

THE BETTS TRIAL ENDS AT LAST

WHEN THE TESTIMONY DOES NOT SUIT, IT IS AIMED TO BE CORRECTED OUT OF COURT.

MUCH FEELING IN MATTER.

Among the Friends and Neighbors Of Both Parties to the Case.

From Saturday's Daily.
During Thursday and Friday has been in progress a trial for divorce in the district court, where Wm. Betts is asking a separation from his wife, Lena, on the grounds of cruelty. In her reply she charged that he had said that she was not loyal to the country where she was born, and she was born in this country. The case has drawn a large number of people, there has been many witnesses, and much interest and feeling is manifest.

Mr. Betts claims that the friends of his wife are pro-German and not loyal. The inception of the trouble it is claimed, came to a head when some time since some one hundred and fifty men of that neighborhood took Mrs. Betts' brother, after having given him a coat of tar and straw, and with a rope around his neck, led him to the Betts home and told Mrs. Betts, that if she did not stop some of her pro-German talk she would get a like species of treatment. Like in all cases where a separation is asked very bad atmosphere is generated in the court room.

Mrs. Anderson a neighbor had testified yesterday morning that Betts wrote her a letter, not the proper kind, and to this he testified he had never written her. On the street at noon she assaulted him, first slugging him in the ear with her fist, and grasping her skirts, in order to keep them from interfering with her actions, proceeded to kick like a two year old. To stop this he grasped her, and Mr. Anderson who was near rushed in and caught hold of Betts, holding him while the wife administered what punishment she could. The officers separated them and things quieted down until in the afternoon in the court room, when Mrs. Anderson not liking what Attorney C. A. Rawls said started to trim him, when she was cared for by the court officers. The case proceeded, and was ended with Judge J. T. Begley taking the case under advisement. He will later hand down his decision.

The relations of many people in the neighborhood of Nehawka and Avoca are out of proper adjustment as the result of the late unpleasantness and what the outcome may be no one can tell.

Because Wm. Betts said he did not write a letter to Mrs. Anderson, she accosted him on the street, and after an altercation of words, assaulted him striking him on the ear with her fist, and then grasping her skirts to keep them from impeding her progress, kicked him in the stomach a number of times, he as the same time trying to get out of her way without injuring her or getting injured himself. When it appeared that it was impossible, he grabbed her to hold her, when her husband entered the melee. Mr. Anderson grabbed Mr. Betts holding him while the wife continued to strike and kick with the vigor of a two year old. The police appeared and separated the people. RETURN FROM TEN DAYS OUTING

W. E. ROSENCRANS, WIFE AND DAUGHTER, MISS MARY, TRAVEL 1400 MILES IN THEIR CAR.

FIND ELEGANT ROADS IN NORTH

See Wonderful Country, And Enjoy a Most Splendid Time While Away.

From Friday's Daily.
Some ten days ago, W. E. Rosencrans, with his wife and daughter Mary, departed for the north for a trip looking for cooler weather, and a climate which was suitable for the summer. They went via Omaha and Sioux City, and dropping into Minnesota, they found a delightful country with an abundance of crops, and most excellent roads. Speaking of the roads, Mr. Rosencrans says they are a dream besides the ones we find here, and how he would have liked to have had some of the people here who fall to build good roads there to demonstrate the proposition of what it means, to have good roads. One day he made 286 miles without knowing on the roads that they had there. In all Mr. Rosencrans says he traveled fourteen hundred miles and returned home with the same air in the tires with which he left, not having had any tire trouble at all, and not even having to pump the tires up. This he considers as being an exceptional record. In Minnesota they found some of the "finest of the wheat" the wheat was big and tall, with very heavy heads and straw, but green yet, just about what we would expect in June.

At Minneapolis they found a wonderful city with a population of 400,000 a marvelous growth during the last few years. They visited Minneapolis and St. Paul seeing its wonders, and visited also at the wonderful Minnehaha Falls, known as laughing waters. They also visited at Duluth, which is on Lake Superior, here finding a great city, the grain export city for lake transportation of the grains of the great northwest country. The ladies were more than pleased with the time they had and the sights they saw during the trip. They arrived home last evening, some travel worn, but happy from the delightful trip which they had taken and enjoyed.
