WANTS TO LOOK BOCHES SQUARE IN THE FACE

"Put me where I can look the Germans square in the face."

This expresses the desire of at least one Cedar County patriot who is anxious to get into the front line trenches even before the federal government is ready to ask him to go there.

A. C. Cisney, residing between Laurel and Sheldon in the southern part of the county, has a wife and one beautiful little girl and is engaged in the operation of a farm.

For these good reasons he was placed in class 4 under the selective draft regulations. This represents a too doubtful an opportunity to render active service to his country for a patriot of Mr. Cisney's makeup.

With one brother now in active service in France and another recently discharged from services because of physical disability. On Tuesday he and his loyal wife came in to interview the local exemption board with a view of getting so placed as to have an opportunity to get into the war game.

The first question put to him by the exemption board members was to ask if he had had any special training along the mechanical lines the board explaining that in this case he would be able to get into some special branch of the service.

"I grew up amongst machinery", was his reply, "but, with an air that bespoke his sincerity of purpose, "don't put me there. What I want is to get where I can look those German s—s o' h—s square in the face. I want to get in the trenches at the first opportunity."

And the good wife evinced her equally patriotic instinct by her willingness to at once sign a release, changing her husband's classification to class one.

Under the plan now followed by the war department, Mr. Cisney will more than likely have an opportunity to volunteer as one of the members of Cedar county's next draft quota, and he is making his plans with that aim in view. His faithful wife is arranging with the assistance of her father to continue the farming operations.

The real worthiness of the above incident in which this man, properly placed in class 4, is earnestly trying to render service to his country is emphasized by the fact that there are yet to be found in Cedar county other families, in which probably three, four or even five boys of military age are seeking either by their own efforts or those of their parents to be retained at home because (in their own estimation) "they render more good by staying at home UNTIL THE WAR IS OVER."

The above article is taken from the Hartington News, and Mrs. Cisney will be remembered by many of the people of this locality, as Miss Pearl Lewis, who was born in Cass county, where she grew to womanhood, and moved to Coleridge about ten years ago, later meeting and marrying Mr. Cisney. They are sure of the true American type, and the kind of people that will win this great struggle for humanity.

Thomas Heinrich, who has been making his home at Holyoke, Colo., for some months past, and who recently sold out his belongings there, arrived in the city last evening accompanied by his sister, Mrs. H. K. Zavren, coming to visit with their mother Mrs. Mary Heinrich and will stay for a few days before Thomas is called to the army.

Our Service AND WHAT IT MEANS TO YOU

What If You Were Buying An Airplane to Use?
You Would Insist on Knowing All About that Machine Before You Bought It, Wouldn't You?

If you had to make airplane trips frequently and had to buy a machine for the purpose, you would take the utmost care in selecting it.

You would realize that your life, to a great extent, depended upon the judgment you used in making the selection.

Buying directly from a catalog wouldn't interest you.

You would be interested most in a machine made by a manufacturer who was widely known as a maker of reliable airplanes.

You would rather buy from a friend that you know was interested in your welfare.

Most of all, you would want to see that machine—to go over every part of it before you bought it.

The same principles ought to hold good in buying a farm implement.

In such buying, also, much depends upon your judgment. Your crop-production profit depends largely upon it.

You want an implement that you can absolutely rely on to help you make the most of time.

Why not take the same care in selecting farm implements that you would take in selecting an airplane? It will pay you—always.

Our store has every advantage that such careful buying requires. Come in and see for yourself.
