THE STORY OF SALOME.
Herod Antipas, tyrannical Tetrarch of Judea, is hated by his people. Cowardly, cruel and vacillating, he clings to power by currying favor with the Roman Caesars; but the oppressed Judeans constantly clamor for a return of the old Hyeranian dynasty. The direct heir to this rival line, and chief candidate for the office of High Priest, is Prince avid, brother of Queen Marian.
Herod is completely under the sway of the sinister "Salome", beautiful princess of the Herodian dynasty, who hopes some day to wield imperial power. "Salome" fears the growing influence of Prince David, and after he is created High Priest, prevails upon Sejanus, Captain of the Guards, to drown him in his bath.
The next obstacle in the path of the ambitious Princess is the Queen. Therefore, when Marian sends a ceremonial cup of wine to Herod upon his departure for Rome, "Salome" poisons it and arouses the King's suspicion against his wife. He gives the wine to the Queen's maid, Naomi, who drinks it and drops dead.
"Salome" deceitfully intercedes for Marian and saves her for the moment from execution. But later she tells the Queen that Herod caused Prince David's murder and conspires with her to kill him. Herod is awaked from his sleep by a scream from "Salome" to find his Queen trying to stab him, and "Salome" holding back the dagger. Marian is immediately beheaded by order of her royal husband.
With her path to the throne apparently cleared, "Salome" is alarmed by the denunciations of one John the Baptist, who bitterly rebukes the sins of Herod and his court. Moved by curiosity and by a desire to win the strange preacher to her side, she goes to meet him and attempts to seduce him with her wiles. She is scorned for her effort.
Yet strangely attracted by the stern ascetic, she again visits him in prison, where Herod has thrown him for stirring up sedition among the people, and using every passionate appeal known to her sex, she en-treats him to love. When he again denounces her, she vows to have him destroyed.

On the same night a great throng is gathered in the palace to partake of the King's birthday feast. "Salome" appears before Herod and begins a wild, sensuous, fascinating dance which so inflames the dotting Monarch, that he exclaims: "Ask of me what thou wilt, and it shall be gathereed—even unto the half of my Kingdom."
"Salome" calls for the head of John the Baptist on a charger. While she is gloating over her horrid prize, a terrific storm of wind, lightning and hail strikes the palace and the guests flee in fear. Herod, in superstitious terror, cites to his soldiers, "Kill that woman", and "Salome's" evil life is ended under sharp-spiked Roman shields.
"Salome" with Theda Bara in the title role, will be presented by William Fox at the Gem Theatre, Saturday matinee and evening.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF CASS COUNTY, NEBRASKA
In the Matter of the Guardianship of Agnes Havir, Mary Havir and Cecille Havir, Minors.
Order to Show Cause.
This cause came on for hearing upon the petition of Mary E. Beholhazy, as guardian of the estate of Plattsmouth, Nebraska, for the support and maintenance and education of said minors, there not being sufficient personal property to furnish support and maintenance and expense of education for said minors.
It is therefore ordered that all persons interested in said estate may appear before me at the District Court room in the said city of Plattsmouth, Cass county, Nebraska, on the 23rd day of September, 1918, at 10 o'clock A. M. to show cause why a license should not be granted to said guardian to sell so much or all of the above described real estate as shall be necessary for the support, maintenance and expense of education of said minors and for their best interests. This order shall be published in the Plattsmouth Semi-Weekly Journal for a period of four weeks successively before the date of hearing.
Dated this 23rd day of August, 1918.
JAMES T. BEHLEY, Judge of the District Court.
