Our main duty of today is to keep all the home fires burning and to take care that our boys, when returning from over there find their families in best health. Therefore you need a remedy which holds the sickness off by helping the resisting power of nature to expel all dangerous substances and morbid germs out of your system. Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine performs this role in the most reliable way. It is a home remedy in the best sense of the word, because it removes all stomach disorders and restores the normal functions of the intestinal tract. At drug stores. Refuse cheap imitations and ask of your druggist Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine, $1.10. For rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago, sprains, swellings and similar pains try Triner's Linctament. GUILD HONORS ONE OF ITS DEPARTING ONES

APPROPRIATE FAREWELL TENDERED A TO DEPARTING SISTER MEMBER. AT HOME OF MRS. GUMMINS Afternoon Party and Picnic Luncheon—Mrs. McDaniel a Faithful Member of Guild.

From Wednesday's Daily. Yesterday afternoon the ladies and friends of St. Mary's Guild and St. Luke's parish gathered at the pretty home of Mrs. F. L. Cummins, on 9th street to tender another one of their faithful members, Mrs. J. E. McDaniel, a farewell. This farewell was in the nature of an afternoon party and picnic luncheon and was another of the delightful events of the spring season. Mrs. McDaniel and family will remove to sunny California in a few days, where the McDaniel family will make their home in the future. St. Mary's Guild has lost a number of their good workers through removal from city and going elsewhere to make their homes and now they are going to lose another. Mrs. McDaniel has been a member of St. Mary's Guild during her residence in this city and has not only been a member, but has been one of their most efficient and faithful workers, always doing and willing to do her share. The Cummins home had been made very attractive with handsome bouquets of the garden flowers placed here and there. The ladies in charge of the this afternoon's entertainment had planned a number of amusements from which the guests derived much pleasure. On the arrival of all the guests, the first diversion introduced was a race in eating peanuts. Twenty minutes were distributed and the guests were given but a few moments to eat these peanuts. Mrs. Ed. Egenberger got away with hers the first and was awarded the prize. Strings, with a peanut at one end were then distributed and the guests were requested to eat string, peanut and all, without any assistance so far as their hands were concerned. In this contest Mrs. Will Clement carried off the prize. A few moments were then devoted to a pleasant social conversation and then the guests were invited to the dining room where an elegant and delicious picnic buffet luncheon was served. The ladies of St. Mary's Guild truly did enjoy themselves at this afternoon party, but the fact that they were to lose another of their faithful members from their midst, cast a shadow on their pleasures. But, while they regret losing Mrs. McDaniel, yet, on their departure they extended their best wishes to her for happiness in their new home in Sunny California. Mr. and Mrs. McDaniel and daughter will depart for Salina, Kas., tomorrow morning over the Missouri Pacific where they will visit relatives and friends before their departure for California. Mrs. Hugh Cecil who has been visiting in the city for the past week departed for her home this afternoon at Duflap, Iowa.
