THE INSTITUTION PAID OUT

Large Crowd Attended The Course Which Made It Pay Out.

From Tuesday's Daily.

Below is given the financial statement of the Chautauqua which was held in this city during the last of June and first days of July. In this as compared with the first which showed a larger percentage of profit, there were more season tickets sold, and less single ones, which item made the receipts smaller, also there was but six days this year as against seven days a year ago. By the financial statement it is shown that there is still a profit but in this case it is limited. It being a little less than five dollars. Mr. L. O. Minor turning over to the treasurer the sum of $4.93.

When it had become noised about, the sheriff was sent for and the booze and gunny sacks with the unlucky Robert came to Plattsmouth with the sheriff. Yesterday afternoon when arraigned he pleaded guilty to two counts and received a penalty of one hundred each, which made it $210.30. From Tuesday's Daily.
Yesterday evening two young boys of George Winscott, concluded they would go to Omaha and visit and see the city as well as to pay a visit at the home of an uncle, Charles Winscott, who lives there. Not saying anything to the folks here they went to the evening Missouri Pacific train, where they boarded the flyer, and were soon in Omaha. They did not reach the Union station until the shades of evening were falling, and thought it best to remain there until morning, so they made themselves as comfortable as possible in the seats. They were picked up by the police at about two o'clock this morning. When the police found them, and getting their identity, they telephoned to the parents here, telling them of the boys and took them to the police station, where they were kept until this morning. This morning LeRoy Winscott an older brother went to return with the two young adventurers. Meanwhile, when the boys did not return last evening the family was much concerned about their welfare, and thinking something might have happened to them, with many friends and with lanterns searched the river banks during a good portion of the hours near midnight, for the missing youngsters. It was with much joy that the telephone call came telling of their being at Omaha.

GUNNER DEPREW GREETED BIG CROWD

NOTWITHSTANDING HOT WEATHER, THE OPERA HOUSE WAS CROWDED TO CAPACITY.

Is Applauded Numerous Times When He Makes Hit Which Pleased Plattsmouth People.

From Monday's Daily.
The postponing of the address by 'Gunner' Depew, which was to have been at three o'clock yesterday, but was not held until 3:30 only allowed a longer time for the gathering of the people who were interested in hearing the man with the experiences and evidence of service, which was to speak. When the time came for the speaking to begin the house was filled to its seating capacity, and the crowd still coming which filled all available standing room. He was introduced by someone with him who gave a short resume of Mr. Depew's experiences through the entire war as his experience touched. Gunner Depew when he appeared was greeted with applause and a clapping of hands by the eight hundred people who crowded into the theatre. Among other things which he said was that the people here who thought that they were only fighting the Kaiser were mistaken for we are fighting the whole German people, and that were it not for the co-operation of this same people the propaganda could not have been spread here. He said the Kaiser has said to some one that he had half a million of subjects who would fight for him in America and would rise to his defense, but the Gunner added that there was five hundred thousand lamp posts upon which to hang these same people. Speaking of the way the Heinie surrenders, he says when he has not a large crowd with him, he holds up his hand and says "Kamerad", I have a wife and nine children." Gunner Depew says it is always nine children when the Heinie wants to call for quarter. He recommended turning into something that would be beneficial for carrying on the war all summer resorts and not to build any more until the war was over. The Red Cross was a subject touched upon, and one which he urged more work, saying that many times that there are a casualty list in a few moments which would require thousands of bandages in five minutes. While he said that we will have to fight and that he does not care to discourage any one, that we must look for losses and much suffering, and that the battle front is not a picnic but a real strenuous battlefield, where lives are snapped out rapidly.
