MUTT AND JEFF DIVORCED IS RICH

BUD FISHER'S HA! HA! TWINS
 NEWEST SCREAMING MUSICAL COMEDY NOVELTY COMING SOON.

The big laugh success of the year is "Mutt and Jeff Divorced" coming to the Parmele theatre on Saturday, February 23rd for one night only.

The greatest of all sure fire cartoon characters, Mutt & Jeff, in their newest misadventures, are reported a scream from start to finish.

This time the long and short freaks get mixed up in divorce proceedings, all on account of a demure little girl of the school age type, entrusted to their care by an aunt. Mrs. Mutt and Mrs. Jeff misunderstand matters, and the complications starting at this angle pile up until the two principals are winging all the time.

The production is pronounced one of the most pretentions of all traveling combinations. The principals include some of the most popular laugh makers in the travesty field, and the chorus girls are generally reported unusually gifted and all superlatively attractive.

Ginger, snap and go is the slogan of the performance and report says the prospectus is lived up to every second of the comedy's three acts.

The scenic and costume investiture equals any of the most ornate and costly effects of the big Broadway attractions.

HAS KNITTED HIS OWN SWEATER

From Friday's Daily.

Miss Marie Kaufman, who in her work as instructor in penmanship of the city schools, found a Bee Hive of industry at the Columbian, where Miss Nettie Hawksworth is the teacher, and Misses Lillian Dwyer, Vesta Douglas and Mrs. C. L. Carlson are the instructors.

The children have taken up the proposition of knitting during the intermissions, instead of playing, and the boys as well as the girls working at the knitting. You would be surprised to see how those boys and girls make the needles snap when at the work. The children are now knitting squares for the Red Cross, and are doing a good job of it too.

One of the young lads has knitted himself a sweater, which he is wear-
