THANKSGIVING DAY AT LEWISTON

WEATHER A DECIDEDLY RE-PRESSING FEATURE ON THE ATTENDANCE NOTWITH-STANDING.

THEY MET WITH MEASURE OF SUCCESS

Giving Elegant Dinner, Holding Sale Of Donations, Red Cross Benefited.

From Saturday's Daily. At Lewiston Church, south of this city, where immense preparations had been made for the observing of Thanksgiving day by a big dinner, and a sale of gifts which were donated for the purpose of assisting the Red Cross. The weather was such that the crowds did not come as freely as had been expected. During the day in the church, Frank R. Gobelmann, with his clerk Miss Laura Meisinger, kept the Phonograph playing patriotic airs and enlivening the occasion.

The tent which had been provided, was comfortable, and the inside of the church was cheerful, and appealed to those in attendance as being home like. It was expected to have had some four minute addresses, but there were no four minute men there. Rev. Taylor of Union, sang America, and then followed by a very patriotic prayer, preceding the dinner. Miss Etta Nichols in a few remarks said she was sorry that the weather had kept so many away, as preparation had been made for the feeding of many, but that they would make the best of the matter. The ladies had worked hard, the farmers and merchants of the surrounding towns had given liberally of their possessions, which was to be sold, and a large crowd was desired for a market. After the dinner the sale was held in the large tent which had been provided, and after the returns were all in, it is reported that something towards five hundred dollars would be realized for the Red Cross, the exact amount had not been arrived at, and it might be more or less than that amount. The ladies had confidently counted on being able to have realized one thousand dollars if the weather had been such as would have induced the people to have attended in large numbers.

RED CROSS CHRISTMAS ROLL CALL

During the week of December 16 to 23, will be held the Red Cross Membership Roll Call which is, in reality the annual membership campaign. With the close of December 1918 all Red Cross memberships, except life expire. The Roll Call is to be held not only for the purpose of renewing the expiring memberships but to obtain new ones as well. Walter W. Head, Vice President of the Omaha National Bank has been chosen as the State Director of this Roll Call for Nebraska. He has already opened offices adjacent to the other state Red Cross offices, in the Farnam building in Omaha and entered actively into the work. He is at present engaged in selecting Committee Chairmen in the various towns in the state and expects to have the list of their names ready to announce by the end of the week.

Relative to the Roll Call Mr. Head makes the following announcement:

"In calling upon the people of Nebraska, who are members of the Red Cross, to renew their memberships I am confident that not one of them will fail to do so. I am equally confident that those who are not already members will take this opportunity to join. In the various drives that have gone before, Nebraska has made an enviable record. She stands at the top and forefront of other states in the union in this respect and is going to keep up the record. Our slogan for the coming Roll Call is, "Every Man Woman and Child in Nebraska a Red Cross Member." That means a one hundred per cent membership. I know that we can do it and we will.

The continued need of Red Cross is best expressed in a message telegraphed to us from National Red Cross Headquarters which reads as follows:

"On February 10, last year, nearly six weeks before the United States declared war, the National Red Cross Headquarters advised its chapters to prepare for war. That which has followed in the records of the Red Cross in helping to win the war and to relieve the suffering growing out of it, constitutes something of which every American citizen has a right to be proud. Every Red Cross worker must feel a sense of satisfaction in having had a share in it all.

"But even with peace, let no one suppose that the work of the Red Cross is finished. Millions of American boys still are under arms; thousands of them are sick and wounded. Owing to a shortage of shipping it may take us a year or more to bring our boys from France. But whatever the time, our protecting arms must be about them and their families over the whole period that must elapse before normal peace life can be resumed. Our soldiers and sailors are enlisted until the commander-in-chief tells them there is no more work for them to do. Let every Red Cross member and worker, both man and woman, show our soldiers and sailors that to care for their health, wealth and happiness we are enlisted for no less period than they.

"The cessation of hostilities may reveal a picture of misery such as the world has never seen before, especially in many countries which cannot help themselves. The American people will expect the Red Cross to continue to act as their agent in repairing broken spirits and broken bodies. Peace terms and peace conditions will determine how we can best minister to the vast broken areas which have been harrowed by war and for this great act of mercy the heart and spirit of the American people must continue to be mobilized through the American Red Cross.

"On behalf of the War Council, we accordingly ask each member of our splendid body of workers throughout the land, to bear in mind the solemn obligation which rests with each one of us to carry on.

"We cannot abate for an instant in our efforts or our spirits. There will be an abundance of work to do and, at the moment of peace, let no Red Cross worker falter. Our spirit must now call us to show that not the roar of cannon, nor the blood of our people alone directs our activities, but that a great people will continue to respond greatly and freely to its obligation and opportunity to serve."

COL. HAYWARD CITED FOR FRENCH WAR CROSS FOR BRAVERY IN ACTION

New York, Nov. 28.—Col. William Hayward, commander of the Thirty-Sixth Infantry, formerly the 15th regiment New York National Guard, who was wounded in the Champagne offensive last September with his regiment, has been cited for the Croix De Guerre for gallantry according to information received tonight.

Colonel Hayward though wounded insisted on leading his men into battle displaying marked gallantry, the citation says. He was formerly secretary of the republican national committee.

Col. Wm. Hayward referred to in the above telegram, was a citizen of Nebraska City, and is well known as a man of much worth, and is a citizen which this state is proud of, and personally known to many of this city.

Charles Reeson who is here visiting with his relatives from his home at Cleveland, Ohio, was a passenger to Omaha this afternoon.

Mrs. J. J. Johnson was a passenger to Omaha this afternoon where she is visiting with friends for the afternoon.

FREE TO PLOT THE DAY LONG

EX-KAISER KEPT POSTED ON DEVELOPMENTS AT HOME.

NOT RESTRICTED BY HOLLAND

Former Crown Prince Looked Upon by Netherlands Government as Chief Element of Danger—Talk of Extraditing.

London, Nov. 28.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Amerongen, Holland, says the stories regarding the former German emperor's princely surroundings and big dinner parties and similar functions are not altogether true. The most striking feature of the daily life of William Hohenzollern, the correspondent continues, is the mass of correspondence to which he devotes most of his mornings, and apparently unrestricted by the Dutch government he is kept accurately informed of every development in Germany and elsewhere, and is reported to be able to keep in pretty close touch with the other side of the frontier.

The correspondent says he learns, on good authority, that The Netherlands government considers the former crown prince the only dangerous intriguer, the former emperor's day being regarded as ended. It is commonly reported at Amerongen, the correspondent declares, that William Hohenzollern will not be there long, but it is uncertain whether he will go.

Have Right to Extradite.

Paris, Nov. 26.—William Hohenzollern can be extradited, in the opinion of Professor Barthelmy, of the Paris law faculty, who explains that his guiding principle is that when there is an apparent conflict between law and common sense the solution is always found by following the latter. The theory that a political crime is any crime inspired by purely political motives, the professor declares has long been abandoned. He notes that Belgium in 1856 classed regicides among common law criminals. Crimes such as the assassinations of president Carnot of France and King Humbert of Italy, were inspired by political motives, he points out, and yet the authors of them were executed. The atrocities ordered by former Emperor William, the professor continues, are condemned even in a state of war by international law and constitute common law crimes. To maintain that they are not because the object for which they were committed was political is, he argues, an absurdity.

Kaiser Not Yet Done With.

London, Nov. 28.—"It would be a great mistake to suppose the Kaiser is done with; he has many adherents in Germany who are quite resolved not to take the recent defeat lying down," is the opinion given the Daily Mail's correspondent by The Hague by a Dutch citizen who spent the whole period of the revolution in Bremerhaven and now has returned to Holland. The returned Dutchman estimates the proportion of loyalists to revolutionists as one to two, and he says a large number of soldiers are what might be called "true to the Kaiser."

It must not be imagined, he insists, that the German army, altho smaller than before has ceased to exist. On the contrary, he represents it as very much in existence and moreover, commanded by generals devoted to the former emperor's cause.

The correspondent's informant did not doubt that something in the shape of a counter revolution would be attempted before long. He said the red flag is still freely displayed in Bremerhaven, but he heard that it had almost disappeared in the Rhine district.

In connection with the reports that the resignations of Dr. Solf, the German foreign secretary, and Matthias Erzberger, another member of the cabinet, are expected, it is stated in a Copenhagen message that documents are to be published containing many compromising facts regarding the activities of Erzberger during the earlier years of the war.

Mrs. Isley's Letter.

In a recent letter Mrs. D. W. Isley of Litchfield, Ill., says "I have used Chamberlain's Tablets for disorders of the stomach and as a laxative, and have found them a quick and sure relief." If you are troubled with indigestion or constipation these tablets will do you good."

TO MUSTER OUT S. A. T. C. SOON

From Saturday's Daily.

The latest announcement from the War Department is to the effect that the Students Army Training Corps, a new branch of the U. S. army organized in September, is to be mustered out beginning the first of December. There are units of this branch distributed over Nebraska in general, the two largest being at the state university at Lincoln, where a total of 1900 men are enrolled and Creighton college at Omaha, with an enrollment of around 500. At the state university are some two score of Cass county boys, who were inducted during the month of October. With the signing of the armistice it was a matter of some speculation in army circles what disposition would be made of the S. A. T. C., many predicting it would be continued until the close of the school year and then disbanded. The demobilization of this force will put the state university and other schools back on a pre-war basis but it will take some little time to reorganize their working force to meet the suddenly changed condition. Military training comprised a large part of the training given the young men enrolled and their spirits were kept up by the ever possible chance of being chosen to attend an officers' training school, but when the O. T. calls were canceled the boys began to lose interest in army routine and it has been hard to keep the thing moving along as it should. Those who had already been sent to officers' training camps are given their choice of remaining and completing the course, being put on the reserve list subject to call, or of being returned to a civilian status and many of them are choosing the latter.
