AMERICAN FORCES CAPTURE TOWN IN BRILLIANT ATTACK

ALLIES GAIN GROUND AFTER HARD FIGHTING IN NIGHT BATTLE.

More Than 300 Prisoners Taken in Operations Near Chateau-Thierry—Activity Near Albert

With the American Forces on the Marne front, July 2.—In a brilliant operation, after hard fighting, American troops on this front last night captured the village of Vaux, together with a large slice of the Paris highway west of Chateau Thierry and two patches of wooded land.

The Americans took 275 German prisoners, including five officers, and captured a quantity of machine guns and other equipment.

In the Vaux region the Americans took the Germans completely by surprise. Most of the prisoners were taken out of cellars and dug-outs.

How many Germans were killed, of course, is unknown; but judging from the number of dead in plain view at various places the total must have been considerable.

While the artillery preparation was going on many American airplanes flew high overhead. Some were protecting the observation balloons while others were combing the skies to keep off enemy machines.

Early this morning the American pilots again appeared for similar duty and were soon found contesting with the enemy for supremacy in the air. A number of the aerial battles were observed, but reports on the results are not yet available.

It was exactly 6 o'clock last evening when the Americans went over the top under the protection of a hail of machine gun bullets from our machine gun batteries. The infantry action was preceded by a short but terrific artillery preparation. When the Germans saw that a formidable attack was developing many of those in outposts yelled and ran toward the rear to nests from which a hot fire began pouring.

French Co-Operated.

Paris, July 2.—The village of Vaux, west of Chateau Thierry and the height to the west of Vaux were captured last night by American troops in an operation on the Marne front carried out in conjunction with the French, the war office announced today.

More than three hundred prisoners, including five officers, were captured in this action.

Mr. Durbin was married in Plattsburgh twenty-nine years ago, and went directly to Elmwood, where he has since resided, and has only been in Plattsburgh three times in all these years. We trust that he will make his visits more frequent in the future. Mr. Hall has been a resident of Cass county for the past sixty years, coming here in 1858, where he has continuously resided. He is certainly one of the few real old settlers. Both are mighty fine gentlemen, and we are pleased to know that they are among the Journal's large family of readers, but we would like to see them in Plattsburgh more often.

Independence Day —for the World!

Little did that handful of patriots think, when signing the Declaration of Independence back in '76 that they were founding a great nation which would some day fight for the freedom and liberty of the world as it fought for its own.

That day is here. Once again America has taken up arms for the defense of those noble principals for which many of her sons have given up their lives—but she has taken up arms not only for herself, but for the rights and freedom of all mankind.

This year Independence Day will not only be celebrated by America but by our allies in this great conflict of right and might—it may well be called the Independence Day of the World.

CONGRESS WILL POSTPONE RECESS

LEGISLATORS' HOLIDAY PLAN STRIKES A SNAG.

Hopes of Closing Down Before 4th Abandoned, as Important Measures Pressing for Consideration.

Washington, July 2.—Congress today disposed of much important legislation, but encountered a variety of obstacles in its program to recess this week until August 10. Hopes to close down tomorrow before the Fourth of July holiday were abandoned and while most leaders believed they could recess Friday or Saturday, others thought congress might be held in session indefinitely. The resolution authorizing the president to take over the telegraph and telephone lines, the $12,000,000 army appropriation bill, the proposal to increase the government guaranteed price for wheat to $2.50 per bushel and war time prohibition were among the issues in the complex legislative situation delaying a recess.

Emergency Resolution Blocked.

Leaders' plans for beginning the congressional vacation late this week were based on a program of postponing decisive action on all but the army supply measure until congress returns in August. To this end the house today passed a blanket resolution continuing as an emergency to last year's appropriations for the army, agricultural department and other government agencies whose appropriation bills have not yet been enacted, but the resolution was blocked in the senate until tomorrow. Technically, the delay in enacting the emergency resolution left the army, Department of Agriculture and a few other government bureaus, without funds.

Although Speaker Clark tonight said the recess plans had "gone glimmering" other leaders of both senate and house were not so pessimistic. Their plans were to have the resolution empowering the president to take over telegraph and telephone lines reported to the house and lie over until August. However, if the administration insists on passage of the resolution before the recess is taken, leaders were doubtful of securing a respite for congress at an early date.

Army Bill to Be Completed

Leaders were agreed that the army appropriation bills should be completed before any recess is taken. Slow progress on senate legislative amendments to the bill was made today by the conferees.

Senate and house conferees held another futile conference today on the $2.50 wheat amendment and adjourned until tomorrow, with house managers indicating a compromise may be suggested in view of the senate's insistence on the price increase.

Senate debate on war time prohibition, set for today, also went over with many leaders predicting postponement of action until after the recess.

In cleaning up pending appropriation bills, the senate, without a roll call, passed the general deficiency appropriation bill after eliminating a provision to add $50,000,000 to the $60,000,000 already authorized for housing government workers. The senate ignored a request for $100,000,000 sent in today by the housing commission. Failure of the commission to use the $60,000,000 authorized several months ago was the reason given for the senate's action.
