INTERESTING LETTER FROM MRS. GAPEN

The following is a very interesting letter received by Miss Pauline Oldham, from Mrs. Lloyd Gaped, who in company with their family are making an auto tour of the west. The letter is mailed from Grand Canyon, Yellowstone Park, Wyoming: Dear Friend:

Well, we reached the Park at last at 5:00 p. m. last evening. We pitched our tent and built a campfire, and proceeded to enjoy ourselves. We were the only ones in that camp, so had everything our own way. There was a cage built up in a tree to put our provisions by out of the way of bears; it was reached by a ladder, and then the ladder was removed. Everything was alright this morning. We spent two hours this morning exploring around the camp, went down the mountain side and crossed the creek on fallen trees, and here we found two gushing springs out of the side of the mountain, about fifteen feet apart and about twenty feet above the waters edge. Everything is wonderful. We saw the Mud Guys, and I believe it is a representative of the devil. It is a great hole roaring and gushing mud out all the time, and right close is clear water bubbling out in hundreds of places. Not very far away is another great roaring hole of clear hot water.

We were camped by the Grand Canyon. We explored one side this evening and will view it from the other side in the morning. The falls are beautiful. We went down close to the lower falls, and the sun was shining and showed two rainbows on the spray. The scenery after you leave Cody is wonderful, coming through Shoshone Canyon, and past the Government dam. The road runs along the side of the base of the mountain, and is not very wide, and turning out places are few and far between. You don't mind the road where the mountains are covered with pines, but where they are bare and smooth. Some of the roads coming out were awful. It was hot and disagreeable coming across the desert from Cheyenne to Hyattsville, but it was interesting. I have heard and read about the Great American desert ever since I began to study geography, but I never realized how awful nor how great it was till I traveled through it for several days. We were at Sam's one week and had a fine time. It rained the morning we were to leave so didn't start till after dinner.

There was quite a shower that came up in the middle of the afternoon but we put on the chains and went right along. About five o'clock that evening we came to Dry Creek with no bridge. There is no water here in dry weather, but had rained that morning and the creek was full and several cars were stalled on each side, and some had pitched their tents to stay. We thought we would, but there was a big cloud coming up and the creek was going down and there was one man so anxious to cross he waded and it only came up to his knees, and so he thought he would tackle it, and as he had a Ford, and a Ford can go anywhere, over he went; then two more Ford's followed and a Hup and Studebaker and we knew a Dodge could go any where they could, so over we went, but we first covered our radiator with oilcloth, and did not get any water on the wires. One car got so wet that it burned the wires out, just as it reached the bank and it took half an hour to fix them. We have pitched our tent and there is two bears roaring around here, but we are close to a store and have put all our provisions in it, so I guess they will not get anything. These bears will get everything if you do not get it out of their way; you dare not leave anything in the cars or take it in the tent with you. Well this is all for tonight.

Yours Sincerely,
Catherine Gapen.

Mrs. Will Renner was visiting with Mrs. Ah. Gansemer last Sunday.

Chas. Carroll went down to the home of his son Ern and family this week where he will commence the work of preparing for the planting of his crop of winter wheat.

Miss Adel Fitzpatrick, from near Imperial, Neb., and who was visiting with Plattsmouth friends for a few days this week, was in Murray Monday for a brief visit with friends.

THE LADIES MISSIONARY SOCIETY IN ANNUAL PICNIC

Once more the Ladies Missionary have met in their annual picnic, and while it has always been an occasion of a great deal of pleasure and enjoyment for the ladies, the one held last Friday was the one that "went over the top", and will long be remembered by every lady in attendance.

Early in the planning of this annual affair the ladies accepted the kind invitation of Mrs. A. Dove Asch to celebrate this annual occasion at her home, that is know to all who have frequented this ideal farm home as beautiful Villa Asch. Here they were most royally entertained during the entire afternoon by Mrs. Asch, the Knoffleek sisters, of Plattsmouth, and others in a most excellent musical program, both instrumental and vocal. The Asch home has always been one filled with music of all kinds, and the program given on this day was par-excellence. In the evening the beautiful picnic supper was given on the beautiful lawn at Villa Asch, which was greatly enjoyed by all the ladies.

From some of the ladies who were in attendance we learn that it was like one beautiful day without a single cloud to mar one joy for all, and that they were unanimous in voting their most heartfelt thanks to Mrs. Asch for her excellent hospitality.

MAKING MOVE FOR GREATER WORK

COMMITTEE MEETING AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH WORK FOR SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

Last evening there was a representation from the various bible schools of this city having in view a move for greater work in the Bible schools of the city. They have placed on the working committee for the initiative of the work the pastors of the different churches of the city, and have arranged for a contest between this city and Nebraska City, which is to begin on September First and to continue for the remainder of the year. The matter will be counted on points, which will be one point for each one attending the Sunday Schools, and this alone to count in the contest. There will be an article for six weeks, one each week published "Why Go to Sunday School."

There are correspondence with the cities of Falls City, Auburn, Weeping Water, Louisville and Ashland, which is in important to get them interested in this proposition. Rev. A. J. Hargett was elected as the president of what is known as the Sunday School Workers Council and J. C. Yarbrough was chosen as the secretary. That was all the officers chosen at this time as there were no funds to handle no treasurer was needed.

WILL SPEND SOME TIME IN WEST

This morning John F. Gorder and family, departed for the west in one of their Chandler six cars, with which they will travel, and will go west and southwest, making as their first objective, the home of their friend C. W. Baylor and family who reside near Bovina, Colorado. There they will spend some time visiting with their friends and seeing that portion of the country which is a great place, and has many good features. After a good visit they will proceed to the mountains where they will spend some time, as they will visit many points in the west while away.
