VIRGINIA FORBES BREAKS SHOULDER

From Friday's Daily.
 Eleven year old daughter Miss Virginia, of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Forbes while at play fell from a foot bridge across the creek in front of the Forbes home, striking on her right shoulder, breaking the collar bone, and shoulder, as well as the upper bone of the arm. The fall which was extremely forceful, resulted in the severe break, and bruising of the tissues, so that it was advised that the patient be taken to a hospital at Omaha, where the injury is being treated, but by the time they had gotten to the hospital the shoulder was so badly swollen that the same could not be set until the swelling was reduced. The flesh was very black, and the joint distended, so much so that the physicians will have to treat the injured part before the fracture can be reduced. Mr. and Mrs. Forbes returned home last evening and say that the injured member will probably be in condition to work with by Monday of next week. A silver plate will have to be inserted in order to grow the bone together, which will have to be removed afterwards, and will keep the patient at the hospital for some time.

RETURNS FROM HOSPITAL.

From Thursday's Daily.
 Yesterday Mrs. August Nolting was at Omaha and found Mr. Nolting getting along finely, and was so much improved, that he thought that he was able to return to his home, he consulted with Dr. Davis, and who after examination of his condition thoroughly said that he might return, and with Mrs. Nolting he returned home last evening via the Missouri Pacific and in the evening went to their home west of the city. Mr. Nolting has been at the hospital for a long time, and it is with pleasure that he finds he is able to return to his home. It is also a pleasure of his friends to know he is able to return.

WAS TAKEN TO HOSPITAL TODAY

From Thursday's Daily.
 This morning Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Opp, of near Nehawka, accompanied by Frank Boedeker of that place and Dr. Gilmore, their physician of Murray came to this city expecting to take the Burlington train for Omaha, but being a little late continued to Omaha with their car. Mrs. Opp is entering the W.L.E Memorial Hospital at that place, where she will receive treatment, and will probably have to undergo an operation for relief for the sickness, which is troubling the lady.

IN DISTRICT COURT TODAY.

From Thursday's Daily.
 This is the busy day in the district court. The matter of the Dovey state, is having a hearing before Judge E. E. Good of Wahoo, who is here, and at the same time Judge Begley is hearing a case, known as Morris and others vs. School Board District Number Thirty-Six, in which there has been a restraining order sued out to prevent the board from building a new school house. The matter is being thrashed out today.

GOOD CHEER FOR THE SOLDIERS.

From Thursday's Daily.
 The Campfire girls of Union and vicinity under the direction of their Guardian, Miss Zola Frans, made a house to house canvass for books to send to the soldiers, which resulted in a collection of 204 excellent books. Miss Frans and her sister brought them to the Plattsburgh Public Library to be prepared for shipment.
 The Toka Campfire girls of the Guardian, Mrs. Earl Stanfield, will assist the librarian in preparing them for circulation in the camp or cantonment to which the State Director designates for them to be sent. Books sent out to the different camps and cantonments from libraries throughout the United States are pocketed and carded ready for the shelves, thus saving the Government much expense.
 The Campfire girls are helping in this work as one of their bits in winning the war.

C. F. HARRIS FILES FOR COMMISSIONER

From Friday's Daily.
 Crede F. Harris from near Union was in the city yesterday looking after some business in the city and at the court house, among other things he filed for county commissioner, for the second district. This makes two filings for this office among the Republicans, and there may be more to follow. Mr. Harris like Mr. Mayfield is a representative citizen, and should fit be, that one of them were elected, the county's business would be cared for. Still there will be other filings and until they are completed the people are reserving their decision as the fitness of the candidates, to whom they will support for the position.

MRS. HARRY WALKER DIES.

From Friday's Daily.
 Last evening John Hobscheit Jr., who lives near Murray, was in the city for a short time on his way from Omaha, where he was called yesterday on account of the sickness of Mrs. Harry Walker, who was taken to the St. Joseph hospital, where she died last evening at 6:30. Mrs. Walker and Mrs. John Hobscheit are sisters, their names having been Sherwood and their former home having been near Union. The remains of Mrs. Walker are being taken to the home of her parents near Union, this afternoon, via the Missouri Pacific, and the funeral will be held at Union.

FIRST TIME IN FOUR YEARS.

From Friday's Daily.
 While Will P. Sitzman, who lives at Weeping Water, had lived in Plattsburgh most all his life, and until a few years since was a printer in this city, was able to stay away from this city for four years while living only a few miles away, just in Weeping Water. Last Sunday he and his family came over in their car, and spent the day with relatives and friends, being the guests of Frank S. Sitzman and family, and returned home in the evening. Life must have many demands on one's time when we cannot find a day off for a visit when the friends are not but a short distance away.

"TAZZAN OF THE APES," A STORY OF AFRICAN ADVENTURE NOTABLE FOR ITS GREAT IMAGINATION

Darwin was right, all right. But he never graded the degrees of descent. Edgar Rice Burroughs made some attempt at grading in his "Tarzan of the Apes," which is now in motion picture form at the Broadway theater. He runs the gamut this way—drunken sailors, brutal ship officers, slave traders and finally aristocrats. The apes really rank highest. Even the boy brought up by the apes rank head and shoulders above his aristocrat relative. There are no class lines, no national lines, no mutual exploitation among our ancestors.

"Tarzan of the Apes" is bully adventure. Wild beasts roam through the scenes; a kindly elephant takes the wild man upon his back; in short, mix Stevenson's "Treasure Island" with Captain Baker's African stories and the happy combination is struck. The joy of the film lies in its kindly wild life rather than its civilized brutality. And in putting Burroughs' story into the film the National Film corporation has shown good sense of showmanship. "Tarzan of the Apes" is better than most films which have been concocted for the screen, and credit must be given Scott Sidney, who staged it, and Isidor Bernstein, who edited it. Natural beauties, imagination and clean, free spirit make the film a delight.

The film follows the magazine story with enough faithfulness to satisfy readers of the Burroughs serial the film will be refreshing entertainment.

Tarzan, as readers of the story will remember, is the son of Lord Greystoke, who went to Africa on a secret mission for the British government. Africa in 1897 was torn by European ravishers, atrocities in the Belgian Congo, Jameson's raid on the Boers, slave trading, with its concomitant brutalities by the Arabs. The sailors mutiny, slay their brutal officers in fair fight and then maroon Lord Greystoke and his wife.

A boy is born in the jungle; the mother dies and the baby is carried off by a mother ape, who has just lost her young. The film traces the growth of the boy—half ape, half human—till his twentieth year.

A counter melody is being played in England, where Lord Greystoke's brother assumes the title after having married a barmaid. Their child is a petted brat. News is brought to them by a sailor, Binns, that the heir to the Greystoke estate is alive in Africa. The barmaid aristocrat has Binns incarcerated as a lunatic for ten years, but a vengeful maid-servant finally helps him escape. He tells his story to a scientist, a fingerprint expert, and the Greystoke solicitor, with the result that a party is made up to seek out Tarzan in his jungle home.

Some of the finest bits of action ever portrayed on the screen are found in "Tarzan." The fight between sailors and officers aboard the vessel is an exciting bit of action. Tarzan's struggle with a lion, as well as his fight with a native negro, are excellent pictures of action.

Although there are hundreds of natives and dozen of apes in the picture, the program only gives the names of a few of the players. Elmo Lincoln is beautiful in his massive strength as its grown Tarzan, but Gordon Griffith, who plays Tarzan at the age of 10, is entitled to equal honors. Griffith plays with charming ape-like wistfulness. True Boardman and Kathlee Kirkman play Tarzan's father and mother; George French is Binns; Thomas Jefferson is the scientist; Enid Markey plays his daughter, the girl with whom the caveman Tarzan falls in love; Bessie Toner is the barmaid aristocrat; Colin Kenny plays both her husband and his own father, and Jack Wilson appears as the brutal sea captain. Unfortunately, the program does not state who the actors are that play the fingerprint expert, the solicitor, the aristocrat brat, the negro warrior, or the vengeful serving maid, all good players and deserving of appreciation.

"Tarzan of the Apes" will be shown at the Gem July 4th and 5th.

THIN, FRAIL PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE TANLAC

Many Nebraska People Report Astonishing Gains in Weight in Short Time—Powers of Medicine Conclusively Proven—Men and Women, Old and Young, Benefited Alike by "Premier Preparation."

One of the most noteworthy features in connection with the introduction of Tanlac, and the one that stands out more prominently than any other perhaps, is the very large number of well-known men and women from all parts of the state who have recently reported an astonishing and rapid increase in weight as a result of its use.

When so many well-known people of unquestioned integrity make statement after statement, each corroborating the other, the truth of such statements can no longer be doubted.

Thousands have testified that this famous medicine has completely restored them to health and strength, after every other medicine and the most skilled medical treatment had failed.

A case in point is that of Bert Brown, engineer on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad, who lives at 420 South 19th street, Lincoln, and who states that for three years his health was so seriously impaired that he was almost a nervous and physical wreck. Soon after taking Tanlac his digestion rapidly improved, his pain disappeared, his nerves became calm and steady and he gained thirty pounds.

Another interesting case is that of E. A. Weldy, the well-known manager of the Emory Hotel in Scottsbluff, Neb., who says that he was suffering from a complete nervous breakdown and was in such a serious condition that he despaired of ever regaining his health and strength, but upon taking a few bottles of Tanlac his health was fully restored and he made a gain of eighteen pounds.

Mrs. Arch Allen, 3222 North 65th street, Omaha, who formerly lived in Evansville, Ind., and was once a nurse in a hospital near that city, makes a statement which, coming as it does from one of such wide experience in relieving suffering, is of unusual interest. Mrs. Allen says that she became so weak that she couldn't lift her ten months' old baby, her nervous system was almost a wreck and she was often confined to her bed for weeks at a time. She states that upon the advice of the other nurses at the hospital she took Tanlac with the result that she was soon entirely relieved of all her troubles, became well and strong and increased twelve pounds in weight.

N. H. Church of 1117 Davenport street, Omaha, says that he suffered so much from rheumatism, stomach and liver trouble that he fell off thirty-five pounds, and his left arm hurt so bad he could hardly raise it to his head. After taking Tanlac he improved so rapidly in every way that he gained ten pounds on two bottles.

Ira W. Palsley, a fireman on the Union Pacific Railroad, and who lives at 2033 Elm street, Omaha, says he was so rundown and worn out with indigestion and other troubles that he could not work long without feeling exhausted. A few bottles of Tanlac fully restored his strength and energy, he gained ten pounds and now weighs more than he did before his troubles began.

The foregoing statements are from well-known citizens of Nebraska, and while astonishing in their import, they are not really remarkable, as thousands of people all over the United States and Canada have taken Tanlac with the same and, in many cases, with far greater results. Take, for instance, the case of Mrs. Viola Ives, 315 Cross street, Little Rock, Ark., who gained forty pounds; or that of Mrs. Don J. Perry of 370 Quince street, Salt Lake City, Utah, who gained twenty-eight pounds; or that of Mrs. G. W. Williams, of Gadsden, Ala., who gained forty-eight pounds; that of O. H. Mahaffey, Nashville, Tenn., who gained forty pounds; or of Mrs. O. C. Cason, Acworth, Ga., who gained thirty-five pounds; or Mrs. A. M. Richards of 803 Thirteenth street, Denver, Col., who gained eighteen pounds; Mrs. Mamie O'Neil of 261 1/2 Welton street, Denver, Col., who gained eighteen pounds; John McNamee of 419 Church street, Salt Lake City, who gained sixteen pounds, and thousands of others to numerous to mention.

Tanlac is sold in Plattsburgh by F. G. Fricke & Co., in Alvo by Alvo Drug Co., in Avoca by O. E. Copps, in South Bend by E. Stursenegger, in Greenwood by E. F. Smith, in Weeping Water by Meier Drug Co., and in Elmwood by L. A. Tyson.
