So there are to be no public gatherings until after January 1, 1919, and they provided all goes well.

ROW BREAKS OUT IN REPUBLICAN FAMILY

MINORITY LEADER JAMES R. MANN MADE SUBJECT OF ATTACK.

Senator Sherman Warns Lower House Not to Elect Political Enemy Speaker—Party Peace Is Badly Ruffled.

Washington, Dec. 5.—Senator Sherman of Illinois tossed a bomb among his republican colleagues in congress today by openly declaring war upon his old-time political enemy, Representative James R. Mann of Illinois, republican leader of the house.

The Illinois senator launched his offensive with a speech on the floor of the senate, warning the senators if they sanctioned the election of Mr. Mann to the speakership of the house they must expect to "go into the ditch" in the campaign of 1920. His attack had a disastrous effect upon the efforts of republicans to preserve harmony in the organization of the next house. Although not entirely unexpected, it created a sensation in both wings of the capitol and set some of the harmony workers to casting about for a compromise candidate.

Senator Sherman's speech today is attributed to Mr. Mann's statement of Tuesday, in which he described such measures as the Sherman and Roderburg resolutions directing the vice president to assume the functions of chief executive in the absence of President Wilson. It now develops that President Wilson was not the game Senator Sherman and Representative Roderburg were after at all Senator Sherman said today that it was merely a bait to trap Mr. Mann into showing hostility toward him.

Abusive in Criticism.

"At the other end of the capitol," said Senator Sherman, "among those who are impatient to mount the seat of power, there are interviews now anticipating the time when he shall rule. The edicts are issued from time to time, one appearing in yesterday's morning press, saying that nothing should be said to interfere with the president's mission abroad. The gentleman seems to be impatient. He delivered his pronouncement, his ukase is made and published before he has even mounted the throne of power. He is much more powerful in Washington than he is at home. Upon several occasions he has been seized with an unappeasable desire to have the delegates from his own state in a national convention. He never eases under the wire and got a delegate in his life, and he never will I take no instructions from this self constituted mouthpiece of the republican party as hailing from Illinois, even if he does presume to be a republican delivering orders to all to whom he may have access. I am mentioning no names, as it would be a breach of the parliamentary rules to do so."

This statement was greeted with laughter by those on the floor and in the galleries and the vice president warned visitors.

"But I have not accepted his leadership except when I expected the party to go into the ditch and unhappily I have never been disappointed," Senator Sherman resumed. "He possesses no elements of leadership in the west and none in his own state outside of Hyde Park in Chicago."

LABOR DEPARTMENT NOW PUBLISHES TEXT BOOK

Aliens to Get Instructions in Citizenship, History and Other Subjects.

The department of labor has just undertaken its first venture as a publisher of text books. A large edition of these volumes for the use of citizenship classes conducted by the bureau of naturalization has come off the press, and several other editions are likely to be necessary before the demand for the publications is exhausted. With the text book the government has printed a teacher's manual in order to assist instructors.

The citizenship classes are now generally under way, public schools being utilized for the purpose of Americanizing the aliens. The process is very thorough, for beginning with easy conversational methods of teaching English, the foreigners are soon introduced to the study of reading and writing.

Once a fair knowledge of English has been obtained, instruction begins in more advanced studies, prominent among which is the history of the United States. The structure of the nation's government is treated in detail, in order that the candidate for citizenship may gain as clear an idea as possible of the nature of the institutions among which he has elected to dwell.

In connection with his study of academic subjects, the alien is taught a great deal that makes his life in America more pleasant—for example, how to guard his health and that of his children; how he can spend his money most advantageously for the household budget; how to prevent accidents and how to treat injuries or deal with emergencies.

The text book and manual at no time lose sight of the fact that the average alien comes from a country whose customs differ widely from those in common use here, and the effort is made both to explain the reasons for American procedure and to make the alien thoroughly familiar with American methods.

THERE WERE TWO

Both Were to Be Brides and Had the Same Name.

Lieut. Charles W. Moore, chaplain at Great Lakes, was seated at his desk the other day when a sailor, Harold Higgins, entered, announced he was going to get married, and said he wanted the chaplain to tie the knot.

"With pleasure," said the chaplain. "What's the girl's name?"

"Edith Steele," replied the sailor as the chaplain made a note of it.

A few moments later Noel E. Lester, another bluejacket, entered the chaplain's office.

"I want to get married," said he. "Will you marry us?"

"With pleasure," said the chaplain. "What's the girl's name?"

"Edith Steele," replied the second sailor without the flicker of an eyelash.

The chaplain looked startled. There were two Edith Steeles. One now is Mrs. Lester and the other Mrs. Higgins.

TEXAS PHYSICIAN DECLARES TANLAC IS WITHOUT EQUAL

SAYS IT'S BEST RECONSTRUCTION TONIC TO BE HAD FOR BUILDING UP INFLUENZA PATIENTS.

The following letter from Dr. J. W. Sandlin one of the most prominent physicians of Southern Texas, was recently received at the Tanlac office and gives indisputable evidence as to the value of Tanlac as a reconstruction tonic for persons who are recuperating from the after effects of Spanish Influenza. His letter follows:

Humble, Texas, Nov. 5, 1918.

"Dear Sir:

Just a few lines in reference to Tanlac. I have found your preparation to be a wonderful reconstructive tonic, and in my opinion it has no equal in its line. I have found it to be the best tonic to be had to build up my patients who have had Spanish Influenza. I have treated within the past month about fourteen hundred cases, and have never been able to get sufficient Tanlac to supply our people.

"Yours very truly,
(Signed) DR. J. W. SANDLIN."

Dr. Sandlin not only enjoys a very large practice as a physician, but he is also a man of wide influence and ranks as a leading citizen of the enterprising little city of Humble, Texas.

As a practicing physician of sixteen years' experience Dr. Sandlin was quick to recognize the superior tonic properties of Tanlac over other remedies and unhesitatingly and voluntarily gave Tanlac his unqualified endorsement.

"Tanlac is sold in Plattsmouth by F. G. Fricke & Co., in Alvo by Alvo Drug Co., in Avoca by O. E. Copes, in South Bend by E. Sturzenegger, in Greenwood by E. F. Smith, in Weeping Water by Meier Drug Co., in Elmwood by L. A. Tyson, in Murdock by H. V. McDonald and in Eagle, by F. W. Bloomenkamp."

BERLIN FACING AN OUTBREAK.

Paris, Dec. 5.—A terrorist revolution under the leadership of Dr. Liebknecht, the radical socialist, will break out in Berlin Friday evening, according to advices received by the Zurich correspondent of the Journal. Liebknecht, the report says, has 150,000 men well armed. The population of Berlin, according to reports, is at the mercy of gangs of marauders and there appears to be no authority there.

A. W. Dawson and wife were passengers to Omaha this afternoon, where they will visit with friends for the afternoon.
