SAVINGS STAMPS

JOHN FIGHT WILL DO ALL HE

TINUANCE OF FIGHT

Bennett Christweisser Another Patriotic Citizen Who Will Invest in Stamps and Bonds.

From Thursday's Daily.
Demonstrating that his heart is in the right place, and that he is willing to do what he can in order to continue the fight until victory is attained, John Fight yesterday purchased one thousand dollars worth of War Savings Stamps—the full limit of these "Baby Bonds" any one individual is permitted to hold. The thousand dollars goes to help swell the amount already sold in this county. Mr. Fight has not only demonstrated his patriotism and his fealty to the government under which he lives, but has used the best of judgment in the investment, as the Thrift Stamps and War Savings Stamps are backed by the resources of the greatest nation on the earth today, and will be redeemed less than five years hence at greatly increased values.

Will Also Invest $1,000
Bennett Christweisser is another who will invest a thousand dollars in the War Savings Stamps and bonds of the next Liberty loan, which is scheduled for early in April. Mr. Christweisser has thought of investing the entire thousand dollars in War Savings Stamps, but on reflection decided to place a portion of it in the stamps and the balance in Liberty bonds. Whichever way the money is invested however, it goes to the government and will do its full part to aid in the whipping of Germany autocracy and upholding the democracy of the world.

PAVING CASE ARGUED TO SUPREME COURT OF STATE

From Thursday's Daily.
Last evening C. A. Rawls, City Attorney J. E. Douglass and A. L. Tidd returned from Lincoln, where they were yesterday, appearing before the Supreme Court of the state to argue the matter of the paving tax assessed on the paving of Washington avenue before that body of jurists.

The matter will be remembered as an effort by injunction on the part of certain citizens to defeat the collection of the tax on the grounds of it having been illegally levied and the council having exceeded its authority in contracting the paving, where remonstrances had been made by the citizens against the work being done.

The case was decided in favor of the city in the trial court, being the District Court of Cass county, and the attorneys feel that they have equally as good an opportunity to win now as at the time of the trial here. The decision of the Supreme Court will in all probability not be handed down for some weeks yet.

ARE VISITING WITH RELATIVES.

From Thursday's Daily.
Mrs. Myrtle Howell and little daughter Margaret of Doliiver, Iowa, who have been for some time past visiting in the city at home of Mr. Howell's parents, O. J. Gilson and wife, this morning in company with Mrs. Gilson departed for Glenwood, Iowa, where they will visit at the home of a son of Mrs. Gilson, E. J. Gilson and family. Mr. E. J. Gilson being an instructor in the institute for the feeble minded.

AT REST IN OAK HILL CEMETERY

From Thursday's Daily.
This morning the funeral of the late Harry Reese, was held from the Missouri Pacific station in this city, the remains arriving via that road from the place where he died a few days since, North Platte, Nebraska. The pall bearers which bore the casket containing all that was mortal of one of the former citizens of this city to their last resting place were C. C. Westcott, Carl G. Fricke, Henry McMaken, T. S. Clifflord, V. M. Mullis and Dr. F. L. Cummins. A short service was conducted by Rev. W. S. Leete at the cemetery, after which the remains were consigned to their last resting place, mourned by sister, Mrs. Alice M. Eaton and mother Mrs. Elizabeth Reese. Mr. Harry Reese will be remembered as a cheery dispositioned man who for many years lived in this city with a large number of friends.

SELLS HER PROPERTY HERE.

From Thursday's Daily.
Mrs. Ed Stoner, formerly Mrs. Belle Grassman, has disposed of her property in this city, the same being purchased by Jack Derrell.
Now, Mrs. Stoner who was recently married and moved to Omaha did not care to longer retain the property. That is natural. And Mr. Derrell, who purchased the property—well, he must have needed a piece of property such as would make two good people a home, or else thought he would have need of it in the near future. And that is natural, too.

GOES TO FT. LOGAN TODAY.

From Thursday's Daily.
Fred Essart of South Bend, arrived in the city this morning coming to report for service in the coast artillery, to which he enlisted last Saturday. Mr. Essart departed this afternoon over the Burlington for Ft. Logan. This is the last for the present to be inducted voluntarily into the service those to follow will be all selectmen, of which some seven in number will soon go forward.

ARMENIAN AND SYRIAN RELIEF

From Thursday's Daily.
Rev. A. J. Hargett, as chairman of the Armenian and Syrian relief committee for Cass county, departed this morning to cover the county in behalf of this cause. He expected to make every precinct and town in the county, and get committeemen appointed and at work in each of the city wards and sub-precincts in order that this matter may be cleared from off the calendar during the coming week to make room for other things which are scheduled to follow each other in rapid succession. A nation at war, we are a busy people, and our prosperity is great, beyond comparison with what might have been expected at the close of our first year in the conflict. People in Armenia and Syria, however, are not so favored. In fact they are actually starving to death for lack of sufficient food to prolong life, and it is our loyal and patriotic duty to aid them, also. Human beings nowhere should be allowed to suffer starvation and our hearts should go out to these poor refugees who are victims of the machinations of the present war.

APPELLATE BOARD RULINGS.

From Thursday's Daily.
The District Exemption Board have just handed down decisions on the following from Cass county: Clarence E. Ledgway, who had appealed from class one division A, reclassification refused. Arthur E. Opp placed in three J, while Robert Fields was retained in class one A. This seems to be all that were passed on at this time for this county.
The District Board has reported one hundred and ten yesterday and thirty-six for today on the appeals, and notices have been sent out from here to the registrants.

GETTING WORK WELL IN HAND

From Thursday's Daily.
George Parks, the lather, of Murray, is going after the new high school building in the proper shape, and is making great headway in getting the building ready for the plasterers. Mr. Parks has Seth Mercer, an expert in this line from Council Bluffs, assisting in the work and it is a caution to see how quickly these two men get over a room. They expect to complete the job some time next week. Mr. Parks then has to return to Murray as he has a large building there which is needing his services.

ALL CAN AID IN THIS MATTER

Rich and Poor Alike Can Share in the Burden Incident to Carrying on the War.

From Saturday's Daily.
Last evening at the central building, at the high school and the different ward buildings, the people flocked to the meeting places, eager to subscribe liberally to the allotment of War Savings Stamps or "Baby" bonds and thereby loan the government the necessary wherewithal to defeat the German military machine and aid in the cause of world freedom and democracy of nations as well as lay up for themselves in future years a competency acquired solely through present day habits of thrift. The manner in which our citizens responded to the call, speaks volumes for the patriotism of Plattsmouth and may be taken as a criterion that our people will be found loyal to the cause to the very last dollar they possess if such should be necessary.
The young ladies at the High school, which meeting ye reporter attended, gave us a lesson in news gathering for we had scarcely thrust our nose inside the door way when we were accosted, as follows: "Name, please? Initials?" And then in another second they had our number. The four girls detailed to look after this work did their duty in a most excellent manner.

Everyone seemed pleased that they were accorded an opportunity to contribute to the cause of freedom. All seemed to give liberally of their portion, and it helped to swell the total amount, which is certain to overrun the quota. The figures, as the cards were read, counting what is now held and those subscribed for at the meeting, showed 1813 of the War Savings Stamps for the people attending this meeting. A good portion of which are now held by the pledgers. The reports from the other school buildings of the city could not be had last evening, but are included in the tabulation of results below.

Eagles Lodge Subscribes

Among the large contributors, or rather subscribers, was the Fraternal Order of Eagles, which subscribed, through its three trustees, for $2,000 worth of the securities. This amount will go a long ways in aiding the cause, while it will also be an excellent investment for the order of the money they are saving to some day build a new home in our city and each member may feel proud of the order as doing its part for the cause which we all hold most dear. This is the largest subscription made to the loan, and is possible, being twice as large as any single individual is allowed to hold, through its being divided among the three trustees or their legal successors.

The success of the drive demonstrates that the people are loyal as a class even to the man and woman of most humble circumstances. In the purchase of Liberty bonds of the first and second Liberty loan not everyone, however much they might have desired to do so, could afford to purchase bonds, and thus demonstration of patriotism was cut off to them. But the War Savings and Thrift Stamps drive is different insofar that it reaches down to the very last citizen of the nation, for all are able to contribute something, if naught but the widow's mite.
Before the final of the drive shall have been tabulated, the opportunity for those who could not be at the meeting last, will be given until Wednesday evening to register their amount. Cards can be obtained at the office of the board of Education, the various banks, and the postoffice.

THE WORKMEN RESPONDED LIBERALLY

From Saturday's Daily.
In the drive for the Thrift stamps, and the Baby bonds, which culminated in the meetings last evening, there were many who were in a position to go the limit on the matter and where they had the money, and found as good a place to invest it as was offered in this instance, the council of good business judgment told them to invest. They did so, and with much loyalty to the country and the cause also. Another class of people also invested the workmen, and they with the but barely enough 'to get by with', saved out some to invest, not for the sake of the investment alone, but for the purpose of assisting what they could. These are the ones which are sacrificing for the cause they hold most dear. True so do the others and all is appreciated, the rich and the poor.

ARE MEETING IN WEEPING WATER THIS AFTERNOON

From Saturday's Daily.
The chairmen of the War Relief Committee, from the different wards of precincts of the county are meeting in Weeping Water this afternoon to get together on the proposition of the unit system which to govern them in the assigning to each person what they should contribute to the "calls" which come and are endorsed by the government. Those to go from this city were Judge Begley, C. E. Whitaker, J. W. Holmes, C. A. Rawls, E. C. Hill and George L. Farley.

UNION AWAY OVER ON STAMPS.

From Saturday's Daily.
Last evening at Union, where they had been allotted $6,800 to raise on the Baby bonds, the drive netted about three thousand over the mark set, as they had nine thousand eight hundred credited to the drive at that place when they stopped last evening. School districts number eleven and twelve also were 'over the top' with their quota. The indications are that the whole county is the same, for not considering the loyalty with which the people are taking home of the proposition the loan is a very popular one, and which is a good investment outside of an patriotic consideration.

COTTONWOOD SCHOOL OVER THE TOP

From Saturday's Daily.
Cottonwood district which is otherwise number 27, has a quota of $2,706, and it took but a little time to subscribe the amount and besides that they went over a thousand dollars better, making the amount $3,725. The people out that way feel pretty good over the matter, and why should they not feel that way?

BAYARD NOW A HUMMER.

From Thursday's Daily.
County Attorney A. G. Cole who has been in the western portion of the state for the past three or four days returned home this morning and is again active at work with the duties of the office. Mr. Cole was looking after some lands which he has near that place. Mr. Cole says that Bayard is making some very gigantic strides towards a city, but a short time since it was but an ordinary western village, but is now a town of three thousand inhabitants, and with more new houses needed than can be constructed.

CALLED EAST BY MOTHER'S DEATH

From Saturday's Daily.
This morning Mrs. Henry Horn received a message from Pekin, Ill., her old home telling of the death of her mother Mrs. Geo. Hild of that place. Mrs. Hild who is getting along in years was not known to have been sick, and the announcement of her death came very sudden. Mr. Horn departed last evening on the first train for Pekin, to be present at the burial of her mother. Mrs. Hild had enjoyed good health heretofore and the announcement of her death, was a surprise and there was nothing to indicate the cause of death.

BRITISH REPULSE IN PLACES

Further Fighting of "Serious Nature" is Expected by the English—Show Courage.

London, March 22.—The Germans on Friday along most all of the battle front continued their attacks in great strength. At several points the enemy made gains against the British but at others he was repulsed in counter attacks, according to the British official communication issued tonight.
The ground was covered with German dead.
The statement says the British losses inevitably have been considerable but not out of proportion to the magnitude of the battle. The enemy's losses continue very heavy, all his advances being made at great sacrifices.
The greatest courage is being shown by the British troops.
Forty German divisions took part in the fighting. Further heavy fighting is expected.

Fighting Still Continues.

The communication says:
"This morning the enemy renewed his attacks in great strength all along practically the whole of the battle front. Fierce fighting occurred in our battle positions and is still continuing.
"The enemy made some progress at certain points. At others his troops have been thrown back by our counter attacks.
"Our losses inevitably have been considerable, but that have not been out of proportion to the magnitude of the battle.
"From reports received from all parts of the battle front the enemy's losses continue to be very heavy, and his advance everywhere has been made at great sacrifice.

Forty Divisions Attack

"Our troops are fighting with the greatest gallantry. Exceptional gallantry was shown by the 24th division in a protracted defense at Leverguler, and by the Third division which maintained our positions in the neighborhood of Croisilles and to the north of that village against repeated attacks.
"A very gallant fight was made by the 51st division in the neighborhood of the Baupume-Cambrai road against repeated attacks.
"Identification obtained in the course of the battle shows that the enemy's opening attack was delivered by some forty divisions, supported by great masses of German artillery, reinforced by Austrian batteries. Many other German divisions since have taken part in the fighting and others are arriving in the battle area. Further fighting of a most serious nature is anticipated.

DOWN TOWN AGAIN YESTERDAY.

From Saturday's Daily.
Looking like he was greatly over-trimmed and as tall as a sycamore tree, George Tartsch was down town yesterday for the first time in many weeks. George has had a hard tussle with a spell of Erysipelas, which has cut down his avoidpous greatly. With the advent of his being able to get out again, however, he will soon build up flesh again and be himself once more.
