

MARRIED IN SENATE CHAMBER IN BOSTON

Marjorie Agnew of This City Weds Lieutenant Reese H. Hastain in the Eastern City

From Thursday's Daily. Lieut. Reese H. Hastain, of the 317th Field Signal Corps at Camp Devens, Ayer, was married to Miss Marjorie Agnew of Plattsmouth, Nebraska, by Chaplain E. A. Harton, of the Senate at 11 o'clock last night.

The ceremony, which took place in the Senate Chamber at the State House is said to have been the first ever performed there.

Both of the young people are natives of Nebraska. Mr. Hastain formerly making his home at Omaha. The wedding was to have been at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, but the train on which the bride was traveling from Nebraska, was delayed more than 11 hours because of a wreck near Chicago. Miss Agnew arrived in Boston just before 10 o'clock last night.

The bride was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Nellie Parmelee Agnew, Capt. John A. Murphy and J. M. Riley of the 317th Field Signal Corps and their wives; Lieut. Beaumont and Boyland of the same regiment and Assistant Clerk of the Senate, William H. Sanger, were present.

Judge Dowd waived the five day law for the couple, as the husband is likely to be called away from Ayer at any time. Mrs. Hastain will live near Ayer until her husband is transferred from Camp Devens.

The above is a clipping from a paper published in Boston, the name or date of which we are unable to ascertain, but the marriage related has occurred only a very short time ago.

The bride, formerly Miss Marjorie Agnew, was reared in Plattsmouth, and a young lady beloved for her many winsome traits of character. And the best wishes of our citizens go to her for a lifelong happiness, with the hope the bright wings of love may always soar over the heads of the young couple, is the wish of the Journal.

BUILDING AN ICE HOUSE.

From Thursday's Daily. The Burlington Railway is just beginning at Omaha, the construction of an immense ice house, which will cover 23,856 square feet, and have a storing capacity amounting to 14,000 tons. C. R. Frans who has been working for the company at South Sioux City, has been transferred to the Omaha job, in order to get it in readiness as the storing goes along. Mr. Frans was home last evening and departed this morning for his work at Omaha.

THE COAL SITUATION HERE.

From Thursday's Daily. Just at this time with the winds howling like "The Furies" over our heads, there is not enough coal in the city in the hands of the dealers to last the citizens' consumption for one day. True many of the people have their bins filled, and then again many are absolutely empty. One dealer is entirely out of coal, he has a little coke, another had a part of a car of coal, and the third one has just received a car of Illinois nut coal, this makes a very poor showing for supplying about one thousand and households. The coal which the city has offered, has not made appearance, not have they even heard from it. It might look in some phases of the question, as though it was not the province of the city to dip into the matter of handling fuel.

but at this very time the welfare of the citizens are at stake, the matter is such urgent necessity that commercial etiquette should be brushed aside, and something done to care for the cases, which face us. The local question is but the reproduction of what is happening elsewhere. Just a few days since there was reported sixteen cities in Iowa without coal. These occurrences, point to some other means than that which has prevailed in the distribution of the necessities, and where dealers prove themselves not competent to handle the situation the authorities should take charge of the work.

DISSECTING QUESTIONNAIRES.

The committee of attorneys of this county, with Mathew Gering as the chairman, were busily engaged as we go to press dissecting the Questionnaires, which is a magazine of sixteen pages, which is being sent out to all the registrants, and which cover the things necessary to know to determine to what class they will be assigned. The Questionnaire, which is a sixteen page blank, is so complicated, and so extensive in its researches, that it requires some legal advice as to its interpretation, and as the government has asked the Bar all over the land to give their counsel and advice, where necessary and that means everywhere, the attorneys are dissecting the blank, in order to arrive at a uniform opinion as to just what the different portions might mean.

Those in consultation with Mr. Gering are: Judge J. T. Begley, Judge Allen J. Beeson, County Attorney Cole, C. A. Rawls, C. E. Tefft, R. B. Windham, William DelleDenier Dale Boyles, J. E. Douglas and D. O. Dwyer.

WILL ACCEPT THE INVITATION FROM OMAHA

From Thursday's Daily. The Omaha Odd-Fellow lodge number two, which is one of the strongest in the state, and most prosperous, will hold on tomorrow night their regular session, and will instruct a class in the first degree, at which time they will give a banquet, and have extended an invitation to the lodge at Plattsmouth to come and meet with them and participate in the festivities, and as the lodge here has a candidate for the same degree, Mr. Harry Eyer of the Western Machine and Foundry Company, he will be instructed with the class of the Omaha lodge. Arrangements have been perfected for the going of about twenty-five of the members of the lodge from here to Omaha for the occasion.

It is expected that they will meet at the Perkins House tomorrow afternoon, when they will go from there with automobiles, if the weather is so that they can travel in comfort. Should the weather be so as not to permit this mode they will go by train, in this case they will go on either the early or late Missouri Pacific train.

All who have not arranged to go, and so desire communicate with Mayr Sattler by calling telephone 400, do this before two o'clock tomorrow afternoon, better arrange this evening, and be certain of it. The members of the grand lodge will be in attendance, and will be on the program for the evening.

THE DEATH OF MRS. J. M. ROBERTS

IN MEMORIAM.

From Thursday's Daily. Seldom has our city so generally mourned, as in the passing of Mrs. J. M. Roberts, at the Immanuel Hospital in Omaha, Dec. 12th.

Mary Catherine Roberts was the daughter of Judge W. H. Newell of this city and was born near Portsmouth, Ohio, Aug. 8th, 1869, and came west with her parents in 1870.

She was united in marriage with Mr. J. M. Roberts, Oct. 9th, 1895. A son daughter Helen, aged 17, and a son Newell, aged fifteen are left to mourn the loss of a mother.

Eulogy is not needed for Mrs. Roberts, whose keynote to her entire life might be summed up in the one word—unselfishness—but we cannot refrain from paying our tribute of love to her memory.

There can be no lessening of the grief of the devoted husband and the motherless son and daughter, nor the mothering of the aching void at the hearthstone, but the shining portals of the "Eternal City" will seem much nearer to them now than their best loved one has entered therein.

To her parents, brothers and sisters, her life will ever remain as a benediction.

But not alone in the home will she be missed. In the Presbyterian church there will be a conscious loss because her presence has gone from them, while to her S. S. class her memory will be sacredly held all "through the coming years."

In her quiet, unostentatious way she aided the needy, and her sweet smile and words of encouragement brightened many a discouraged pathway.

To her neighbors and friends the universal verdict, "She never spoke unkindly of anyone" will be a lasting thought and a lesson for good.

It does not seem a fitting thing that we should lay our sister to rest amid December snows. We would fain that June skies and fairest flowers should crown her resting place, but "God Knows Best," He holds the Key" and sometime we'll understand. "Our loss is great, the cloud of woe Veil the faint-star beams from our sight."

Yet look we forward, for we know She's in the light. Our grief is deep, our aching heart Seeks for an answer all in vain Yet on her brow repose is shed She has no pain."
