PEACE WITH RUSSIA IS NOT YET QUITE CERTAIN IS BELIEF

BREST-LITOVSK PARLEY IS REPORTED AGAIN BROKEN OFF BY GERMANS

Ultimatum in Meantime Served on Bolshevik Government and the Soldiers Resume Advance

London, March 2, 1 a. m.—A message received by the bolshevik government in Petrograd from Brest-Litovsk, dated Friday, ordering a train under military guard to meet the Russian delegates at Togoshaets, was considered by the government as probably signifying that the peace negotiations have been broken off, according to a wireless communication received here from Petrograd tonight.

An ultimatum has been issued to the Russian bolshevik government by the German commander on the eastern front, who has given the Russians three days in which to sign the peace treaty demanded by the Germans. Coincident with this demand, the German advance into Russia has been resumed. There are apparently three columns of Germans advancing into Russia. One is near Loga, midway between Pskov and Petrograd; one is said to be at Polotsk, midway between Pinsk and Vitensk, and the other is at Sebezh, 80 miles east of Dvinsk. An official report says that the Germans have reached the right bank of the Dnieper river north of Kiev.

That the situation in Petrograd has become critical is reflected in the report that the American and Japanese ambassadors have reached Volozda, the capital of the Russian government at present and laying for to the east of Petrograd. The British and French embassies also have left the Russian capital, but nothing is known as to their whereabouts.

Reports forwarded by the way of London say that the Russian troops are destroying railroad property and burning stores as they retire before the Germans. At no point is there serious fighting reported, but the advance of the Teutons is said to be cautious.

It was announced in a dispatch that Austrian troops have begun to advance into Ukraine. This movement, it is stated, is in response to an appeal from Ukraine probably due to the operations of the bolshevik there. Dr. von Seydler, the Austrian premier, said last week, that Austria was not participating in the invasion of Russia, adding that Austria is at peace with Ukraine.

An interesting side light on the conditions at the beginning of the war was revealed by Stephen Pichon, the French foreign minister, during an address at Paris. He declared that he could prove by documentary evidence that Germany rendered the war inevitable. He said that on July 31, 1914, Germany demanded that France should give over the fortress of Toul and Verdun as a guarantee of the neutrality of France. Germany, M. Pichon added, offered to restore the fortress after the close of the war with Russia. Germany declared war on Russia August 1, 1914 and on France August 3.

German trench raiding operations have been repulsed by the French in several sectors of the line. At Chavignon, where the American troops were taken prisoners, the fighting was very severe. An attack by the Teutons near Butte Du Mesnil, resulted in the capture of a section of a French position, but an immediate counter attack evicted the Germans. The British troops carried out successful raids north of the Ypres-Steden railroad and captured a few prisoners. On the other sectors of the front nothing of interest is reported.

Among the terms of peace communicated to King Ferdinand of Rumania by the central powers, was a demand that Ferdinand abdicate in favor of his brother, Prince William of Hohenzollern. Prince William renounced all claim to the throne on the accession of his uncle, Prince Charles, in 1886. He was in command of a part of the Teutonic army which invaded Rumania in December, 1916, and at that time issued a proclamation declaring himself the rightful heir to the throne.

BIG QUESTION FACES OFFICIAL CIRCLES IN WASHINGTON JUST AT PRESENT.

Consideration of Decision Whether Allies Join in Nipponese Campaign of Grave Moment.

Washington, Feb. 28.—An early decision probably will be reached on the momentous question of whether America and the entente allies shall join Japan in a campaign in eastern Siberia to counteract possible German activities in that quarter and save the great supply of military stores accumulated at Vladivostok and interior points on the Siberian railway.

It had been understood that this decision might await the arrival in Washington of Viscount Ishii, the newly appointed Japanese ambassador to the United States, but it was said tonight that recent developments, including increasing pressure from entente sources, very likely would cause a more speedy determination of the question.

It is learned that this is not regarded as a problem for the consideration, at the present stage at least, of the supreme war council in France, which if it treats the subject at all will deal with it only as a military matter after the question of policy has been decided by the governments of the entente allies and America.

It is freely admitted in official circles that this is a very great question indeed. A radical departure from established rules of international law would be involved in the forcible entry into a neutral country and consideration must be given to the possible effect upon the Russian people of such a course in their relations to the present war.

Already there has been some apprehension that great numbers of Russian soldiers rather than return to their farms and shops, would voluntarily join the central armies, and some evidence of a foundation for this fear is found in Berlin dispatches announcing the entry into the German army of several regiments of Estonians.

On the other hand growing indications that Japan cannot much longer be restrained from taking some action in Siberia are causing serious consideration of the Japanese invitations to the entente allies and America to participate.

The alternative would be to withhold from Japan the co-operation she holds she has the right to expect and let her undertake single-handed the weight of the campaign in Siberia, and deal without counsel from the allies with the large questions involved in the future disposition of any territory on the Asiatic main land which she might occupy.

PETROGRAD REPORT SAYS GERMAN HAVE RECEIVED ORDERS TO HALT

Berlin Report Slightly Contradictory Says That Military Operations Taking Normal Course.

London, Feb. 28.—The German army has received orders to stop its advance into Russia, according to the Petrograd correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company, who has received information to this effect, which he regards as reliable.

When the bolshevik government agreed to accept the German peace terms last week, the commander-in-chief of the Russian armies inquired of the Germans if the previous armistice would be renewed and the German invasion halted. He did not receive immediate reply and the German advance continued. A dispatch from Petrograd on Wednesday said that General Hoffman, the German military representative at Brest-Litovsk had replied to the bolshevik communication by declaring that the advance would continue until a treaty of peace was signed and carried out along lines laid down in the German peace terms.

Berlin, Feb. 28.—(British Admiralty, per Wireless Press)—Germany's military operations on the northern Russian front are taking their normal course, the German general staff announced today. Another Estonian regiment has placed itself under command of the German staff.

In Minsk the Germans captured fifty thousand rifles and two thousand machine guns.

The text of the statement follows: "Eastern Theatre: Operations are taking their regular course. In Esthonia the fourth Estonian regiment has placed itself under our command to clear the country of bands overrunning it.

LANGHORST VISITS NEVILLE.

From Thursday's Daily.

H. F. Langhorst of Elmwood, chairman of the democratic state committee, visited Governor Neville's office Wednesday. After having won a glorious victory in the last state campaign Mr. Langhorst was willing to accept an appointment to the office of state food commissioner, but Governor Neville overlook him and chose another for that position. This incident gave rise in Nebraska to a new political expression, namely, "Langhorsed." Now Mr. Langhorst is being asked by his numerous friends to be a candidate for governor. "Whom will you appoint food commissioner when you are elected governor?" asked one of his friends. "I will appoint Governor Neville if he will accept it," he replied.—State Journal.

GETTING MUCH OF FARMER

From Thursday's Daily.

Herb H. Cotton is getting to be much of a farmer now. He has just purchased a fine Hamilton hog, which is a dandy and will soon be having some fine porkers, notwithstanding "Hooverism." He also has some pure blood white Plymouth Rocks, a flock of forty, which is producing eggs on an average of 28 per day, and with the price of hen fruit where it is, these white P. Rs. are a pretty good investment all right.

SAILOR BOY.

From Friday's Daily.

He has answered the call to arms, and proudly he stands arrayed, in his uniform of blue, As the national hymn is played.

The navy claims him now, For four long years he'll stay, While mother bravely smiles at him To keep the tears away.

Of course she is proud of his act, But a trial you know it must be, To see the only son she has, Depart for the deep blue sea.

But when he returns victorious, We will all shout for joy, Tho' he was not raised to be a soldier We are proud of our Sailor Boy. —Helen K. Nims, Dec 29, 1917.
