DRAWS NINETY DAYS IN JAIL

JOHN W. RODGERS GETS THREE MONTHS FOR PEDDLING BOOZE.

From Wednesday's Daily.
Yesterday in the county court Judge A. J. Beeson gave John W. Rodgers a sentence for ninety days in the county jail for his connection in the booze peddling case. He had hired Ray McMaken to transport him from here to Louisville, and was nabbed in that city and brought here. Ray was one of the witnesses, and was released on account of the irresponsible testimony of Rodgers. Rodgers who is 26 years of age is in class one of the registration, and will probably have to go to the service in a short time, which should end his dealings in 'contraband.' A fine would not satisfy, as this is the second offense.

HAD HIS FINGER AMPUTATED.

John Murray who has been in Omaha for some time and was at the hospital where he had one of his fingers amputated, returned home last evening, with his hand about well. The finger on account of blood poisoning curved into his palm, and was stiff and in the way so he could not use the hand. It will now afford his using his hand to work.

WILL CALL FIRST YOUTHS 19 AND 20 AND MEN 32 TO 36

BOARDS ORDERED TO PROCEED SO THAT SOME OF THESE MAY BE AVAILABLE IN OCTOBER.

Washington, Sept. 10.—General Crowder today also issued a request to editors of morning newspapers that they publish this legend on the first pages of their papers tomorrow:

"Provost Marshal General Crowder says: 'I want every flag flying and every hand playing on registration day.'"

Washington, Sept. 10.—Youths of 19 and 20 years and men between the ages of 32 and 36, inclusive, who register Thursday, will first be called to the colors, Provost Marshal General Crowder announced today and until the supply of available fighting material in their ranks has been exhausted older men will not be inducted into service. Questionnaires will go to these registrants first and boards have been ordered to proceed so that some may be called in October.

General Crowder in a statement to all employers and industrial representatives asked their aid in applying the plans of industrial deferments so that "the maintenance of the military establishment or of the national interest during the emergency" may not be interfered with.

To Draw 601,000 Above 31.
General Crowder has said the War department could expect to draw from the classes above 31 only 601,000 men physically fit for service and not entitled to deferred classification. He also said men of 19 and 20 called were entitled to admission to the students' schools with which the War department has made contracts, but added that this corps would number 150,000 men, while over 3,000,000 youths below 21 would register Thursday.

Methods of selecting those to be inducted into military service and educational training corps, he said, were the concern of other branches of the administration.

"Some one must indicate that the individual case is one which should arrest the special attention of the boards in respect to the registrant's occupational status," said General Crowder in his statement. "The boards do not possess a super-human omniscience. Nor are they permitted by circumstances to devote unlimited time to the search of questionnaires for possible grounds of claim. In 1917 out of more than 3,000,000 registrants called, only 140,000 filed occupational claims, or 4.7 per cent; thus 95 per cent of all registrants raised no question of such deferment.

Will Welcome Advice.
"The boards will do all that they possibly can, on their own initiative, to reach a just decision by a complete examination of the questionnaires even where no claim is expressly made. Nevertheless the boards will welcome and will need all the aid that can be furnished by the indication of a claim made for deferment.

"But who is to make that claim? Ordinarily, the registrant himself will indicate the claim on his questionnaire. But, if through mistaken chivalry, he should fail to do so, another may make it for him. In industry, agriculture or other occupation this person will naturally be his employer or some other representative of his associated group.

"The employer in this situation represents the nation because in the statutory phrase, 'the maintenance of the military establishment or of the national interest during the emergency requires that some well-advised third person should look after that national interest which the registrant himself may not have sufficiently considered.'"
