PLATTSMOUTH NIGHT AT THE AK SAR BEN.

LAST NIGHT WAS THE NIGHT FOR PLATTSMOUTH AT OMAHA; THEY WERE THERE

Notwithstanding the fact that the lack of furnishing a train over the Burlington was a jar to those who were intending to spend the evening as the guests of the King Aksarben at his den, in Omaha, there were a large number who sought other means of transportation, and got there just the same. On the Missouri Pacific, many went and crowded the capacity considerable as there were over a hundred which went that way, besides those who traveled by auto. The car which the writer went in scooted out of the city, over hill, through dale, and by the woodland, and flowing river, and just as we had left our county, a noise like the bursting of a bomb, and we had to get out and put on a new tire, while the rain kept pelting us liberally, only to stop, after we had again gotten in the car.

While the fast Mo. Pacific passed us while at that work, we were there at the time all were admitted into the den. The exercises were good, the crowds not alone from here, but elsewhere were convulsed with laughter most of the evening. The initiatory ceremonies were well worth the going farther than we did to see. Henry R. Gering had made ample provision for the welfare and entertainment of the crowds which came from here.

After the ceremonies were over, representatives were arranged on the stage, where a few addresses were made returning thanks for the entertainment and for the good feeling between the towns which the occasion was intended and did foster. Among other speaks H. A. Schneider, mayor of Plattsmouth, was asked to make an address. He complimented the management by saying that they were putting on a good show, using what adverbs and pronouns were required to convey his exact meaning. In the same way he expressed his opinion regarding Omaha. In substance, he said: Omaha is a good town, and the largest city in one of the best states of the Union. Omaha is the gateway of all the great northwest, but Plattsmouth is the gate way of Omaha. You have a good town here and a vision of greatness, but while you were trying to keep Des Moines from stealing your soldiers away from you, you could not find time to consider the fact that you had built, and are building a stone wall around your city shutting out that very country which you want to interest in your material welfare. As a member of the commercial club, I endeavored to interest you in the matter of a free bridge over the Platte river. Some time since our county, Cass, had appropriated a sum sufficient to purchase or build one fourth of a bridge over the Platte river.

while the state stands ready to furnish half, but Sarpy county does not care for any bridge, and if Omaha desires to profit by such an institution, and she surely would, she can furnish the other fourth. Remember that when your Fort Crook, has fifteen thousand troops, that we also have some of them on the Rifle Range near our city. We hope to see a free bridge across that stream in the near future that the welfare of both our cities may be fostered.

IT MIGHT BE EITHER

Whether the new heir which arrived last evening at the home of W. A. Ose of near Union, will become a prima donna or a distinguished statesman, as the years roll away, is not known to us, but that there is joy in the household because of the arrival, we are assured and everybody concerned are in the best of spirits because of the late arrival.

CONDEMN NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE

In line with the action taken by the State Defense Council, the county defense council at its meeting yesterday morning at Louisville, condemned in the most positive terms the actions and attitude of the Non-partisan League, for the things it had done and stand which they have taken, as being unpatriotic and against the best interests of this country, and their action having a tendency to weaken the government in its work and in the persecution of the war to a successful issue.

WILL ATTEND INDUCTION CEREMONIES

Last evening Rev. M. A. Shine departed for Lincoln, where he goes to attend the induction into office of the new bishop of this Diocese, who is succeeding Bishop Thien, who some time since went to Denver. Bishop O'Riley, the new man for this place, arrived this morning at nine o'clock, and will be inducted into office with imposing ceremonies tomorrow. During the interim, the office has been held by the Vicar of the Diocese, whose office carries with the power and authority to care for the diocese during the time when there is no Bishop.

ANOTHER LITTLE BOY

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Guthmann at Boise, Idaho, a baby boy, Sunday morning, June 23rd, at 3 o'clock. There is much rejoicing in the Guthmann home over this new baby. Even little Charles Francis, Jr., can hardly wait until he is big enough to play with him, while Charles, Sr., is the happiest man in Boise. There is, also, much rejoicing at the home of Grandmother Guthmann in this city and she is anxious to become acquainted with the new grand-on. Mother and little son are reported as getting along very nicely.

Have you just a few hogs or a few head to be delivered in South Omaha? Call the Plattsmouth Garage, and we will do the rest.

Do not let that dollar rust. Uncle Sam can use it. Invest it in a Liberty Bond.

ANOTHER PIONEER CALLED

COMING TO CASS COUNTY IN EARLY SIXTIES, LIVED HERE MANY YEARS

Silas C. Patterson came to Cass county during the civil war from Washington county, Pennsylvania, and made his home here for nearly a half century. He settled near South Bend and for many years was engaged in business in that thriving city. He departed some twelve years ago to Columbus, Texas, where he has one son Robert Patterson who is engaged in the banking business and made his home there until last winter, when he came to this county again and stepped with his daughter, Mrs. Harry Long of South Bend, and about three weeks since he went to Omaha, where he entered a hospital and died there at about eight o'clock last evening.

Mr. Patterson lost his wife about four years ago, who was buried at Lincoln, Nebr., and the deceased will rest beside her. Of the children of Mr. Patterson and wife there were four children born, they being: S. M. Patterson of Alma, who is a state bank examiner, Robert Patterson, cashier of a bank at Columbia, Texas, Mrs. M. E. O'Brien, wife of Superintendent of the state fisheries at Valentine, Nebraska, and Mrs. Harry Long of South Bend.

UNION OUTFITTING CO NEXT

Manager C. S. Johnson who has in the hollow of his hand, the destinies of the Red Sox ball team, has arranged for another of those stirring contests between the young men of this city who are famous throughout the Nation for their out fielding, and pounding of the pig skin. This time the game is to be played between the Red Sox and the Union Outfitting Company. The Red Sox are all the time developing a stronger game, and which the contest was against them last Sunday they were up against the Real Thing in baseball. The game for the coming Sunday promises to be one of real sport.

WILL COME HOME IN A SHORT TIME

Word coming from the hospital where August Nolting is now convalescing tells of his making very satisfactory progress at this time, and he has the promise of the physician in attendance that he will be allowed to come home in a short time. A few days at most unless something unforeseen occurs. Mr. Nolting has been at the hospital and will sure be glad to get home again.

SOME WIND LAST EVENING.

While there was apparently a very little breeze stirring last evening in most places, there was a plenty in some, for two men had their glasses blown from their faces, they being Clarence Atkinson and superintendent of schools G. E. DeWolf. The funny part of it was also that they did not know anything of the matter until some one handed the glasses back to them. But you know that was Omaha, and last night too for King Ak-Sar-Ben was out.

HOME GUARDS REAL SOLDIERS.

The hats for the Home Guards have arrived, and are at the office at the court house, unless they have been gotten by this time. The boys with their uniforms and new hats, and guns now look like and with the training they have been getting are turning into real soldiers. They like the minute men in the days of the American Revolution could now do effective work if called upon to do so.

FRANK MARLER IN FRANCE.

A letter to Frank Marler who lived near Nebawka, tells of the safe arrival of his son Frank in France was received a few days since. Frank departed last fall for Camp Funston, and has been in training for a long time and by this time is a hardened soldier. Frank while not large in stature is of the stuff of which soldiers are and will make an excellent fighting unit for Uncle Sam.
