liphart, advised him to salt his soft corn. Liphart stated that this methshipment of grain, which was being in Germany and Sweden, the climate not being adapted to maturing corn. Marshall adopted the German's sugtions to use from 2 to 21/2 bbls. of salt for each 1000 bus, of corn, that salt to each ordinary wagon load of ear corn, salt being sprinkled over the corn as it was being placed in the crib. Mr. Marshall states the ex-THIS MORNING periment was a pronounced success. Corn which he cribbed early without salt that year wast lost. The crib that was salted came out as dry as a bone, just as bright as it went in and absolutely free from mold and Wurl, who is at the Presbyterian rot though light in weight due to the moisture drawn from the corn by was used from time to time but was again extensively used with the soft corn crops two years ago (1915) Mr. Marshall induced his neighbors to salt their soft corn and informs us the result was highly satisfactory, resulting in many converts This year these same farmers and plying salt. Practically the entir stock of the common barrel salt in this vicinity was exhausted. Mr. E J. Mathis, of The Mathis Bros. Co. grain dealers at Prophetstown and other points, said his firm has sold several carloads of salt for this corn crop. Local farmers seem to have accepted the salting process and adopted it into their regular method of farming, claiming it had been horoughly tested on previous occa sions and found effective and highly satisfactory. In addition to interviewing farmers who were using the method, we were particularly interested in our visit with Mr. Albert Bessire, a big farmer. He showed us one crib of 1000 bushels of new corn which had been treated with salt. Mr. Bessire removed one of the crib slats and we took out sufficient corn to penetrate an arm's length. We found the corn very cool in fact cooler than the outside temperature, perfectly sweet but of course wet. This corn had been in crib several days. It is further stated that corn cribbed with salt passes through the winter in its soft or green state, drying only with the coming of spring winds and rising temperatures. It is claimed this soft corn absolutely does not heat. We have looked into the matter carefully and are convinced the process has sufficient merit to justify a thorough investigation, not only by the ndividual but by the Agrictultural Departments. Thanksgiving!

We are once called upon by our President to observe our great national holiday—and all of us should heed this summons. This year, in particular, it is our duty to appreciate the many blessings bestowed upon us and to give thanks for them.

It may seem that in the midst of this great war that our causes for thanksgiving are few. But think of the reasons YOU have for giving thanks -and think of our reasons as a nation. Our President's proclamation clearly shows that, even in these trying times, we have a great many things to give thanks for. We should all of us observe this day and celebrate it in accordance with the time honored custom.

This store will close at 12:00 o'clock (noon) on Thanksgiving. Please accept our sincere wishes for a happy Thanksgiving Day.
