STATE OFFICERS MAKE HAUL OF DAMP GOODS

CAR AND MOTORCYCLE LADEN
WITH THANKSGIVING DAY
CHEER, INTERCEPTED

TWO ARMED MEN SHOW FIGHT

Attempt to "Clear" the Bridge and Make Get-Away—Officers Too
Quick for Them, Though

From Friday's Daily.

Last Wednesday evening the sheriff, with a special officer, Mr. J. M. Buell, from the Governor's office, dropped down the line and at Union found one, A. Begdel, with a motorcycle, and in it a quantity of whiskey which they confiscated, bringing the man and his machine to this city, where he was placed in the county jail. This happened about six o'clock in the evening. Knowing that something was in the wind besides this, the special officers from the Governor's office, Mr. Buell, before mentioned, and A. G. Nethaway repaired to the Pollock Auto and Wagon Bridge, where they waited, intercepting all people going north until at about ten thirty they dropped onto a car which was driven by Sherman Shinberg, and in which H. J. Clark was also riding. When the car slowed down at the approach of the bridge the officers, one on each side stepped upon the running board of the auto, asking as they did so, "Are you carrying whiskey?" For answer, the driver gave the engine more gas and reached for a revolver, which he had in the side of the car, but as his hand closed upon the gun, that of Officer Buell closed upon it and gripped it so tightly that he could not use the gun. A few moments later he was relieved of the dangerous weapon.

At the other side of the car an interesting scene was also being enacted for Clarke had reached into his pocket for his gun also, but Mr. Nethaway gripped his wrist and took his gun as well. The men being thus disarmed, were placed under arrest and brought back to this city, where they were placed in the county jail, along with the man riding the motorcycle. There was found in their possession about 545 pints of whiskey.

Yesterday being Thanksgiving day and a holiday, the men were fed on prison fare, and today were arraigned, charged with the crime of violation of the prohibitory laws.

Following the arrest of the men at the Platte River bridge, Special Officers Buell and Nethaway and Chief of Police Barclay and Sheriff Quinton, who were with them, decided to divide their attention between a couple of different localities, instead of centering it all upon one, and Messrs. Quinton and Buell started for town in the car driven by Ed Mason, leaving the other two at the bridge. On the way in they were met by two men in a car, who, upon being picked up gave their names as Dan Tomasso and John Pratt. They were looking for the booze car, having an order to get a quantity of liquor from it, meeting it along the road between town and the Platte river, and upon meeting up with the car containing the officers one of the men called out, "Is that you Ed?" Now, one of the men driving the car containing the liquor is also named Ed, and it was to him they thought they were speaking. But Ed Mason, who was driving the officers car answered his query in the affirmative and both cars stopped. Mr. Buell recognized the people in the car and they were likewise taken into custody and brought to town and placed in jail. This morning they received a fine of five dollars and costs for operating a motor vehicle with a wrong number, which they admitted, paying their fine and going on their way. It seems there has been a practice by drivers making trips through here to St. Joseph after a booze cargo to carry one number on the down trip and a different one on the return, thus serving to avert suspicion being directed toward them.

A little later, a telephone call was sent to the bridge notifying the officers that a car was in town and was starting for Louisville, probably to effect a more safe crossing of the Platte river. The officers gave chase but were not able to overhaul it.

Following this the officers again gathered at the bridge for another consultation, Chief Barclay and Mr. Nethaway remaining there and Sheriff Quinton and Mr. Buell going south. It was on this expedition they intercepted the motorcycle and brought it and the rider, one A. Begdel into town at about three o'clock in the morning. Begdel was arraigned this morning, 28 pints, two quarts and one gallon of whiskey having been found in his possession, and received a fine of two hundred dollars and costs, which he was unable to pay. The result is he is now in jail and his motorcycle stands confiscated until the amount of his fine and the costs shall be forthcoming.

Sherman Shinberg and L. Clarke when arraigned this afternoon pleaded guilty to having and transporting intoxicating liquors and received Shinberg, a fine of $200.00 and Clarke who said he only was a passenger and had a pint or so, was given a fine of $100 while both had to pay costs $5.70 each. The court confiscated the car, which bore the license number of 116134 Nebr.

The men then were turned loose, and when they had been released Grant Yates, deputy United States Marshall coming from the Omaha office placed Sherman Shinberg under arrest and took him to Omaha on the Missouri Pacific train, where he will be placed in jail to await a charge for violation of United States laws.

COATES HALL PACKED AS NEVER BEFORE AND ALL ENJOY-ED THEMSELVES.

NET NICE SUM FOR SAMMIES

Entire Proceeds Go to Buy Christmas Boxes for Boys Serving Their Country in War.

From Friday's Daily.

At the Coates hall last night there was gathered the largest crowd of young people and those more advanced in age, ever assembled there at a dance before. The occasion was the patriotic dance given by the Red Cross ladies for the purpose of raising funds with which to buy Xmas boxes for our soldier boys who are serving in the various cantonments and training camps over the country. The dance floor was literally crowded to capacity at each dance, with people who took advantage of the opportunity of enjoying themselves and being patriotic at the same time. In fact so great was the throng that the management ruled no women should be permitted to usurp the floor space by dancing with each other.

Not alone was the floor filled with happy dancers, but the galleries, also, were crowded with many spectators who sat and watched the merry crowd below as it swirled to and fro to the pulsations of the music furnished by the Caldwell orchestra.

Refreshment stands, at which cold drinks, coffee and sandwiches could be procured did a thriving business, everyone seeming glad to contribute liberally to the good cause undertaken by the ladies, and in order that no man serving the nation should find himself forgotten when Christmas time shall come and good cheer reign supreme over the universe for one brief day.

Dancing started at 8 o'clock and continued until the clocks pealed forth in no uncertain tones the fact that "12 bells" had arrived.

Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves and amidst jostling about on the dance floor, a radiant smile was reflected in every countenance. At the conclusion of the evening, when a tentative estimate of finances was made, it was shown that a handsome sum had been realized, although the exact amount is not yet known.

UNION THANKS- GIVING SERVICE YESTERDAY

CHRISTIAN CHURCH WAS COM-FORTABLY FILLED WITH PEOPLE IN MORNING

REV. MCCLUSKEY IN CHARGE

Presbyterian Pastor Discussed Reasons Why We Should Be Most Thankful, Even Now.

From Friday's Daily.

The Thanksgiving services, which have been an annual practice here, being conducted by the different churches of the city in union meeting, were held yesterday at the Christian church, there being a very good sized crowd present.

The address of the service was delivered by the Rev. H. G. McCluskey, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and partook of a recitation of the facts and things for which we should be thankful, dropping into history. Rev. McCluskey, in his splendid address, showed that the organized church was responsible for the conditions that the world and its societies had gotten into. Through the errors of the church, he said, the liberties of the people had, in many instances, become forfeited and it was now the duty of the church to redeem them. The Pope at Rome had in times gone by, sought to make the rulers of different European countries understand that they reigned by divine right, by the coronation of them, thus holding out the idea that God had appointed them to rule and thereby make their acts the acts of God. From these practices, extending to the present day, comes such expression as that recently attributed to the German Kaiser, "Me and Gott."

The things which Rev. McCluskey cited as reasons why we should be thankful were lands of plenty both material and the opportunity for worship as our conscience dictates. He said we should be thankful for a government such as we have, and which purposes to stand for the liberties and rights of a free people—a land not afraid to enter was for justice and the cause of humanity and democracy.

The church building had been tastefully decorated for the occasion.

Flags and ferns and flowers being seen in profusion. Many special numbers of music were furnished, besides the chorus, which sang a number of appropriate songs, making in all a very beautiful service.

FORMER RESI- DENT DIES AT CLORIDE, ARIZ.

DENNIS McHUGH, A LONG TIME
MASON, FOUND DEAD IN HIS MINER'S CABIN.

FATHER OF MRS. T. WALLING

A Skilled Workman, He Was Engaged in Business Here at One
Time for Several Years.

From Friday's Daily.

A message came yesterday morning to the secretary of the Masonic lodge here telling of the finding of Dennis McHugh, father of Mrs. Thomas Walling, dead in his miners cabin at Cloride, Arizona.

Mr. McHugh has been away from his home at Falls City for nearly a year, and the folks, on account of his having moved from one place to another, did not know his exact place of residence.

Dennis McHugh was born in Illinois some sixty-four years ago, and after marrying came west, locating in Iowa, having a blacksmith and wagon shop at Malvern, where he did a good business. Later he moved to Plattsmouth, living here for a number of years. At his calling he was a finished workman, and during his stay here he had a shop where Mr. John Iverson is now located. He had a case of horse shoes, a number of which he had plated with silver, and it exhibited a fine display of Mr. McHugh, as an artificer or cunning worker in metals.

Mr. McHugh was a genial associate, kind and generous, and during the latter years of his life he seemingly desired to be by himself, and withdrew from society. Mr. McHugh leaves, besides the wife at Falls City, his daughter, Mrs. Thos. Walling here, a son Jerry McHugh, at Murdock, and Edward, Maurice and Mary with their mother at Falls City.

The message, which came from the lodge at Cloride, told of his demise and burial at that place. His death had occurred but a little time before, and it was by the laws of the state of Arizona necessary to inter the remains within a certain time. The law also provides that the remains cannot be removed within six years after date of burial, so they will remain there for the present.
