NEBRASKA MEN FOR IOWA CAMP

THE QUOTA CALLED FOR THIS MONTH TO GO TO CAMP DODGE, NEAR DES MOINES, IOWA.

FIFTY-EIGHT MEN FROM CASS

Will Find Good Training Camp In Iowa.—Conditions Claimed Excellent.

From Monday's Daily.

Orders have been received for the entraining of the fifty-eight men who are to go to Camp Dodge this month, on July 22nd, but the hour or the train has not as yet been made known, but in all probability, as the traffic will be much in excess of the other number as in that one we had but fourteen to go as against 58 this time, the regular trains could not handle the amount. The matter of their entertainment is a matter which the Commercial Club are at this time considering, and will no doubt be concluded in the early days of this week, that all may be in readiness for their entertainment for the day of their departure, which is next Monday. This will be as large as any of the quotas sent from this county at any one time. When those in special training at Lincoln, have been given the required amount of instruction, they will be removed to other places, that the enlistments which are now being received by the various local boards will be sent for training, and there is a great demand for trained men in mechanical lines, and still no enlistments are now being received for such positions, except, with in the selective age.

THIS TIME IT IS A JAIL SENTENCE

From Monday's Daily.

Wm. Marsh of Murray, who has not thought a grave offense to fracture the prohibitory amendment, and the laws supporting the same, has gotten into the toils again, and this time finds himself interned in the Cass county bastle, for the term of thirty days. Mr. Marsh has showed an aversion to complying with the prohibitory law, and when County Attorney Cole and Constable W. M. Barclay, visited the home of Mr. Marsh, and found him in a state of intoxication, and some contraband in his possession, they confiscated the liquor, and brought Mr. Marsh along as evidence, of its effect on the human species. He will be duly sober when he shall have gotten out of the jail.

PICNICKED BELOW BRIDGE.

From Wednesday's Daily.

Over thirty members of the Epworth League of the Methodist church last evening went down below the big Burlington bridge, for a picnic and a get together meeting, where all could enjoy a sociable time. Going to a grassy recess in the hills they built a fire for the purpose of roasting their wienies, and preparing their evening meal, where all could have the benefit of the nice coo leavening, they soon had the fire blazing brightly and the smoke rolling up in great clouds.

The fire and smoke subserved a double purpose of being means of warding off the supper, and also of warding off the mosquito, for he was very active regarding his services and also in sending in his bill.

Notwithstanding this they had a very enjoyable evening.

THE TEAM WITH A REPUTATION

THEY CAME TO PLAY BALL—A FINE BUNCH OF AMERICANS, CLEAN AND CLEVER.

THEY HAD THE WRONG DOPE

They Loved the Game and Were a Good Natured Bunch and Full of Hope.

From Monday's Daily.

Yes the Omaha Stags came, they looked us over, tried to play ball, but were not able to get but one score. Fratt was signally fortunate in that he had an opportunity to look upon all four bases, this privilege was denied the remainder of the Omaha's. But they were a nice lot of young men, full of life, full of desire to play, they had the action, but failed to produce the scores. We had said when telling about what the game was going to be, that they were a "Team with a Reputation" and the small boys kept challenging our attention, to our own words all during the game. They do have a reputation they obtained a portion of here. There was a declamatory between our pitcher and one of the fair rooters of the Stags, in which the best judge on oratorical contests would have been unable to call a decision. The first inning for the visitors, and as to that matter the first half dozen only three men saw first and one second, the seventh Fratt made a run, and Farley (not our George) saw first, in the eighth while in the ninth Dyke made his way to third, and looked towards home, but nothing doing. In the first with us there were five runs rapped out by McCarthy, Turner, Edwards, Herold and Gradoville. In the third Edwards and Mason each made a run, while in the sixth Gradoville, Grassman and Poissal made runs. Stimpson did not get there, but sacrificed for the others and was able to put out about a half dozen of the visitors. Mason struck out sixteen.

The result of the game was summed up in the following totals:
Stags ---- 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 — 1
Red Sox -- 5 0 2 0 0 3 0 0 — 10

SUNDAY MORNING'S FIRE.

From Monday's Daily.

At one thirty yesterday (Sunday) morning, a fire was discovered at the barn of Warren A. Tulene in the northwest portion of the city. Mr. Tulene was the first to make the discovery, and when first noticed the upper portion of the barn was ablaze. He rushed to the barn and secured the horses which were within, and succeeded in getting them out. There was three ton of hay which had been placed therein and it is thought that probably that caused the fire. Besides the horses and hay there was an extra heavy set of work harness, worth about one hundred dollars. They were lost with the barn, estimated to be between seven and eight hundred dollars. A large crowd from town was out, but there was no water near enough to reach the fire, and the structure burned to the ground. There was an insurance policy on the place for four hundred dollars carried by a South Omaha Insurance company. The adjusters are here today to look after the adjustment of the loss.
