CITY SCHOOLS OPEN TODAY

LARGE ATTENDANCE FOR THE FIRST DAY AND TEACHERS BUSY ASSIGNING PLACES

From Monday's Daily.

The Board of Education, the teaching force and the students, are as tickled as the youngster on Christmas morning with his stockings crammed to the brim, with the new school building, and its superiority over the conditions and equipment of the former building which the schools of this city have outgrown. The teachers were busy during the day in the assigning of places to the pupils and getting working order the minutia, of the school routine. In the high school, the task was somewhat more of a task, on account of the different branches which the students are to take. In the grade it is promotion, and a studying of the things required to pass and prepare for the coming years in the high school, and the task of getting the work the grades in motion is not so great. While the equipment is not entire in place or all received still the superiority over the former conditions is manifest in every portion of the immense structure. The National colors were prominent in the different rooms as they speak of Patriotism and Loyalty to country as well as arithmetic and spelling or grammar and geography. By the way all are watching geography pretty closely just now. They will be working pretty well in a few days.

SEVERAL YOUNG MEN GET IN BAD

From Tuesday's Daily.

During the past winter and this spring there has been quite a number of stores broken into, and more or less goods and cash taken therefrom, and the Chief of Police has been in possession of sufficient evidence in the matter to lay suspicion on some of our home young men. After the first job was completed, Chief Barclay camped on the trail, and has done considerable work on the same, but was unable to gain sufficient evidence to lead to an arrest up to a few days ago, when a similar job was done in Nebraska City. There were some seven or eight mere lads about the town that have been implicated in the matter, four of whom were caught in this city, one being caught in another county, and one in the service of the U. S. at this time, the remaining four were arraigned today before District Judge Begley, for a hearing, all of whom plead guilty to the various charges, and were paroled and will be in the future absolutely under the care of County Attorney, Cole, whose duty it will be to enforce the District Judge's instructions, which are that so far as they are concerned, the curfew law must be enforced to the letter, these young men must stay away from all pool halls, and be at home after nine o'clock at night unless they have a written leave on some errand of duty from the county attorney. They must also keep up in every branch of their studies at school, and keep in the straight and narrow path at all times and under all circumstances. By following these instructions District Judge Begley has suspended sentence.

Some months ago the Journal was forced to adopt a rule that all matters that demanded the attention of the police officers and the courts of our county and state, to print the news just as we learned it from the finding of these courts, but in this case this rule must be broken, for the sake of the aching hearts of the poor mothers of these mere lads, just finishing their school years in this city. We have known most of them all their lives, and their mothers too, and we know just how hard most of them have worked with these young men, teaching them the right and wrong side of life, but in this one case with no avail, and we have deemed it best not to mention the names of these young men with the but one hope and desire in view that we may be of some assistance to the sorrow stricken parents, and especially the heartbroken mothers concerned in matter, toward placing the boys on the right road for the future. When Chief of Police Barclay commenced on the case, he really expected to find more experienced hands connected with the whole affair.

We believe that the boys are truly sorry for all that they have done, and we believe that from now on their ideals will lead them in a different channel, which the Journal hopes for them for the future.

One other condition handed down by the court was that all damages brought about by them including all property taken be restored to the owners. To all of which the young men have consented, and we believe they will make good.

WAS IN MISSOURI PACIFIC WRECK

M. B. CHAMBERLAIN OF NEAR CEDAR CREEK LOSES TWO MULES, A COW AND CALF.

NEARLY KILLED HIMSELF ALSO

When Immigrant Car Demolished By Collision On Hill Near Kansas City.

From Monday's Daily.

Last week, while M. B. Chamberlain, was returning from Versailles, Mo., to which place he went about three weeks since, for some stock which he left there when he moved to near Cedar Creek, and was asleep in an immigrant car, in a train on the Missouri Pacific at a place known as Roytown, south of Kansas City, the train stalled on a hill, and the train was cut in two, and a portion pulled over the hill. While the remainder was standing on the track, another train came along, the engine of which ran into the cars standing on the track, and telescoped the way car and two others between the one in which Mr. Chamberlain was asleep in his wagon and also knocked the car in which he was riding down a fifty foot embankment, entirely destroying it. In the car Mr. Chamberlain had three mules, two sets of harness, a cow and a calf, some corn and other things making up the car load. When Mr. Chamberlain, awoke he was scooting down the side of the embankment, the car rolling over, and then it broke to pieces, and he lay on the ground, with a mule killed at his side and the other ones gone. The cow stood there apparently unhurt, with the calf also, he gave the cow an ear of corn which was within his reach, and which she ate. The section men assisted him to a nearby interurban line station, and the conductor who had gone on to the top of the hill, returned and furnished transportation to Plattsmouth. He arrived here Saturday evening, and is at his home near Cedar Creek.

A CALL FOR ELEVEN MEN

ASK THAT AMOUNT FOR TECHNICAL TRAINING TO GO TO SCHOOLS AT MANHATTAN.

From Tuesday's Daily.

This is to supply the 515 men which has been asked for from the state, and this like the others and the different boards in the city, have had more applications from men than what the quota calls for. This county is a fair sample of the way it is going over the state. The quota for this county is eleven but before the examinations can be given which was called for yesterday there has been sixteen volunteers for the positions. The local board had recommended Dr. J. S. Livingston, but the Governor had failed to have the appointment made and the announcement here at the time called for the examination, and it could not be had.
