TWO CRACKING GOOD GAMES

GOOD CROWD WITNESSES BALL GAMES, REGARDLESS OF A LITTLE RAIN.

Everybody Wishing It Would Rain On Account of the Corn—No One Thought Games Would Go On.

From Friday's Daily.
With the weather looking like rain and everybody wishing it would rain on account of the corn, no one thought the games would be played. But at the appointed time notwithstanding the fact that rain was falling and the ground somewhat wet, the game began, and the rain stopped, the two could not do business at the same time. The first half of the first game were three struck out, and during the first four innings nothing doing in the line of runs, when in the fifth the visitors, the famous Armour's, got one and in the sixth as well, making them two while we did not score until the seventh and last inning, when Mason made a three bagger. Collins their short, made a home run when the bill was lost in the sixth. The sheep had not done their stunt as they should. This was a good game with many good features by all the boys. Mason as pitcher was three strike outs ahead of League for the visitors. League walked three men while Mason walked none. There were four hits off each of the pitchers. Grassman made a good play in getting a ball to first, which resulted in an out of Alva Graves. Robeson was the ump, and gave good satisfaction. The visitors were slightly crabby and the results were:

Second Game Not So Good.

In the second game Robeson gave way to Dr. Sandin, Mason was relieved by Stimpson and Stimpson by Edwards and Edwards was relieved by Mason. This was putting Stimpson at pitch, Edwards at first and Mason left.

The visitors rearranged their line up, and the second game was on. Collins, the right fielder, threw three balls and two strikes before he found the ball, but he scooted around, and the others to follow were fanned by Stimpson. The second inning for them was without results, the third gave them a run, the fourth an egg, and the fifth three scores and the sixth and the seventh two, the eighth an egg and the ninth two more runs, making them ten, and that appeared enough, but there was nothing to do but play ball and our boys did that. With us Turner made a run in the first, then Edwards began again, as he seemed to have gotten his second wind, for he made the remainder of the runs. Whenever he was up to bat he swatted the ball good and plenty, getting five hits from Stillmook, their twirler, one base hit, three two base hits and one three base hit, with the four runs which he got seemed as though it should be enough, but he wanted to hit it again. Joe McCarty made one of the neatest fly catches, which kept the visitors down just one more opportunity. Stimpson played excellent ball, both as pitcher and first, while Mason did great work in the box and good support as outfielder. Gradoville got two base hits, and three singles, while Turner tilted the pill for two two base hits, but was caught at second. Herold made two extra fine fly fowl catches, while he made a double play with Edwards, catching two men giving a bunted ball to Edwards at first, who returned it at home and the man was caught.

A CARD FROM FORT RILEY.

From Saturday's Daily.
We have on our table a card written on July 4th, from Ft. Riley by Lyle Mullis, which says the boys are all o. k. and saying they are all wild for news from home. Get the boys some, you sweetheart! who have lovers there do not forget them, sister and brothers remember the boys, and the parents do not forget.

MASHES HAND UNDER WINDOW.

From Saturday's Daily.
Yesterday while at the funeral of the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Perry, Mrs. Will Mendenhall was sitting near a window which was up, and dropping her hand on the sill, when suddenly the window slid down, catching her hand under it, mashing it badly. The window coming down held the hand so securely that the window had to be raised by some of the people present, in order to release the hand. The doctor who dressed the member and found no bones broken but the hand badly mashed and is very sore.

OLIVER HARVEY IN FRANCE.

From Friday's Daily.
Oliver Harvey who some time since joined the aviation corps and went to Kelly Field, has landed in France, and wrote to his parents at Myrand saying he is well, and that the country is much like it is here. He says that he is a good way from the fighting line, and that everybody feels as though the war would be over some time soon, and the boys will be returning home again. The boys are anxious to get into the skerdish, and do what they can for their country.

HOME GUARDS WILL ORGANIZE SOCIETIES

From Friday's Daily.
Arrangements are perfected for the organization of War Savings Stamps societies, as is the case in many other societies, in fact most all societies, are forming societies within themselves, such as Churches and Sunday Schools, lodges and the like, for the subscribing for war savings stamps, thus doing away

PLATTSMOUTH CELEBRATES THE FOURTH

VERY APPROPRIATELY UNDER THE CONDITIONS, WITH BUT LITTLE FLURRY BUT SANELY.

From Friday's Daily.
Yesterday morning Mrs. Anna Goos accompanied by her daughter Mrs. Peter Mumm arrived from Minneapolis, where Mrs. Goos had gone some weeks since to visit and was taken sick while there, but has since recovered sufficiently to return to her home.

The trains did not make the best connection at Omaha and Mr. Mumm went to that place for Mrs. Goos with his car, bringing her home that way. Mrs. Goos is feeling much improved and hopes soon to be entirely well again.

FOUR BOX CARS OFF THE TRACK

AN EXTRA WEST LAST EVENING, GEORGE BRUHL CONDUCTOR, LEAVES TRACE NEAR SWALLOW HILL.

From Saturday's Daily.
When an extra west was rounding Swallow Hill last evening about eight o'clock, a car some sixteen cars back from the engine, left the track, pulling three more cars with it, piling the track full, which was not cleared up, until near morning, and then only one track was cleared. One car rolled into the river with one end up. The cars were badly mashed and the track badly obstructed. Number fourteen which had gotten to Oreadopolis, after waiting for some time arrived at Pacific Junction at 11:30, and was for that reason number fifteen which had its equipment and is run by the same complement of men, was late out of Pacific Junction this morning, as they had to lay over for eight hours, because of the operation of the National law.

Workmen are clearing up the remainder of the wreckage today and getting the tracks in condition for traffic.

THIRTY MINUTES TO OMAHA.

From Friday's Daily.
The thirty minutes to Omaha is a possibility and that every day, one hour and a half to make a trip to Omaha and return and get your business done. There is to be another of those good roads meetings at Omaha this evening at the Chamber of Commerce, in which they will take up the matter of good roads radiating from Omaha, and connecting the town or the county. L. C. Sharpe of this city will attend that meeting and is intensely interested in the project as he is in all other things which are in their tendencies marking for the betterment of the city of Plattsmouth. This is a matter which every patriotic Plattsmouth citizen should get behind and push with all their pushing powers. We can with good roads between here and Omaha have a thirty minute drive to Omaha over good roads, as against a trip to that city now.

AT REST IN OAK HILL.

From Friday's Daily.
This morning the funeral of the late Mrs. Peter Mumm, was held from the St. Paul's Evangelical church, and attended by a large number of friends of this estimable lady. The funeral oration was said by the Rev. J. R. Steger pastor of the church of which she was a member. The interment was made at Oak Hill cemetery. There were in attendance at the funeral all of the children, Henry Mumm of Spokane, Wash., August Mumm of Missoula, Montana, Fred Mumm of this city and the two daughters Mrs. Pearl Larson, of this city and Rose Deig of Fairbury.

With loving hands and with many acts of love, and tokens of honor the beloved mother was layed to rest at the beautiful burying ground west of the city to await the clarion notes of the trumpet of the Angel of the resurrection.

WODROW WILSON PERRY DIES.

From Friday's Daily.
The little son of Henry Perry and wife, one of the First Liberty Loan twins, died at the home of his parents during the night of July 3rd. The little one was badly ruptured, and during the night had been fretful and had screamed out in pain a number of times, and apparently had rested better, after having gotten

VERY APPROPRIATELY UNDER THE CONDITIONS, WITH BUT LITTLE FLURRY BUT SANELY.

From Friday's Daily.
Yesterday the Nation's birthday was celebrated in a manner which varied from the many celebrations, which this day has had in the past. The day marked with a subdued determination that the work which this nation has undertaken, that of making the world safe for Humanity and Civilization, shall be carried on to a successful issue. At ten o'clock in the morning, the band gave a concert from the band stand at the intersection of Fourth and Main, where the people could sit on the grass at the court house lawn and enjoy the sacred and patriotic airs, which were dispersed by the band. The band which is capable, furnished some very excellent music, and which was listened to and appreciated by all present.

During the afternoon the tent which has been in use by the Chautauqua was filled with people who were desirous of showing the allegiance to the causes which has made this the greatest country in the world, and filled with a spirit of patriotism and loved of exemplified by their devotion at all times in the doing of those services for their country which along only loyal citizens can do, in the giving of any and all things in their possession for the maintenance of the government of the land they love.

The program which is standard, and which was given in most Nebraska towns was observed by the people here. The services were inaugurated by an invocation by Rev. Truscott of the Methodist church. After which the band played the "Star Spangled Banner". This was followed by the audience singing "America" which the band played an accompaniment, this was one of the prettiest things which could be imagined. Then came the salute to the flag by the school children. The chorus sang La Marseillaise, the National Anthem of France. Rev. M. A. Shine in a manner which gave added meaning to the words of our forefathers read the Declaration of Independence. This was followed by the audience and the band giving that very popular number "Over There." Then came one of the addresses of the afternoon by C. A. Rawls, and was filled with patriotism and zeal outlining distinctly the place of every American, and what their duty is in this the greatest crisis of the world. This was well received and much applause attended the more pertinent points made in the address. The audience sang "Keep the Home Fires Burning" to the accompaniment of the band. Then followed an address by Hon. E. M. Pollard in which he touched upon the duty of this country in this time, the causes which led to the gigantic struggle which is now over the world and the only thing which we can do to preserve the world and maintain a civilized place in which we and our children may live. He assured us that we would in the end which is hoped for; distant, clear the world from the menace of militarism, as practiced by the autocracy which has sought to rule the world, at the expense of the liberties of all the Nations. Following his address was sang the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" by the audience, when Rev. H. G. McCluskey in a few well selected words asked the benediction of high Heaven and a loving Father to rest upon this Nation and its people as well as all the world.

Land Concert in the Morning and Two Ball Games in the Afternoon.

From Friday's Daily.
Yesterday morning Mrs. Anna Goos accompanied by her daughter Mrs. Peter Mumm arrived from Minneapolis, where Mrs. Goos had gone some weeks since to visit and was taken sick while there, but has since recovered sufficiently to return to her home.

THE RED CROSS AUDITOR REPORTS

SHOWS FINDING OF THE CONDITIONS OF RED CROSS CHAPTER HERE.

From Saturday's Daily.
July 5, 1918.
Mr. Jas. T. Begley, Chairman Cass County Chapter, A. R. C. Plattsmouth, Nebr.
Dear Sir:-

According to invoices which have been shown me, totaling $2341.78 gross less rebates of $105.25, making net charge of $2236.53, as per detailed list attached; and cancelled checks and receipts totaling $1961.50 as per detailed list, showing Red Cross funds turned over to Mrs. T. P. Livingston. Mrs. Livingston has ordered goods from James Lees & Sons Co. (from rendering invoices mentioned above) to the amount of $275.03 in excess of the amount of $1961.50 turned over to her for this purpose.

I am advised that the goods mentioned in above invoices have been received, there being no protest in this regard.

Therefore, upon receipt of advice from James Lees and Sons Co., Bridgeport, Penn., that the $1961.50 has been paid to them, leaving a balance due of $275.03, it will be satisfactory to remit the balance due to the company by check against the Red Cross funds of your Chapter.

In the event that this is not done, I suggest that Mrs. Livingston be asked to defray the entire bill, insofar as it may be necessary, obtaining receipt in full for net $2236.53, for the files of the Cass County Chapter, after which it will be proper to remit $275.03 to Mrs. Livingston, securing suitable acknowledgment from her.

Yours truly,
H. H. COCKRELL,
Traveling Auditor for American Red Cross in Nebraska.

From Saturday's Daily.
Mrs. F. A. Hodgkins of Barclay, who has been here for the past few days called on account of the death of her mother, Mrs. Cyrus Cowles, who was buried yesterday, departed this morning for her home in the west.

From Friday's Daily.
The little son of Henry Perry and wife, one of the First Liberty Loan twins, died at the home of his parents during the night of July 3rd. From Friday's Daily.
Nebraska's allotment for sugar for the month of July is 5,940,000 pounds, according to information coming to the federal administration for Nebraska.

Save all you can from this amount, is the urgent request from Herbert Hoover, United States Food Administrator, in a telegram to the Nebraska administration. "If you find it necessary to issue certificates for more than the allotment to the state, authorization must be had from Washington."

"It is imperative that consumption of sugar be reduced to the rations outlined by the food administration. It is more to be desired that the available sugar be economically and equitably distributed, rather than to meet an acute shortage later.

Because of the immediate response to the beef conservation program of the food administration, the government has been enabled to purchase substantially the amounts needed for export and as a result a modification of the program has been authorized by Mr. Hoover.

Meat Once a Day.
Effective Monday, July 8, public eating houses of Nebraska will be permitted to serve beef one meal each day, announces A. C. Lau, deputy food administrator for Nebraska.

That the meal may be uniform in the state, the noon day meal has been selected as the one during which beef may be served. By-products of beef, such as hearts, livers, etc., may be served at all meals.

In the opinion of Hoover, which is shared by the Nebraska food administration, the one meal per day order will now effect a sufficient conservation to meet the requirements.

No change is made in the request to householder. Consumers in the homes are requested to limit their consumption of beef to one and one-quarter pounds of clear beef per person per week, or one and one-half pounds of meat and bone.

"The new order has the advantage of also preventing spoilage and waste which might accumulate in the smaller towns where adequate freezer facilities are lacking," says Lau. All public eating places are being notified by the hotel chairman and are requested to put the new order into effect next Monday.
