Cass county boys always answer. They are true-blue patriots—every one.

"Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." Help each other.

Patriotism and profiteering, both begin with the same letter, but that is the only similarity.

The new star in the southern horizon is usually interesting, even to persons who are not astronomers.

The Food Administration has frowned on the envelope plan of serving sugar in restaurants, but perhaps the idea ought not to be abandoned altogether. The envelopes may be handy to serve coal in next winter.

BRYAN'S PLATFORM.

Charles W. Bryan's platform contains so many things conspicuous for their absence that the conclusion may be reasonably reached that he is fishing for a certain unknown quantity this year in Nebraska politics, the non-partisan league. Indeed, there can not be any doubt of it. Neville has displeased the league and McKelvie stands no better. And you can be sure that a Bryan never lets a chance slip to cast a political anchor to the windward.—Kearney Hub.

A TEST FOR LOYALTY?

Appealing for a "100 per cent loyal congress," the league for national unity needed a definition. What is loyalty? Its signers—workmen, merchants, clerics, lawyers—agree substantially upon this test:

That candidate, in or out of congress, or that citizen, can be regarded as loyal who since the declaration of war has by word and act unreservedly supported and will support the government in the vigorous prosecution of the war to a complete and decisive victory, and who has not attempted to destroy allied unity and effort by attacks upon nations fighting with us against a common enemy.

The common enemy demands the united front no less in Washington than in Picardy. The advance on Paris is an advance toward New York. Defeatism in France is no more guilty than defeatism in the United States. The way of victory is a full and frank understanding with our allies—with all our allies.

Our men swarming to the front are fighting not for France only but for the world. They are the trustees of the future for freedom.

Unity at the front demands unity behind the front. We must support the war. Politics, as the president has said, is adjourned and "the elections will go to those who think least of politics." If the world menace of Prussian might and Prussian frightfulness, if the crash of ancient cathedrals, and the purposed bombing of hospitals where American soldiers lie wounded, and the danger that lurks under the waves, and the poison gas and poisoned propaganda of Prussia have not taught and do not enforce unity of purpose and resolution, then are we strangely inert and dangerously blind.

The anxious eyes of humanity are on France, where Germany might, forty years in preparation for world conquest, is making its third desperate bid for victory within a single season. The nations must stand together. The nation at home must be as one man for "complete and decisive victory."—New York World.

A SOLDIER'S LETTER

FROM FT. RILEY

From Tuesday's Daily. The following letter was received from Ft. Riley, Kansas by Mrs. Byron Reed from her son Will: Dear Mother and All:-

Will answer your kind letter of a few days since. I was glad to hear from you. We are having it cold and cloudy this a. m. Looks like rain. We had a big rain the other day. We are still at Ft. Riley, not at Funston. I will have some pictures taken and send you soon. We are still in detention, until all of our vaccinations are over. We have been kept in and cannot get out now, will soon be so we can get to go to nearby towns. I was appointed military police, which saves me from drilling. This position places me out at the cross roads on patrol duty, four hours per day. There is nothing that can be gotten to drink here, nor would they allow one to take anything to drink at Kansas City, when we passed through. With much love. Your son,

WILL REED.

FLORENCE MERCHANTS VS. THE RED SOX

From Tuesday's Daily. We remember of having read of the Florence Merchants, but never thought they would appear as a ball team in Plattsmouth, but strange things happen in these days of high cost of living and other matters.

The Red Sox and the Merchants of Florence will try and entertain the people of Plattsmouth next Sunday. From the amount of pep the Red Sox are maintaining there seems to be no question of how the game will end. With the performances of this team last Sunday when they won hands down, it would look like the Merchants would have to play ball.

WHY NOT ONE IN PLATTSMOUTH.

From Monday's Daily. It is reported that there are two auto hearses in Weeping Water, a news item of a few days since told of a man named Brewster of Omaha, being here for the purpose of serving a funeral. The charges are 50 cents per mile one way. This is born by the friends of the deceased. Well why not one in Plattsmouth, and save the ten or twelve dollars additional charges from there to this city. If not the funeral directors, then why not someone else who has money seeking investment in Sprague's Tire and Rubber Co., or something of that kind, or other kind which it is not certain will prove a paying institution. This will pay and well for the amount invested. For instance a few days since there was a hearse called from Omaha, and the distance traveled was fifty-six miles, which means a charge of $28 for this service, and another service was reported at $35.00. If it is a good paying institution for Omaha, why not for this city also.

THE RAINBOW DIVISION.

From Monday's Daily. There are eight boys from this city in the Rainbow Division, and we have heard from the bunch often, and from most of the boys individually, but from Hugh Kearnes his folks have not heard directly since he has been gone. About three weeks since, his young lady friend at Glenwood, had a letter direct from Mr. Kearnes, and as the family had not heard Mrs. Kearnes departed this morning for that place to see what he could learn from her. Numerous letters from the other boys from here all say the whole bunch are all right and we suppose he is all right.

WHY BEING PATIENT MEANS BEING PATRIOTIC

From Monday's Daily. As we go farther and farther into this war you will find more and more things going wrong. But don't write a "stinging" letter. We, too, have our troubles with the people from whom we buy materials. Uncle Sam is fighting a war. Labor is scarce everywhere; worse than that, it is floating! Worse than that, a large portion of the help is green. Everyone is doing the best he can. Don't complain. Be as patient as you can. Help Uncle Sam in every way you can. Make it as easy as you can for the people with whom you deal.

The KAISER

"THE BEAST OF BERLIN"

There was Another man who lived In a palace in Berlin. He was twice a king, Eighteen times a duke, Twice a prince, nine times a count— Besides being a bishop, William, of Hohenzollern, King of Prussia, Emperor of Germany.

There Was another man Who lived in a White House, The Chief and Spokesman Of a Great Nation that believes All people are born Free and Equal, With a right to Peace and Happiness, The men and women of that Nation Rose as one person In support of their President, And the ground trembled with shock Of Marching Patriots.

WHAT THE CRITICS SAID:

"Remarkable—daringly startling—more powerful than strongest of recruiting speeches. The great world melodrama adapted for the screen."—New York Evening Sun. "The audience applauded wildly."—New York Times. "Stirring, sensational, stimulating. Polite play-govers became a howling mob."—New York American. "Powerful message of every true American—production is superb—round after round of applause."—New York Morning Telegraph. "It manhandles the German-Emperor in a fashion that satisfies the mightiest hater of the Hohenzollern monster."—New York Globe. "A vivid picture of the personal life of the German ruler."—New York Evening World. "A remarkable performance."—New York Evening Telegram.

WHICH—THE KAISER OR THE ACTOR? (SCENE FROM THE KAISER, THE BEAST OF BERLIN)

Then Came the End. The Dark curtain which, Like a shroud, had enveloped earth, Clear away. And When the echo of the last cannon Had died upon the air, The silver-throated bells of all world Rang forth the glad tidings—"William of Hohenzollern Has Fallen."

WHAT THE PEOPLE DID:

At San Francisco: New box office record made at the Strand. More than 28,000 admission in first four days. Broke all records for noisy, roof-raising enthusiasm. At Milwaukee: First day at Whitehouse theatre—capacity of 1,500—showed nine times, of which seven were to standing room only. Greatest attendance and receipts in manager's twelve years experience. At Des Moines: After a week of "Tarzan of the Apes" to capacity business at the Garden theater, "The Kaiser" brought such crowds that the manager was unable to accommodate all. At Portland, Ore.: Smashed all house records at the People's theatre. At Kansas City: Showed to 20,000 first day at Convention Hall, 30,000 the next day and 5,000 unable to gain admittance. Police unable to handle the crowds. At Wilmington, N. C.: Broke all records at the Grand theater, playing to standing room audiences.

SATURDAY AND SUNDAY July 27th-28th Matinee and Night! Matinee 2:30—Evening 7:15 Come in any time—stay till you are satisfied! Admission 25 and 50c War tax additional to help whip the Kaiser
