7 ft Stamps--

is costing the United States $1,000,000 an hour. set this steady and tremendous drain upon the nation's resources, there must be a corresponding stream of dollars to the national treasury.

stamps and war savings stamps offer the people an opportunity to deposit their daily, weekly or monthly savings with the government.

the government will repay the principal with 4 per cent, compounded quarterly. As an example of how the money will grow, sixteen war savings stamps, costing 25¢ or $4.00 in all, with 12 cents added, will entitle the holder to $5.00 on January 1, 1923.

an investment, safely considered, there is nothing better on the market today. All the resources of the richest government are behind the stamps.

Murray State Bank, MURRAY, NEBRASKA

L. D. Hiatt was looking after some matters of business in Omaha on Tuesday of this week.

Col. W. E. Jenkins was one of the limit going stamp men of this community, buying $1,000 in stamps.

George Engelkemeier purchased a fine new Vette car from the L. H. Puls agency in Murray this week.

Mrs. Eliza Young was visiting with Mrs. Wm. Taylor near Plattsmouth for a few days the past week.

Mrs. Wm. Royal, who has been spending the winter with friends and relatives in and near Murray, returned to her home in Plainview this week.

Leo Blitner met with quite a painful accident this week by cutting his foot quite seriously while chopping wood. The wound was an ugly one, but he is getting along very nicely at this writing.

There was certainly a mighty fine shipment of clothing and supplies in this line shipped from Murray to the Belgian Relief committee Tuesday of this week. There were several large boxes of this stuff, and it made an excellent showing for this community.

Hiatt & Tutt, MURRAY, NEBRASKA

John Yardley delivered hogs in Murray Tuesday.

The little girl of Mr. and Mrs. John Robbins has been sick for the past few days.

A. L. Baker and James Tilson were visiting with Plattsmouth friends Monday evening.

J. D. Shrader, of Omaha, was in Murray last Sunday spending a few hours with old time friends.

Roy Howard was looking after some matters of business in the county seat Monday evening.

Tom Cromwell, from near Grant, Nebraska, was in the city for a few hours Tuesday of this week.

Ern Carroll and family, of near Avoca, were in Murray last Sunday spending the day with Mr. Carroll's parents.

Will Jean, of Plattsmouth, was in Murray this week and bought some cattle from Fred Condon, at the Oldham Stock Farm.

John Edmunds has been trimming up the trees and shrubbery around his residence for the past few days and the change has made a decided improvement.

The family of H. C. Creamer has almost recovered from their serious sickness of scarlet fever. Mr. Creamer has certainly had his share of sickness during the past winter.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Barrows, who have been making their home at Grand Island for the past winter, are enroute home to take up their residence at their home in Murray for the summer.

Edmund Kniss, Geo. Wiley, Harry McCullough and Otto Welzmuller will report at Plattsmouth Thursday of this week for examination into the army, being called for the next draft from this community.

Howard Daniels, son of Ellis Daniels, came in from Fairbury on Monday of this week, and will work during the summer for Lee Farris. He reports his father, who has been very ill for some time as improving.

A. L. Baker made a trip to Omaha last Thursday, where he spent a few hours with his old time friend, Mark Seybert, who is now engaged in farming in the western part of the state. Mr. Seybert came down to Omaha with some stock.

The work on the new residence of Lonie Puls has been moving rather slow for the past few days, owing to a shortage of material. They have been short of sand, but expected a car Tuesday afternoon, at which time the work will be resumed again.

Mr. and Mrs. John Farris celebrated their wedding anniversary at their home east of Murray on Monday of this week. There were quite a number of relatives and friends gathered in to spend the day at the Farris home, and assist in celebrating the occasion.

The town pump proposition is now on in Murray. Murray cannot afford a water plant, so why not afford the next best, the town pump. Come across with a few dollars, and let us sink a good well on the main street and put down a good force pump. It will make a good watering place and afford some protection from fire as well as a mighty good cool drink on a hot summer day. Talk to Ted Bowers, hand him a few dollars, and he will do the rest. Just try him and see.

One of our valued farmer friends comes to us with a tale of woe a few days past, which runs about as follows: He is exerting every effort to comply with all the laws and requirements of this great Nation at the present time, by working long hours, early and late, short handed on the help line. He is out before sun up and still out after sun down, trying to plant, tend and harvest his crop. When he goes to town for a little sugar, salt or meat, or to market his produce, he finds the groceryman complying with the same regulations by closing up at six o'clock and he is unable to get in only on Saturday evening. So he is compelled to shut down during the middle of the day to do his trading and marketing. He wants a solution of the problem.

Good Farms for Sale

170 acres, good house and well improved, good farm and stock proposition, known as the Goos farm just south of Plattsmouth.

Also 51 acres adjoining Union on the west, all good farm land, and a good seven room house. Possession can be had immediately.

Also several other Cass county farms.—Frank Vallery, Murray, Nebraska; phone 27, Murray exchange.

Mrs. J. A. Walker was calling on Union friends last Sunday.

Dwyer Todd made a pleasure trip to Omaha last Sunday evening.

Winfield Swan, from near Union, was in Murray Tuesday of this week.

L. D. Hiatt was looking after some business matters in Omaha Tuesday.

The tenant house on the Hoy Howard farm is now ready for the plasterers.

The work will soon be started on the new residence of Mrs. Sans in Murray.

For Sale—White China goose eggs, 75c for six, at the Oldham Stock Farm.

F. T. Wilson and family were Omaha visitors last Sunday, going via the auto route.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Tutt spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Pitts, near Plattsmouth.

Ray Frans and mother, from Union, were in Murray on last Sunday spending the day with Mrs. Sans.

Word has been received here from Katherine Bittner that she has a fine school and is enjoying her work very much in Holt County.

Miss Jessie Barrows, who has been attending school in Lincoln the past winter, will arrive home this week to spend the Easter vacation.

W. C. Brown, who was called here a couple of weeks ago owing to a serious illness of his father, W. A. Brown, departed for his home in Canada last Friday. Mr. Brown has improved very rapidly during the past few days, and is able to be up and around a part of the time.

Joe West, who is in the aviation corps of Uncle Sam's big army, and is now located at Dallas, Texas, arrived in Murray last Saturday for a few days' visit with home folks. Joe is well pleased with army life, and speaks well of the treatment and care he is receiving in Uncle Sam's training quarters.

The Murray-Union road over near the farm of Crede Harris has been completely impassable during the past few days owing to the breaking of a large spring in the highway. The water has flowed so rapidly that the road is almost impassable for any kind of hauling, and everybody is compelled to travel the west road.

The Savings Stamp drive was pulled over in Murray in grand style last week, and District No. 56 came over the top with $1,500 to the good. Some of the districts in the West and East Rock Bluffs precinct, fell considerably short, but with the good lead in Murray and the school district, the precincts will come out with their entire quota subscribed. Murray will always be found around the top on any move of this kind.

There were four young Missourians who arrived in Murray last Saturday looking for farm work, and they had hardly landed before they found employment, three of them going to the farm home of Wm. Philpot. They came from Bolivar, Missouri; and claim that they can secure a car load of good young farm hands should there be work in this locality for them. This might be good news to many Cass county farmers who are looking for good farm help this summer.

U. P. Church Notes

Communion services will follow the sermon by the pastor next Sabbath morning. A sermon preparatory to the communion will be preached by the pastor at 2:00 p. m. Saturday, and immediately following that sermon the annual business meeting of the congregation will be held. Repairs of the church building made necessary by the damage done by the recent fire will be considered, as also the wiring of the church for electric lighting.

The pastor and Mr. Brown of the season expect to attend the spring meeting of Omaha Presbytery to be held in the First church Omaha next Tuesday and Wednesday.

A committee appointed by the elders and trustees are to make the annual every member canvass of the congregation this week.

SEED POTATOES

Seed potatoes and table potatoes for sale at $1.00 per bushel at the Oldham Stock Farm.

CARD OF THANKS

I take this method of returning my heartfelt thanks to the many friends of Murray and community, during my recent bereavement, in the death and burial of my beloved husband, especially to the Christian choir and the numerous floral offerings.—Mrs. John Murray and Family.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Harris went to Omaha Tuesday, where Mr. Harris is receiving medical treatment.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet with Mrs. Otto Puls Tuesday April 24. The usual invitation is extended to all.

Mr. and Mrs. John Farris and Lee Farris drove to Alvo last Sunday to attend the funeral of a cousin of Mrs. Farris.

Mrs. Chas. Creamer, J. D. Shrader and Miss Vera Yardley drove to Weeping Water last Friday to spend the day with Robt. Shrader.

Wm. Thompson and wife, of Wood River, Nebraska, came Saturday night for a few days visit with their son Glen Thompson and family.

THE WAR SUMMARIZED

All accounts agree that Germany is paying heavily for every foot of ground she has wrested from the allied armies. Her casualties are shown by the British official statement to have mounted so high that every part of the western front has had to be drawn upon to provide badly needed reinforcements for the battle area.

Field Marshal Haig's report reveals that more than seventy divisions, or between 800,000 and 900,000, have already been engaged in the battle on the German side and the widespread call for fresh troops makes it plain that the fighting forces are being rapidly used up in the terrific and costly onslaught. Forty divisions of the German reserve are reported to have been thrown into the line as early as the second day of the battle.

The rearward movement in the face of the Teutonic attack has now brought the allied armies well toward the edge of their former battle lines in the Somme area and in the devastated region to the southwest. Field Marshal Haig reports the new British line drawn somewhat to the east of Albert and Roye. Paris indicates the French fighting front as extending southward from Chaulnes, past Noyon, which has been evacuated by the French and then running eastward along the southern bank of the river Oise.

The German troops have been reported as rapidly tiring from their breathless plunge into the entente lines and they were evidently forced to take a breathing spell last night opposite the British front, as the London noon day statement reports the fighting to have died down. This morning, however, fresh forces probably had been brought up and the attack was being resumed south of the Somme in the Roye and Chaulnes areas.

It is in this sector and in the Noyon region that the German wedge is being driven in hardest and it is here, or on the line to the east, should the Germans further expose their left wing, that the weight of the expected counter blow may fall. The French on their line are holding the line of the Oise strongly. Their artillery is cutting swaths in the German columns and the French infantry is making frequent counter attacks, inflicting heavy losses upon the Germans and retarding their advance.

The British evidently are maintaining their marked superiority in the air on the battle front and are growing the German supply stations and lines of communication in the rear into confusion by air attacks at close range.

On the extreme north and in the center the German progress has been appreciably slower, while around Bapaume, on the old battlefield of the Somme, and east and north of Noyon the enemy has made gains but only at the cost of a fearful toll exacted by machine guns and artillery. The fighting on these sectors continues of the most severe character.

Southeast of Arras the British line has yielded only about three miles at the greatest depth since Saturday, immediately west of the Somme, south of Perrone, the Germans suffered heavily in forcing a crossing of the river and seemingly have not been able to advance as fast as they did before the river was reached.

In the Bapaume region the Germans have driven a long salient in toward Longueval and have widened it somewhat southward in the direction of Peronne. However, unless the salient is widened still more it may prove a menace to the enemy as the British line still is holding well to the north and the south.

On the low-lying ground between the Somme and the Oise, where the French have come to assist the Brit-

Our Service AND WHAT IT MEANS TO YOU! You Get Full Implement Performance You Can Avoid the Big Loss that is Caused by Using Even One Faulty Implement.

Your farm implements, taken all together, form a great crop-making machine, each part of which is dependent on the other. The whole is no better than the poorest implement in it.

Poor seed-bed making by an inferior plow, for instance, will make it impossible for your planter and cultivator to give the profit that they should give.

Likewise, inaccurate planting will lessen the returns from the best of seed beds and thorough cultivation.

And a cultivator that will not destroy weeds and conserve moisture without injuring the crop plants cuts the profit from the use of your other implements.

Thus it is with practically every implement on your farm. Even a single fault in one implement will handicap other implements and mean the loss of many possible dollars in profit from your season's work.

The purpose of our service to you is to help you get full performance from every implement.

We carry for your benefit a full line of implements especially adapted for use in this section. Each of them bears a trade-mark that assures the best of material and workmanship. With none of them do you have to run the risk of experimenting in your fields—of letting one implement handicap the service from your other implements. Each is the successful result of thorough experiments carried on by the manufacturers under a variety of actual field conditions—the same conditions that prevail on your farm.

Have every implement in your crop-making machinery fully reliable this year. Drop in and study the implements that we have to help you.
